

1880 NEW CROP! NEW CROP! TEAS Best Value in the City! The Finest in the Market!

TEAS Best Value in the City! The Finest in the Market!

We beg to call the attention of Families to our new Teas now arriving, consisting of Japan, Young Hyson, Gunpowder and Blk Teas, put up in 5, 10, 20 and 50 pound PACKAGES.

Pure and Unadulterated, WHICH WE OFFER FOR SALE AT MUCH LOWER PRICES THAN THEY CAN BE BOUGHT IN THIS CITY.

Every Family can buy their TEAS FROM US RETAIL At Wholesale Prices.

Golden Lion Grocery, W. R. McRAE & CO., Tea & Wine Merchants.

FISHERS' PILLSNER LAGER

PORTSMOUTH BREWERY

Water Works NOTICE

Lawn Sprinklers, Garden do, Street do and Washing Windows, Soda Water Fountains.

MONEY TO LEND.

The Mechanics' Institute

FOR SALE.

WANTED.

TO LET.

THE HOUSE on Earl Street at present occupied by Mr. John Duff's, also for the yacht company known as the 'Aik'.

THE HOUSE on Princess Street at present occupied by Mr. G. Laing, Dry Goods Merchant.

THE HOUSE on King Street West, occupied by COLONEL BAIRD.

THE HOUSE on Princess Street at present occupied by Mr. G. Laing, Dry Goods Merchant.

CARD. F. C. MILO. 127 Queen Street, four doors above Montreal Street, Kingston, May 29th, 1880.

FOR PURE MILK unadulterated, try Pine Grove Dairy, P. E. & W. E. WARD.

The Daily British Whig, THURSDAY EVENING, JULY 15.

REMEMBER to pay your water account and save the discount.

PROSE.—Moderate in fresh winds, mostly between south and west, fair hot weather with thunder storms to some localities.

THE CAMP GROUND.—The Primitive Methodist excursion down the river takes place to-morrow, the camp ground being the objective point in the sail among the islands. A large number is expected. The Kingston contingent will be joined by many from the Collinsby circuit.

WHARF LIGHTS.—There were lights on Gunn's wharf on the night of the Potter accident, but they were not at the place where the drowning occurred. To meet the wishes of passengers by the "Alexandra" and other steamers a lamp is being placed near where the mishap took place.

POSTAL ARRANGEMENTS.—The Postmaster General has issued an order that after October 1st the postal cards furnished by the Post Office Department will be the only card matter forwarded in the mails, whether printed or written, at a not less rate than three cents for each half ounce or fraction thereof.

RECEPTION.—Last evening a large number of the ladies connected with the Sydneyham street church assembled at the parsonage, on Johnson street, for the purpose of receiving their new pastor, Rev. Dr. Elliott. An excellent tea was served. After a pleasant evening was spent the company dispersed.

INURED BY RUSSIA.—Mr. Wm. Dowling, a farmer of Storrington, was thrown out of his buggy at the Grand Trunk Railway depot when passing yesterday about noon, his horse having been frightened by a starting train. Dowling's shoulder bones were broken and one arm dislocated. He is now at the Windsor Hotel under Dr. Teilmann's care.

BADLY SCALDED.—Yesterday evening while the Methodist excursion was returning from Brockville a child had his feet badly scalded. The mother was at the supper table when, by accident, a tea cup was upset. The contents fell upon the child's feet, causing the skin to blister and peel off. Dr. Horton, of Lyn, who was on board, dressed the wounds.

MEDICAL EXAMINATIONS.—The fun made by the medical attendants last spring because the Council examinations were postponed in a somewhat irregular and annoying way, has had an effect, as at the annual meeting of the Ontario College of Physicians Dr. McCargow gave notice that he would move, that the time for passing the final examination before the Board of Examiners appointed by the College, be fixed for the first Tuesday in April for the next five years.

MASONIC.—At the masonic meeting in Guelph Dr. Henderson was elected sub-prior of the Grand Encampment of Canada, and Mr. Donald Ross, of Picton, Prior of the Ontario District, including Kingston. Of the Board of General Purposes Mr. A. McLean, of Kingston, is a member of the Audit and Finance Committee; and R. Hendry a member of the Warrant Committee. In an adjoining column we give the address of Grand Master Henderson at the opening of the Grand Lodge.

