Indigestion

When a patient says, "My food does not agree with me; it sours on my stomach, and my appetite is treacher ous. I suffer great distress after eat ing certain kinds of food, for which I have a great liking. I have to b careful as to what I eat," it is Dyspepsia, and the least of the suffering is upon the stomach, the origin of the trouble, for this condition produces the most disagreeable train of symptoms in its aggravated form. The Stomach is in active smypathy with the brain and nervous systems, and Dyspepsia produces nervous prostration, gloomy forebodings, nightmare, depression of spirits, sexual exhaustion, sleeplessness. as well as many other indications of a breaking down of the general vital forces, all in sympathy with the stomach.

Electricity, properly applied, will cure it. It begins from weakness, from a lack of vital activity in the secretory glands of the stomach from a want of sufficient gastric juice; hence, a remedy which will arouse these parts, stimulate them into action, infuse them with vitality, will cure the cause and the disease. Our treatment will do it. The study of years has taught us that the stomach is, in health, a veritable galvanic battery. It generates electricity, which is heat, warmth. When it breaks down it carries every other vital organ with it. Dyspepsia comes when its capacity has been over-taxed; it is not able to furnish the energy needed. Hence, a steady, gradual infusion of electric fo-ree into it renews its power, arouses its inactive function, revives the secretive action and restotes the machinery to a healthy state. The stomach begins anew to throw out sparks of electric life to the whole vital system, and a state of perfect health is re-

PEOPLE WHO SUFFER.

From Dyspepsia in any form, or from Weak Nerves, or General Debility, or from those troubles brought on by abuse and excess will find my new and scientific treatment a speedy and permanent cure.

A COMPLETE CURE OR NU CHARGE.

If you are weak and feel that you ought to consult a doctor, write me how you feel, and I will cure you if such is possible. I make no charge whatsoever till a complete cure is effected, then my charge will be only one-fourth of that of the general physician. In each case I undertake I send a legal guarantee positively to cure or make no charge at all. Of course I do not say that I can cure with a certainty every case, but I do say and legally bind myself to it, either to cure you or not charge you anything. I think this is the fairest proposition any physician can offer, then I ask no pay till that oure is complete in every detail.

SEND FREE

To each person writing me, my beautifully illustrated Medical Treatise entitled "Electro-Therapeutics." This valuable and instructive edition can be had for the asking, and will be sent you at once, charges prepaid. It is never well to delay in a matter of health. Let me hear from you at once.
