THE LECTURE—The appearance of Captain Kirwin on behalf of the St. Vincent Paul Society, is fixed for Wednesday evening next at the City Hall. He will have a bumper house.

ESOTERICA.—The first volume of the new Dominion Encyclopedia of universal history and useful knowledge, by O. K. Tuttle, is received. The author says the work has been contemplated for years, and it may be regarded as the result of much careful study as the kind of literature at present in demand.

THE CONCERT.—This evening the St. Patrick's concert will take place in the City Hall, for which the best results are fully anticipated. The programme, which was printed last evening, afforded an opportunity of judging of the merits of the entertainment. The City Hall will be crowded this evening sure.

DEATH OF MR. FLANNAGAN.—What has long been expected occurred this morning—the death of the wife of the Deputy Mayor of the Kingston Penitentiary, Mr. John Flannagan. She has been ill for some time, and has been so long expected that the report has been daily expected.

TAKEN AWAY.—The telegram of yesterday reported the tragical death of Mr. Lewis Rice, of the American Hotel, Boston, from the excitement attending a fire in rear of the establishment. Mr. Rice has borne the best name on the continent as an hotel proprietor, and the American will remain a monument of its loss as long as it retains its present character of courtesy, convenience and absence from the intolerant airs of most hoteliers.

AGAIN HEARD FROM.—E. O. Williams, who victimized John Nicholson, of Belleville, and the liver men of Brighton, Downsville and Kingston, has been again heard from. He states a horse and rig at Lacolle, P.Q., and $50 reward is now offered for his capture. The Ontario man want to drive him to Kansas, but this is unkind when other pirates are flourishing.

THE GRAND CENTRAL HOTEL, New York, maintains the famous reputation as a first-class hotel, and its location on $6.00 to $2.00 and $3.00 per day makes it more popular than ever.

CRUELTY TO A CRIPPLE. The Story of a Little Boy Who Crawls Along Broadway. For several weeks past a poor little crippled boy apparently not six or seven years of age, has been crawling up and down the Broadway sidewalks.

Without letting the man know that she had noticed that he was following the boy, she stepped up to the little cripple and said to him, "I know you, and I know that you are a poor fellow, but I will help you if you will let me." She finally persuaded the little cripple to go with her, and was about to put the child into a carriage, when the man who had been following stepped up and said, "I know that you are a poor fellow, but I will help you if you will let me."

THE LITTLE FELLOW.—The little fellow said that Jim made lots of money by making him crawl upon the sidewalk, and that he had to crawl all day long and until late in the evening. He said that he had to crawl all day long and until late in the evening.