SUNDAY SCHOOL PICNICS.—These pleasant events follow each other in quick succession; two of them occurring yesterday, those of the Brock Street Presbyterian and the First Congregational churches, the latter of which took place at Channel Grove. Today the annual open air entertainment of the St. Paul's Sunday School was held on Simcoe Island. The children and teachers marched to the boat from the school house headed by the band of 'B' Battery. The procession was made more attractive by the display of numerous flags.

POLITICAL REMOVAL.—It is announced that Mr. George Beck, for some years keeper of a lighthouse near Gananoque, has been dismissed. Some time since an investigation was held, at which it was not proven that he was guilty of a dereliction of duty, but it did transpire that he showed attention to fishing and picnic parties, thereby adding to his small income. The dismissal is made simply to give place to a permanent office-holder. If a change of Government takes place at the next election we look to a re-appointment of this outrage.

AN EXPLANATION.—The Belleville party, now on an excursion to points on the lower St. Lawrence, has sent a letter (signed by all) to Mrs. Potter, stating that the drowning of her daughter at this place was such a sad event that they had considered the advisability of abandoning the remainder of the trip, and that this course was not followed simply because certain contracts had been made and had to be carried out. But for this fact the members of the party informed Mrs. Potter that they would have been at the funeral and paid their last respects to one whom they greatly loved.

REMEMBER to pay your water account and save the discount.

REMEMBER to pay your water account and save the discount.

REMEMBER to pay your water account and save the discount.

WIND WAFFS. FROM VARIOUS SOURCES AND ON VARIOUS THEMES.

The festive peach has arrived at the fruit stores.

Mr. Arnold is arranging for another trip of the McDowell Company through Ontario.

The Dominion Telegraph Company has declared a dividend of 2 1/2 per cent for the current half year.

A Kingstonian named Wilson is reported to have been robbed of $180 at Dundas Park, Hamilton.

The Christian Guardian contains an obituary of the late Mrs. Worden, from the pen of Rev. W. Galbraith.

The Relief and Extension Fund of the Methodist Church has reached $75,000—half the amount required.

The sleep Comquette, of the Hamilton Yacht Club, passed Kingston yesterday afternoon, going down the river for a cruise.

Every person's objection to a dance holds good until he or she leaves to dance it. It is then a very pleasant dance.

The St. Lawrence Steamboat Company had a busy day of it yesterday, having boats engaged for two picnics and two excursions.

The Weekly Whig was issued today. It contains all the important news of the week. It is a good paper to send to absent friends.

Titles have become so cheap and there is such a demand for them that the Telegram thinks the best way would be to have them for sale at the grocery stores.

The City Fathers meet this evening. Unless they want to melt away, or cause others to melt, they will be pleased to let off as little steam as possible in such hot weather.

The Cadets of the Kingston Royal Military College now on a visit to Hall's farm are indulging in torpedo practice. A raft to be blown up has been stationed in the harbour off the lumber yard.

The Ottawa Free Press considers the Tanner feat a matter of interest to Canadians, who feel that they must go through a similar performance should the present Dominion Government remain in power much longer.

Mr. Morris Miller, a farmer living near Bath, was leading a bull into the yard when the animal became enraged and attacked him furiously. But for the assistance of a hired man he would have been killed on the spot.

A Kingston flag manufacturer is using the Ottawa committee which had charge of the arrangements for the reception of the Governor-General and the Princess Louise in December, 1878, for the sum said to be due for flags used on the occasion.

There can be no objections to the boys having a bath in the evenings—some of them need it—but there is no reason why they should run down the wharves in a string, as naked as Zulus, and nearly jump into a passing skiff containing several nervous females.

Personal Items.

A Pleasant Outing. Those who attended the excursion to Brockville yesterday thoroughly enjoyed themselves, and the day's outing will be pleasantly remembered.

The festive peach has arrived at the fruit stores.

Mr. Arnold is arranging for another trip of the McDowell Company through Ontario.

The Dominion Telegraph Company has declared a dividend of 2 1/2 per cent for the current half year.

A Kingstonian named Wilson is reported to have been robbed of $180 at Dundas Park, Hamilton.

The Christian Guardian contains an obituary of the late Mrs. Worden, from the pen of Rev. W. Galbraith.

The Relief and Extension Fund of the Methodist Church has reached $75,000—half the amount required.

The sleep Comquette, of the Hamilton Yacht Club, passed Kingston yesterday afternoon, going down the river for a cruise.

Every person's objection to a dance holds good until he or she leaves to dance it. It is then a very pleasant dance.

