DOES IT PAYT

-Till the back is bowed and bone Till the hourt is old and the hair is white And life's best days are spend, This the eyes are blind with the yellow dust Till all we hear is the coin's dult clink,

I wonder does it pay? But the pleasures life will give, To dance all night and to dream all day, To be merry while we live; To work and weery and tume and fret Over what we shall wear today, What we shall eat and what we shall drink, a wonder does it pay?

Does it pay, I wonder, to give our strength, The treasures of heart and brain, The gift of the gods and the skill of hand For that which brings no galu; To labor for that which is bread alone And the things that pass away, Till the heart is full of an aching void,

I wonder does it pay? Does it pay, I wonder, to never stop In the ceaseless such and care And list to the songs of bird and brook Or wander through woodlands fair; To never think of what lies beyond The narrow sphere of today,

Till the new life dawns on our untried souls, I wonder does it pay? -Incz May Felt in Somerville Journal.
