Wayfaring insect, what brought you there?
The baby saw it, and eagerly
Reached out to eatch it, with crowing glee—

With fat, pink fingers reached out—and fell!
The awful horror no tongue can tell!
Poor little baby, so sweet and bright!
Pale faces quivered and lips grew white;

Weak women fainted, strong men grew weak ! Up rose one woman's heart piercing shrink, Hurrah for the awning! Upon the fly It caught the youngster and cossed him high. The bounce prodigious made baby scowl;
He caught his breath, sir, and set up a howl.
All bleased the awning that had no flaw;

But a madder baby you never saw!