The St. Lawrence Steamboat Company had a busy day of it yesterday, having boats engaged for two picnics and two excursions.

The Weekly Whig was issued today. It contains all the important news of the week. It is a good paper to send to absent friends.

Titles have become so cheap and there is such a demand for them that the Telegram thinks the best way would be to have them for sale at the grocery stores.

The City Fathers meet this evening. Unless they want to melt away, or cause others to melt, they will be pleased to let off as little steam as possible in such hot weather.

The Cadets of the Kingston Royal Military College now on a visit to Hall's farm are indulging in torpedo practice. A raft to be blown up has been stationed in the harbour off the lumber yard.

The Ottawa Free Press considers the Tanner feat a matter of interest to Canadians, who feel that they must go through a similar performance should the present Dominion Government remain in power much longer.

Mr. Morris Miller, a farmer living near Bath, was leading a bull into the yard when the animal became enraged and attacked him furiously. But for the assistance of a hired man he would have been killed on the spot.

A Kingston flag manufacturer is using the Ottawa committee which had charge of the arrangements for the reception of the Governor-General and the Princess Louise in December, 1878, for the sum said to be due for flags used on the occasion.

There can be no objections to the boys having a bath in the evenings—some of them need it—but there is no reason why they should run down the wharves in a string, as naked as Zulus, and nearly jump into a passing skiff containing several nervous females.

Personal Items.

GRAND LODGE, A. F. & A. M. ANNUAL COMMUNICATION AT GUELPH—GRAND MASTER'S ADDRESS—RECORD OF MASONRY IN CANADA.

The annual communication of the Grand Lodge of Ancient, Free and Accepted Masonry convened in the Masonic Hall at Guelph on Wednesday; Most Worshipful J. A. Henderson, of Kingston, presiding.

The annual communication of the Grand Lodge of Ancient, Free and Accepted Masonry convened in the Masonic Hall at Guelph on Wednesday; Most Worshipful J. A. Henderson, of Kingston, presiding.

The annual communication of the Grand Lodge of Ancient, Free and Accepted Masonry convened in the Masonic Hall at Guelph on Wednesday; Most Worshipful J. A. Henderson, of Kingston, presiding.

The annual communication of the Grand Lodge of Ancient, Free and Accepted Masonry convened in the Masonic Hall at Guelph on Wednesday; Most Worshipful J. A. Henderson, of Kingston, presiding.

The annual communication of the Grand Lodge of Ancient, Free and Accepted Masonry convened in the Masonic Hall at Guelph on Wednesday; Most Worshipful J. A. Henderson, of Kingston, presiding.

The annual communication of the Grand Lodge of Ancient, Free and Accepted Masonry convened in the Masonic Hall at Guelph on Wednesday; Most Worshipful J. A. Henderson, of Kingston, presiding.

The annual communication of the Grand Lodge of Ancient, Free and Accepted Masonry convened in the Masonic Hall at Guelph on Wednesday; Most Worshipful J. A. Henderson, of Kingston, presiding.

The annual communication of the Grand Lodge of Ancient, Free and Accepted Masonry convened in the Masonic Hall at Guelph on Wednesday; Most Worshipful J. A. Henderson, of Kingston, presiding.

The annual communication of the Grand Lodge of Ancient, Free and Accepted Masonry convened in the Masonic Hall at Guelph on Wednesday; Most Worshipful J. A. Henderson, of Kingston, presiding.

The annual communication of the Grand Lodge of Ancient, Free and Accepted Masonry convened in the Masonic Hall at Guelph on Wednesday; Most Worshipful J. A. Henderson, of Kingston, presiding.

The annual communication of the Grand Lodge of Ancient, Free and Accepted Masonry convened in the Masonic Hall at Guelph on Wednesday; Most Worshipful J. A. Henderson, of Kingston, presiding.

The annual communication of the Grand Lodge of Ancient, Free and Accepted Masonry convened in the Masonic Hall at Guelph on Wednesday; Most Worshipful J. A. Henderson, of Kingston, presiding.

The annual communication of the Grand Lodge of Ancient, Free and Accepted Masonry convened in the Masonic Hall at Guelph on Wednesday; Most Worshipful J. A. Henderson, of Kingston, presiding.

The annual communication of the Grand Lodge of Ancient, Free and Accepted Masonry convened in the Masonic Hall at Guelph on Wednesday; Most Worshipful J. A. Henderson, of Kingston, presiding.

