Kingston, April, 1877.

(Addington Reporter.) The patrons of husbandry met at the Temperance Hall, Newburgh, and drove in procession, led by the Napanee brass band to the grove of Peter Mills, and there held their annual pic-nic. The procession was very large, taking twenty minutes to pass into the woods. Although it threatened rain and prevented a great many from attending, yet there were about 2,000 present. The display made and the conductivers very creditable. But few counties could make such a turn out of the bone and sinew of the land as Maud, Pierrepont and Geneva. did Lennox and Addington. It would have been impossible for the farmers to have been impossible for the farmers to have made the same display four years ago, before the Grange Organization was established, which shows that it is a sort established, which shows that it is a sort of Esthetical achool for them. Music was furnished by the Napanee band. A spread was laid, to which the Grangers invited their acquaintances and friends. Then followed the intellectual part of the and Rideau Canal Steamers at Kingston. programme, which consisted of speeches by some of the leading Grangers and Leave for Wolfe & Garden Islands, by some of the leading Grangers and others. Mr. Shibley, M.P., said he was a farmer and had belonged to the Grange since its commencement. He thought that unless the farmers prospered no other business could succeed, as all were so much depending upon the produce of the soil; that being the staple of Canada. If the farmer bettered his condition he bettered that of his fellow man, and as the start of his fellow man, and as bettered that of his fellow man, and as the grange organization was for the purpose of benefiting the farmer it would also benefit others. The Parliament had passed an Act incorporating the Grange body, and he had no doubt that if further the steamers from the Cape will call at the steamers from the cape will be s legislation were needed it would be acorded them.

New Idea. -For a small fee, a new insurance company will enter into an agreement with owners of horses, carriages, harnesses, silver or plated ware to return the same if stolen, or pay its full value in cash. A full description of the property is taken when the agreement is entered into, and it is thereafter under the care and protection of the detective organization. This sounds well but who will insure the company .- Utica Herald. Liverpool, Londonderry & Glasgow -At seven o'clock this morning Mgr.

One More Unfortunate.

Almost every day the papers chronicle intervals during the Season of Winter No the suicide of some poor unfortunate whose mind has been enfeebled by dyspepsia, over whose earthly horizon a heavy gloom has gathered from the untold and untellable agonies of this cruel complaint.
