agreed that the 2.30 class would suit the horses in and around Kingston the best, provided the bills were made to date from July 1st, as some of the horse got the better marks since then. That was agreed to and the bills printed as stated. On the day named, only three horses arrived for the race, Mr. Brannigan's two and Bell's. The latter refused to start against Mr. Brannigan's two horses, which,

was, I think, quite reasonable. But in all fairness to Mr. Brannigan, he offered the committee to take either of his horses, Duke Sprague or Waxford, jr., and put up a driver, who would drive him out. That offer; on, his part, was more than the committee could expect, but the doctor emphatically refused to start against either of Brannigan's horses. However, we thought after the scrapping was over they would start, but we as well as the spectators, were disappointed. Bear in mind, although the race did not fill we were quite willing to start the two horses for the money, rather than disappoint those who