The annual communication of the Grand Lodge of Ancient, Free and Accepted Masonry convened in the Masonic Hall at Guelph on Wednesday; Most Worshipful J. A. Henderson, of Kingston, presiding.

The annual communication of the Grand Lodge of Ancient, Free and Accepted Masonry convened in the Masonic Hall at Guelph on Wednesday; Most Worshipful J. A. Henderson, of Kingston, presiding.

The annual communication of the Grand Lodge of Ancient, Free and Accepted Masonry convened in the Masonic Hall at Guelph on Wednesday; Most Worshipful J. A. Henderson, of Kingston, presiding.

The annual communication of the Grand Lodge of Ancient, Free and Accepted Masonry convened in the Masonic Hall at Guelph on Wednesday; Most Worshipful J. A. Henderson, of Kingston, presiding.

great measure to the most intelligent and able Masons elected to fill the important offices of District Deputy Grand Masters. In pursuance of the authority granted at the annual communication of the Grand Lodge in 1877, I have, after due and careful consideration, and after the proper safeguards were observed, returned, on a petition expressing due contrition, Brother Joseph Redale, who had been expelled from the Order on account of his having attached himself to that spurious organization of the past, the Grand Lodge of Ontario. A number of persons, who through ignorance and inadvertence had become members of that body, have been healed and affiliated under, and following out, the regulations prescribed by my predecessors. I have every reason to believe that these brethren who have thus attained their present recognized position, having stood the test of the ballot, will prove good and worthy Masons. A brother died while under suspension for non-payment of dues. The Worshipful Master of his lodge telegraphed me that before his death his arrears were offered, but the lodge could not meet in time to restore him, and, under the circumstances, and at the request of the Worshipful Master, I granted a dispensation that the deceased brother might be accorded a Masonic funeral. I felt compelled, in a case where a brother had died while under suspension for non-payment of dues, to refuse a dispensation, there being no existing regulations to call for the exercise of my prerogative, and I could not allow personal considerations to prevail. On more than one occasion I have been called on to grant a dispensation to initiate a candidate out of the jurisdiction of the lodge where he resides. I have in every case, in addition to the good reasons for asking the exercise of my prerogative, been required the consent of that lodge. In two instances I have refused to shorten the month's term which our constitution requires as requisite to intervene before conferring the degrees. While on the subject of dispensations, I feel bound to remark that so long as to the constitution Masons are required to look for their grievances, the power of dispensation should be most carefully used. Application is made to me for permission for certain brethren to attend as Masons the funeral of a brother who desired to be buried according to the ritual of a non-Masonic society to which he belonged. I held that the brethren should not appear at a lodge, or clothed as Masons on funeral occasions, unless the burial rites were performed under the exclusive control of the lodge, and according to the provisions laid down in the Book of Constitutions, which should ever be the distinguishing mark of the church to which deceased belonged. The rights and privileges of the church of the minister in performing the burial services are not to be interfered with, but are fully and freely exercised by ancient, free and accepted Masons, the oldest existing secret society, is not obtrusive, and we never thrust ourselves before the public clothed in the badge of a Mason, unless when carrying out those duties prescribed by ancient constitution, or by the constitutions and even in these cases a Masonic funeral being the sole exception. A dispensation is made under several penalties to be levied on the deceased than those of a Mason, unless when carrying out those duties prescribed by ancient constitution, or by the constitutions and even in these cases a Masonic funeral being the sole exception. A dispensation is made under several penalties to be levied on the deceased than those of a Mason, unless when carrying out those duties prescribed by ancient constitution, or by the constitutions and even in these cases a Masonic funeral being the sole exception.

