A CHURCH ON FIRE. Good Friday Nearly Turned Into a Day of Double Mourning.

Rome, N. Y., March 30 .- There was a great sensation at St. Mary's church this morning about half past ten o'clock. It being good Friday, there was a large number in attendance. The altar was trimmed with muslins and cambrics which hung in festoons about the altar in profusion. The services had just concluded when the audience were suddenly startled by the cry of "fire!" An instant afterwards the muslin was seen enveloped in flames. Some of the trimmings had caught from the burning candles. The blaze travelled with lightning rapidity and in a brief space of time the flames had enveloped half of the aitar, were burning the light material very rapidly and soon commenced to feed upon the woodwork of the church. The congregation was thrown into a state of great alarm. The rush for the doors was terrific, but fortunately no one was injured. Some of the men present commenced to pull down the burning fabrics and smother the flames. With great presence of mind and greater exertion they succeeded in extinguishing the flames, which had already done damage to the amount of $300. The statue of the Virgin Mary was situated in the immediate vicinity of where the fire originated. Two men rushed into the flames and rescued it. They were badly singed, but succeeded in getting the statue out before it had been greatly damaged.

WHAT BAD COOKING DID .- Bad cookery separated two young and loving hearts. Early in March a breach of promise suit was brought before the Boumin Assizes, the plaintiff being a widow aged RENOVATED AND RESTORED. Specizeventy seven, and the defendant, Richmens of his work can be seen at GORE ard Hamaton, aged sixty seven. They had agreed to marry, but on the eve of the day appointed for the neptials, the plaintiff made a beefstesk-pie which was unpalatable to the bridegroom elect. NEW GOODS Thereupon he declared he would not marry her, and kept his word, feiguing illness on the appointed day. An English jury awarded her fifty dollars dama-

A WOMAN'S READY WIT. - A lady in Chicago the other night, on being awakened by the presence in her boudoir of a burglar, very skillfully and lightly pinched her little babe and made it cry for the purpose of an excuse to reach it some milk from a table close at hand. After saying "Hush, deary, mamma will get it some milk," she fired and burglar dropped, wounded in the leg. Although the theft was grmed, he saw the odds were against him, for her husband awoke at the shot and would, if had been possible; given him half-a-dozen more lame legs if he had not surrendered.
