PRINCESS VIROQUA, M. D.

Endorses Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound After Following Its Record For Years.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Health is the greatest boon bestowed on humanity and therefore anything that can restore lost health is a blessing. I consider Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as a blessing to State and Nation. It cures her mothers and daughters and makes them well and strong.

PRINCESS VIROQUA.
Practicing Physician and Lecturer.

"For fifteen years I have noted the effect of your Vegetable Compound in curing special diseases of women.

"I know of nothing superior for ovarian trouble, barrenness, and it has prevented hundreds of dangerous operations where physicians claimed it was the only chance to get well. Ulceration and inflammation of the womb has been cured in two or three weeks through its use, and as I find it purely an herbal remedy, I unhesitatingly give it my highest endorsement. —Fraternally yours, DR. P. VIROQUA, Lansing, Mich."—$5000 forfeit if above testimonial is not genuine.

If you are ill do not hesitate to get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once, and write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass. for special advice; it is entirely free.

WHAT IS PROPOSED.

Scheme Great Railway Systems Are Involved.

New York, Nov. 13.—An important announcement regarding the railway situation is expected this afternoon. Seven great railway systems, with 47,372 miles of track and a combined capital stock of $1,042,387,186 are involved. They are the Union Pacific, Southern Pacific, Northern Pacific, Great Northern, Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul, Chicago, Burlington & Quincy, and Chicago & North Western. Plans of the settlement, it is said, contemplate the formation of a "holding company" with five per cent. bonds, which shall control the Northern Pacific.

The Rates Increased.

Local insurance agents were notified to-day that all new insurance or renewals on stocks and buildings situated in stores on Princess street, between Bagot and Wellington streets, must be negotiated at an increase of twenty-five per cent. on present rates. The increase is the outcome of so many heavy losses that have occurred within that block in recent years.

Dangerously Ill.

Yesterday Edward Hamilton, Arch street, received a telegram from his son, Henry, to the effect that he was dangerously ill at Chicago. Mr. Hamilton at once left for the west to attend his son. The young man was recently employed in Livingston & Bro's tailor shop.

E. P. Jenkins gave each of his employees this year a yearly subscription to a wholesome magazine. Clerks appreciate these tokens of kindness.

OLDEN TIME PUNISHMENTS

THE WAY CRIMINALS WERE TREATED.

The First Hanging in Upper Canada Occurred Near Bath — What Prof. Adam Shortt Writes—Branded With a Hot Iron.

Here are some samples searched out by the Napanee Beaver of the sentences meted out to criminals by our grandfathers, nearly a hundred years ago. Probably the first hanging in Upper Canada was at, or near, Finkle's tavern, near Bath, of a man convicted of stealing a watch. The presiding magistrate had the reputation of being very severe in sentences. But times and circumstances were very different then. The condemned man protested his innocence, and it was afterwards ascertained that the man was not guilty, the watch having been lost and found again.

Until quite recent years a large tree stood nearly opposite Finkle's tavern that had been used as a whipping post. Those condemned by the magistrates would be lashed to it and publicly whipped. One of the first to be thus punished was a negro for stealing a loaf of bread.

Prof. Adam Shortt writes: These sentences were given in the higher court of assizes (1818), at Kingston: John C—, Esq., (one of the magistrates) for forgery, one month's imprisonment and ten pounds fine. John C. Wilson, grand larceny, restitution of stolen property, three months' imprisonment and public whipping, thirty-nine stripes. John Grace, grand larceny, one month's imprisonment, public whipping, thirty-nine stripes and banishment. Mary Smith, grand larceny, one month's imprisonment and private whipping. Noble Rowman, assault upon a female, ten days' imprisonment and five pounds fine. Alice Braydon, keeping a house of ill-fame, one month's imprisonment, standing in the pillory half an hour with a label of her offence on her back. Mary Flake, keeping house of ill-fame, one month's imprisonment and sitting in the stocks half an hour.

In 1819, for an assault with intent to murder, a man was sentenced to two months' imprisonment and a fine of three pounds. Another man, for knowingly uttering a forged receipt, was sentenced to be hanged. A third man for stealing a cow was sentenced to be hanged.

In these early records it is told of men being branded with a hot iron for stealing and for forgery; and banishment from the country on pain of death for returning, for these and numbers of other crimes. There are several instances given of persons being convicted and sentenced to be hanged before the proceedings of the court terminated.

In England and Ireland hanging for sheep stealing and similar crimes was practiced during the early years of this century.

GENERAL MANAGER SPENCER

He Has Been in Railway Service For Twenty Years.

"A man of great ability and promise," is the way G. M. Adam speaks of Charles Worthington Spencer, the new general manager of the Kingston and Pembroke railway. Mr. Spencer was born in 1857 at Kemptville. He was educated there and entered the C.P.R. railway service as an operator and clerk at the Ottawa station in May, 1871. He was advanced at frequent intervals and made chief train despatcher in January, 1881, traffic superintendent, May, 1881; assistant superintendent, June, 1881, assistant general superintendent, August, 1884, and general superintendent of the eastern division of the C.P.R. since October 1st, 1887. In religion he is a Methodist and married to a daughter of the late John Rochester, ex-M.P., Toronto.

What May Be Done.

A Montreal despatch to the Whig says:

"Charles Drinkwater, secretary and assistant to the president of the C.P.R., is in Kingston to-day attending the annual meeting of the Kingston & Pembroke railway company. It is confidently expected that, after the first of the year, the C.P.R. will be in control of that line. A well-informed railway man said the C.P.R. would reach out after tourist travel in that section and probably put on a line of steamers through the Thousand islands and St. Lawrence river to Montreal."

Canada First, Britain Second.

Montreal, Nov. 11.—(To the Editor): The above statement expressed by the president of the manufacturers' convention, we all agree with, but will you let one old in commercial matters point out that one of the things our people should do in order to secure genuine progress and real prosperity is never to injure a good customer. We have greatly retarded our advance, materially and morally, by slapping mother country, besides Europe, in the face of the high protection policy of over twenty recent years. The piling on of customs duties has led to a serious result in much fewer vessels crossing the ocean to our important seaboard cities, and chiefly to Montreal, and those that do come arrive with cargoes for which, the rule is, little or no freight is earned, and, as a consequence, heavier rates have to be charged on our agricultural products. One feels satisfied that if our manufacturers would think over the matter they would see that appealing to the government for increases of the tariff will not save industrial mills, from the results of over-production and unwise extension.

The interests of the consumers, townhouseholders and country farmers, are not thought of in the convention of manufacturers. The day will come, and that soon, when selfishness will be seen to be bad policy, especially on the part of all who have to depend on public support. Our people not only cannot stand any additions to fiscal burdens, but they look to being eased of them in accordance with promises made in Ottawa over eight years ago. —D. C. BARKER.

M. Lawless, wine clerk at Congress Hall, is confined to his home with illness.