great measure to the most intelligent and able Masons elected to fill the important offices of District Deputy Grand Masters. In pursuance of the authority granted at the annual communication of the Grand Lodge in 1877, I have, after due and careful consideration, and after the proper safeguards were observed, returned, on a petition expressing due contrition, Brother Joseph Redale, who had been expelled from the Order on account of his having attached himself to that spurious organization of the past, the Grand Lodge of Ontario. A number of persons, who through ignorance and inadvertence had become members of that body, have been healed and affiliated under, and following out, the regulations prescribed by my predecessors. I have every reason to believe that these brethren who have thus attained their present recognized position, having stood the test of the ballot, will prove good and worthy Masons. A brother died while under suspension for non-payment of dues. The Worshipful Master of his lodge telegraphed me that before his death his arrears were offered, but the lodge could not meet in time to restore him, and, under the circumstances, and at the request of the Worshipful Master, I granted a dispensation that the deceased brother might be accorded a Masonic funeral. I felt compelled, in a case where a brother had died while under suspension for non-payment of dues, to refuse a dispensation, there being no existing regulations to call for the exercise of my prerogative, and I could not allow personal considerations to prevail. On more than one occasion I have been called on to grant a dispensation to initiate a candidate out of the jurisdiction of the lodge where he resides. I have in every case, in addition to the good reasons for asking the exercise of my prerogative, been required the consent of that lodge. In two instances I have refused to shorten the month's term which our constitution requires as requisite to intervene before conferring the degrees. While on the subject of dispensations, I feel bound to remark that so long as to the constitution Masons are required to look for their grievances, the power of dispensation should be most carefully used. Application is made to me for permission for certain brethren to attend as Masons the funeral of a brother who desired to be buried according to the ritual of a non-Masonic society to which he belonged. I held that the brethren should not appear at a lodge, or clothed as Masons on funeral occasions, unless the burial rites were performed under the exclusive control of the lodge, and according to the provisions laid down in the Book of Constitutions, which should ever be the distinguishing mark of the church to which deceased belonged. The rights and privileges of the church of the minister in performing the burial services are not to be interfered with, but are fully and freely exercised by ancient, free and accepted Masons, the oldest existing secret society, is not obtrusive, and we never thrust ourselves before the public clothed in the badge of a Mason, unless when carrying out those duties prescribed by ancient constitution, or by the constitutions and even in these cases a Masonic funeral being the sole exception. A dispensation is made under several penalties to be levied on the deceased than those of a Mason, unless when carrying out those duties prescribed by ancient constitution, or by the constitutions and even in these cases a Masonic funeral being the sole exception.

great measure to the most intelligent and able Masons elected to fill the important offices of District Deputy Grand Masters. In pursuance of the authority granted at the annual communication of the Grand Lodge in 1877, I have, after due and careful consideration, and after the proper safeguards were observed, returned, on a petition expressing due contrition, Brother Joseph Redale, who had been expelled from the Order on account of his having attached himself to that spurious organization of the past, the Grand Lodge of Ontario. A number of persons, who through ignorance and inadvertence had become members of that body, have been healed and affiliated under, and following out, the regulations prescribed by my predecessors. I have every reason to believe that these brethren who have thus attained their present recognized position, having stood the test of the ballot, will prove good and worthy Masons. A brother died while under suspension for non-payment of dues. The Worshipful Master of his lodge telegraphed me that before his death his arrears were offered, but the lodge could not meet in time to restore him, and, under the circumstances, and at the request of the Worshipful Master, I granted a dispensation that the deceased brother might be accorded a Masonic funeral. I felt compelled, in a case where a brother had died while under suspension for non-payment of dues, to refuse a dispensation, there being no existing regulations to call for the exercise of my prerogative, and I could not allow personal considerations to prevail. On more than one occasion I have been called on to grant a dispensation to initiate a candidate out of the jurisdiction of the lodge where he resides. I have in every case, in addition to the good reasons for asking the exercise of my prerogative, been required the consent of that lodge. In two instances I have refused to shorten the month's term which our constitution requires as requisite to intervene before conferring the degrees. While on the subject of dispensations, I feel bound to remark that so long as to the constitution Masons are required to look for their grievances, the power of dispensation should be most carefully used. Application is made to me for permission for certain brethren to attend as Masons the funeral of a brother who desired to be buried according to the ritual of a non-Masonic society to which he belonged. I held that the brethren should not appear at a lodge, or clothed as Masons on funeral occasions, unless the burial rites were performed under the exclusive control of the lodge, and according to the provisions laid down in the Book of Constitutions, which should ever be the distinguishing mark of the church to which deceased belonged. The rights and privileges of the church of the minister in performing the burial services are not to be interfered with, but are fully and freely exercised by ancient, free and accepted Masons, the oldest existing secret society, is not obtrusive, and we never thrust ourselves before the public clothed in the badge of a Mason, unless when carrying out those duties prescribed by ancient constitution, or by the constitutions and even in these cases a Masonic funeral being the sole exception. A dispensation is made under several penalties to be levied on the deceased than those of a Mason, unless when carrying out those duties prescribed by ancient constitution, or by the constitutions and even in these cases a Masonic funeral being the sole exception.

