APTER.

Yesterday afternoon Mr. J. E. Elliott, one of the members of the firm of H. C. day Roberts & Co., owners of the Mississippi iron mine, had a paralytic stroke and died this morning about 1:30 o'clock. He was at the mines at the time. About o'clock he was at the boarding houses in course of erection, and after giving some orders left for the mine some distance away. About 4 o'clock he called to Mr. O'Grady (in another part of the mine and informed him that he "had a terrible stroke." Mr. O'Grady saw a change come over Mr. Elliott, and at once pro ceeded to have him removed to the house. car which was on the track at the time was brought into service, and Mr

Elliotter placed upon it and taken to the Mississippi hotel. Fluding that the sufferer was not improving a special train was made up, and on a flat car Elliott was placed and conveyed to Kingston, Mesers O'Grady, Bartlett and Snowden accompanying him. He slept considerably and appeared to suffer no pain. At times he endeavoured to speak, but his articula tions were not distinct and he was no understoo! The train arrived here this morning about 1:30 o'clock. The car was run'down to the Brock street crossing and Mr. Elliott carried to Mr. F. Thornton's hotel. A doctor was sum moned as hastily as possible, but before he arrived Mr. Elliott had passed beyond the aid of medical skill. This morning Mr. Bartlett left by boat with the body for Clinton, N.Y., the decessed gentle man's home. A wife and children are left to mourn his loss. He was about | Field. fifty-six years of age. Street Railway Company. The annual meeting of the Kingston Street Railway Company was held last evening, but what was done at it we cannot tell. We desired to give the minutes, but when we made application for them we were informed that the business of the Company was of a private character and should not be given to the public. We may add, however, that the Loan Societies, Water, Gas and other Companies are all anxious that their standing should be understood by the citizens, and to that end supply the press with all necessary information. That the Street Railway Company will not do this indicates that there is something to conceal.

COMMON PERFORMANCE - ARRIAL GYMNASTICS-BARE CIRCUS AT-TRACTIONS

Among the attractions to be witnessed n Forepaugh's great show, which is exhibit here on July 9th, is one which cannot fail to interest all who visit the exhibition. It is the act of firing from an immense sea-coast mortar an intrapid gymnast by the name of Loyal. He is blown sixty feet or more in mid-air, and his progress is arrested by a lady gym nast, who, suspended head downwards from a lofty trapeze bar, catches the 'human cannon ball" in his upward and onward journey. The Courier-Journal. of Louisvule, thus describes the performance of this thrilling act

al and M'lle Etta Zuda, las evening, far surpassed anything in the line of trapeze work ever before seen in Louisville. Far up from the ground, near to the top of the canvaes, a slender iron bar hung by two fragile ropes, seemingly too weak to bear the wright of a child. Just after nine o'clock the patite Zuils and Loyal appeared, and were greeted with applause by the expectant sudience. Springing lightly into the netting she was at once followed by Loyal, who ran up the rope to the trapeze with a light New Black Buntings, and airy grace that could only be equalted by that of the Mademotretle. Once on the trapeze, far above the heads of the excited andience, such feats were performed as caused the most rapturous applause, while at the same time all held their breath, as they feared that the daring couple must certainly be dashed to the ground below. To describe what was done is impossible, as the daring woman was swung through the air so rapidly that the quickest eye could scarcely catch her movements. Only the most experienced performers would dare attempt what was as rapidly performed by this venturesome couple as if they had been on terra firma instead of swinging in mid-air. It is not too much to say that, as trapeze performers, they cannot be surpasted. But the rarest feat is that of shooting Loyal from a cannon in to the air, where he is caught by the arms by M'ile Zuils, who swings by her legs suspended from the trapeze. As Loyal places himself in the immense mortar gun, feet downwards, the match is applied, the powder explodes, and, amid the smoke and noise he is thrown through the air and caught by the daring little woman. To say that this caused an extreme sensation is stating the case mildly. Great cheers went up from the immense audieuce as the two venturesome people descended the rope and repaired to their dressing-room. Boots,
