The murderer of Mr. Joseph Dain, late of Yorkville, has been caught, extradited and is now lying safe in Toronto jail. The crime which was committed three years ago consisted of a burglarious entrance of Mr. Dain's residence and the shooting by one Morker when Dain gave pursuit through the village. Meeker, finding himself nearly overtaken, turned and shot his pursuer in the abdomen. Dain lingered for nearly three years, but finally succumbed to his injuries. Two men were engaged in the burglary. One of them named Levit was arrested, and sentenced to the Penitentiary for life. Meeker, the murderer, however, escaped

COLD DRINK .- We called attention ARGE and FRESH SUPPLY OF BUNS, ROLLS, CAKES, PASTRY, FRUITS the other day to the fact that the Globs and every description of PLAIN and FANCY had been overcome by the temperance wave and was calling out for places No increase in prices because it looks where iced milk, cold tea and ginger beer could be procured for a few cents. EVERYTHING CHEAP AND GOOD. The cold tea and ginger, beer suggestion is approved of by the Kingston News, which fact may be taken as an indication that the subject is not to be made a political one. The latter paper very HAVING COMPLETED HIS SPRING PUR thoughtfully suggests snother beverage, by pointing out that in Glasgow curds and cream can be had at many places for a few pence. It is pleasing to see that in the discussion of so important a question as the one of cold tea and curds and cream, the faction organs can lay aside ject with that calmness and solemnity which it demands at the hands of every good citizen. At the same time we are dubious whether the powerful articles on Canadian loyalty and love of the Mother-Oil Cloths, land, which occasionally appear in the columns of our Kingston contemporary, could be fostered and evolved on a diet of curds and cream. -Telegrar.

A Murderer Captured. to Cleveland whence, after a short concealment, he went to Chicago. He was given money to go to South America, but,

In the meantime, a Dominion detective has been engaged in the case. He finally succeeded in discovering Meeker, a man of the worst passions and crimes a convictin the Indiana Penitentiary under the name of Armstrong. The Canadian Tickets for sale at G. S. Hobart & Drug Store demand for his extradition for murder was presented to the Governor of Indiana. chane Office, Polger & Hanley's Ti ket Office and the case came before-the Supreme Court. There was precedent but form was not to be allowed to stand in the way. The Judge recommended the Governor to pardon Meeker, and he was persuaded to come back to Canada. The case against him is clear. Levit, who is in Kingston, will testify for the Crown; Papes, the man to whom in Chicago, Mecker confessed his crime, is also a convict with Levit, and will be call G. The circomstantial evidence is also strong; one item thereof consists of the fact that when the burglars were detected by Mr. Dain, Levit, who was holding the coats, dropped them and ran. They were found by a servant and given to the police. Meeker's coat, as well as himself, has been identified in Cleveland by the tailor who cut the garment.

A SLIGHT MISTARR - W. F. Munro, flicial assignee, Toronto, made a descent on the house of Mr. John Phipps, of 1711 Richmond street, who was offering his household furniture at anction sale.