great measure to the most intelligent and able Masons elected to fill the important offices of District Deputy Grand Masters. In pursuance of the authority granted at the annual communication of the Grand Lodge in 1877, I have, after due and careful consideration, and after the proper safeguards were observed, returned, on a petition expressing due contrition, Brother Joseph Redale, who had been expelled from the Order on account of his having attached himself to that spurious organization of the past, the Grand Lodge of Ontario. A number of persons, who through ignorance and inadvertence had become members of that body, have been healed and affiliated under, and following out, the regulations prescribed by my predecessors. I have every reason to believe that these brethren who have thus attained their present recognized position, having stood the test of the ballot, will prove good and worthy Masons. A brother died while under suspension for non-payment of dues. The Worshipful Master of his lodge telegraphed me that before his death his arrears were offered, but the lodge could not meet in time to restore him, and, under the circumstances, and at the request of the Worshipful Master, I granted a dispensation that the deceased brother might be accorded a Masonic funeral. I felt compelled, in a case where a brother had died while under suspension for non-payment of dues, to refuse a dispensation, there being no existing regulations to call for the exercise of my prerogative, and I could not allow personal considerations to prevail. On more than one occasion I have been called on to grant a dispensation to initiate a candidate out of the jurisdiction of the lodge where he resides. I have in every case, in addition to the good reasons for asking the exercise of my prerogative, been required the consent of that lodge. In two instances I have refused to shorten the month's term which our constitution requires as requisite to intervene before conferring the degrees. While on the subject of dispensations, I feel bound to remark that so long as to the constitution Masons are required to look for their grievances, the power of dispensation should be most carefully used. Application is made to me for permission for certain brethren to attend as Masons the funeral of a brother who desired to be buried according to the ritual of a non-Masonic society to which he belonged. I held that the brethren should not appear at a lodge, or clothed as Masons on funeral occasions, unless the burial rites were performed under the exclusive control of the lodge, and according to the provisions laid down in the Book of Constitutions, which should ever be the distinguishing mark of the church to which deceased belonged. The rights and privileges of the church of the minister in performing the burial services are not to be interfered with, but are fully and freely exercised by ancient, free and accepted Masons, the oldest existing secret society, is not obtrusive, and we never thrust ourselves before the public clothed in the badge of a Mason, unless when carrying out those duties prescribed by ancient constitution, or by the constitutions and even in these cases a Masonic funeral being the sole exception. A dispensation is made under several penalties to be levied on the deceased than those of a Mason, unless when carrying out those duties prescribed by ancient constitution, or by the constitutions and even in these cases a Masonic funeral being the sole exception.

great measure to the most intelligent and able Masons elected to fill the important offices of District Deputy Grand Masters. In pursuance of the authority granted at the annual communication of the Grand Lodge in 1877, I have, after due and careful consideration, and after the proper safeguards were observed, returned, on a petition expressing due contrition, Brother Joseph Redale, who had been expelled from the Order on account of his having attached himself to that spurious organization of the past, the Grand Lodge of Ontario. A number of persons, who through ignorance and inadvertence had become members of that body, have been healed and affiliated under, and following out, the regulations prescribed by my predecessors. I have every reason to believe that these brethren who have thus attained their present recognized position, having stood the test of the ballot, will prove good and worthy Masons. A brother died while under suspension for non-payment of dues. The Worshipful Master of his lodge telegraphed me that before his death his arrears were offered, but the lodge could not meet in time to restore him, and, under the circumstances, and at the request of the Worshipful Master, I granted a dispensation that the deceased brother might be accorded a Masonic funeral. I felt compelled, in a case where a brother had died while under suspension for non-payment of dues, to refuse a dispensation, there being no existing regulations to call for the exercise of my prerogative, and I could not allow personal considerations to prevail. On more than one occasion I have been called on to grant a dispensation to initiate a candidate out of the jurisdiction of the lodge where he resides. I have in every case, in addition to the good reasons for asking the exercise of my prerogative, been required the consent of that lodge. In two instances I have refused to shorten the month's term which our constitution requires as requisite to intervene before conferring the degrees. While on the subject of dispensations, I feel bound to remark that so long as to the constitution Masons are required to look for their grievances, the power of dispensation should be most carefully used. Application is made to me for permission for certain brethren to attend as Masons the funeral of a brother who desired to be buried according to the ritual of a non-Masonic society to which he belonged. I held that the brethren should not appear at a lodge, or clothed as Masons on funeral occasions, unless the burial rites were performed under the exclusive control of the lodge, and according to the provisions laid down in the Book of Constitutions, which should ever be the distinguishing mark of the church to which deceased belonged. The rights and privileges of the church of the minister in performing the burial services are not to be interfered with, but are fully and freely exercised by ancient, free and accepted Masons, the oldest existing secret society, is not obtrusive, and we never thrust ourselves before the public clothed in the badge of a Mason, unless when carrying out those duties prescribed by ancient constitution, or by the constitutions and even in these cases a Masonic funeral being the sole exception. A dispensation is made under several penalties to be levied on the deceased than those of a Mason, unless when carrying out those duties prescribed by ancient constitution, or by the constitutions and even in these cases a Masonic funeral being the sole exception.

