Don't Worry, Dear. Samuel Merwin, in Youth's Companion.

Don't worry, dear; the bleakest years That clos the forward view Each thing to nothing when it nears, And we may saunter through The darkes, moment never comes It only looms before: The loss of hope is what benumbs, Not trouble at the door.

Don't worry, dear; the clouds are black, But with them comes the rain. And stifled souls that parch and crack, May thrill with sap again. The burden bear as best we can, And there'll be none to bear; Hard work has never killed a man, But worry did its share.

These little woes that hover near Are nothing, though they gall; We know that life is love, my dear,