great measure to the most intelligent and able Masons elected to fill the important offices of District Deputy Grand Masters. In pursuance of the authority granted at the annual communication of the Grand Lodge in 1877, I have, after due and careful consideration, and after the proper safeguards were observed, returned, on a petition expressing due contrition, Brother Joseph Redale, who had been expelled from the Order on account of his having attached himself to that spurious organization of the past, the Grand Lodge of Ontario. A number of persons, who through ignorance and inadvertence had become members of that body, have been healed and affiliated under, and following out, the regulations prescribed by my predecessors. I have every reason to believe that these brethren who have thus attained their present recognized position, having stood the test of the ballot, will prove good and worthy Masons. A brother died while under suspension for non-payment of dues. The Worshipful Master of his lodge telegraphed me that before his death his arrears were offered, but the lodge could not meet in time to restore him, and, under the circumstances, and at the request of the Worshipful Master, I granted a dispensation that the deceased brother might be accorded a Masonic funeral. I felt compelled, in a case where a brother had died while under suspension for non-payment of dues, to refuse a dispensation, there being no existing regulations to call for the exercise of my prerogative, and I could not allow personal considerations to prevail. On more than one occasion I have been called on to grant a dispensation to initiate a candidate out of the jurisdiction of the lodge where he resides. I have in every case, in addition to the good reasons for asking the exercise of my prerogative, been required the consent of that lodge. In two instances I have refused to shorten the month's term which our constitution requires as requisite to intervene before conferring the degrees. While on the subject of dispensations, I feel bound to remark that so long as to the constitution Masons are required to look for their grievances, the power of dispensation should be most carefully used. Application is made to me for permission for certain brethren to attend as Masons the funeral of a brother who desired to be buried according to the ritual of a non-Masonic society to which he belonged. I held that the brethren should not appear at a lodge, or clothed as Masons on funeral occasions, unless the burial rites were performed under the exclusive control of the lodge, and according to the provisions laid down in the Book of Constitutions, which should ever be the distinguishing mark of the church to which deceased belonged. The rights and privileges of the church of the minister in performing the burial services are not to be interfered with, but are fully and freely exercised by ancient, free and accepted Masons, the oldest existing secret society, is not obtrusive, and we never thrust ourselves before the public clothed in the badge of a Mason, unless when carrying out those duties prescribed by ancient constitution, or by the constitutions and even in these cases a Masonic funeral being the sole exception. A dispensation is made under several penalties to be levied on the deceased than those of a Mason, unless when carrying out those duties prescribed by ancient constitution, or by the constitutions and even in these cases a Masonic funeral being the sole exception.

great measure to the most intelligent and able Masons elected to fill the important offices of District Deputy Grand Masters. In pursuance of the authority granted at the annual communication of the Grand Lodge in 1877, I have, after due and careful consideration, and after the proper safeguards were observed, returned, on a petition expressing due contrition, Brother Joseph Redale, who had been expelled from the Order on account of his having attached himself to that spurious organization of the past, the Grand Lodge of Ontario. A number of persons, who through ignorance and inadvertence had become members of that body, have been healed and affiliated under, and following out, the regulations prescribed by my predecessors. I have every reason to believe that these brethren who have thus attained their present recognized position, having stood the test of the ballot, will prove good and worthy Masons. A brother died while under suspension for non-payment of dues. The Worshipful Master of his lodge telegraphed me that before his death his arrears were offered, but the lodge could not meet in time to restore him, and, under the circumstances, and at the request of the Worshipful Master, I granted a dispensation that the deceased brother might be accorded a Masonic funeral. I felt compelled, in a case where a brother had died while under suspension for non-payment of dues, to refuse a dispensation, there being no existing regulations to call for the exercise of my prerogative, and I could not allow personal considerations to prevail. On more than one occasion I have been called on to grant a dispensation to initiate a candidate out of the jurisdiction of the lodge where he resides. I have in every case, in addition to the good reasons for asking the exercise of my prerogative, been required the consent of that lodge. In two instances I have refused to shorten the month's term which our constitution requires as requisite to intervene before conferring the degrees. While on the subject of dispensations, I feel bound to remark that so long as to the constitution Masons are required to look for their grievances, the power of dispensation should be most carefully used. Application is made to me for permission for certain brethren to attend as Masons the funeral of a brother who desired to be buried according to the ritual of a non-Masonic society to which he belonged. I held that the brethren should not appear at a lodge, or clothed as Masons on funeral occasions, unless the burial rites were performed under the exclusive control of the lodge, and according to the provisions laid down in the Book of Constitutions, which should ever be the distinguishing mark of the church to which deceased belonged. The rights and privileges of the church of the minister in performing the burial services are not to be interfered with, but are fully and freely exercised by ancient, free and accepted Masons, the oldest existing secret society, is not obtrusive, and we never thrust ourselves before the public clothed in the badge of a Mason, unless when carrying out those duties prescribed by ancient constitution, or by the constitutions and even in these cases a Masonic funeral being the sole exception. A dispensation is made under several penalties to be levied on the deceased than those of a Mason, unless when carrying out those duties prescribed by ancient constitution, or by the constitutions and even in these cases a Masonic funeral being the sole exception.

great measure to the most intelligent and able Masons elected to fill the important offices of District Deputy Grand Masters. In pursuance of the authority granted at the annual communication of the Grand Lodge in 1877, I have, after due and careful consideration, and after the proper safeguards were observed, returned, on a petition expressing due contrition, Brother Joseph Redale, who had been expelled from the Order on account of his having attached himself to that spurious organization of the past, the Grand Lodge of Ontario. A number of persons, who through ignorance and inadvertence had become members of that body, have been healed and affiliated under, and following out, the regulations prescribed by my predecessors. I have every reason to believe that these brethren who have thus attained their present recognized position, having stood the test of the ballot, will prove good and worthy Masons. A brother died while under suspension for non-payment of dues. The Worshipful Master of his lodge telegraphed me that before his death his arrears were offered, but the lodge could not meet in time to restore him, and, under the circumstances, and at the request of the Worshipful Master, I granted a dispensation that the deceased brother might be accorded a Masonic funeral. I felt compelled, in a case where a brother had died while under suspension for non-payment of dues, to refuse a dispensation, there being no existing regulations to call for the exercise of my prerogative, and I could not allow personal considerations to prevail. On more than one occasion I have been called on to grant a dispensation to initiate a candidate out of the jurisdiction of the lodge where he resides. I have in every case, in addition to the good reasons for asking the exercise of my prerogative, been required the consent of that lodge. In two instances I have refused to shorten the month's term which our constitution requires as requisite to intervene before conferring the degrees. While on the subject of dispensations, I feel bound to remark that so long as to the constitution Masons are required to look for their grievances, the power of dispensation should be most carefully used. Application is made to me for permission for certain brethren to attend as Masons the funeral of a brother who desired to be buried according to the ritual of a non-Masonic society to which he belonged. I held that the brethren should not appear at a lodge, or clothed as Masons on funeral occasions, unless the burial rites were performed under the exclusive control of the lodge, and according to the provisions laid down in the Book of Constitutions, which should ever be the distinguishing mark of the church to which deceased belonged. The rights and privileges of the church of the minister in performing the burial services are not to be interfered with, but are fully and freely exercised by ancient, free and accepted Masons, the oldest existing secret society, is not obtrusive, and we never thrust ourselves before the public clothed in the badge of a Mason, unless when carrying out those duties prescribed by ancient constitution, or by the constitutions and even in these cases a Masonic funeral being the sole exception. A dispensation is made under several penalties to be levied on the deceased than those of a Mason, unless when carrying out those duties prescribed by ancient constitution, or by the constitutions and even in these cases a Masonic funeral being the sole exception.

great measure to the most intelligent and able Masons elected to fill the important offices of District Deputy Grand Masters. In pursuance of the authority granted at the annual communication of the Grand Lodge in 1877, I have, after due and careful consideration, and after the proper safeguards were observed, returned, on