A Saw Off Proposed.

George Taylor, M.P., conservative whip in the house of commons, was n the city to-day and had a caucus with the "faithful." Political matters affecting Kingston, Frontenac and Addington were talked over. A saw-off between Kingston and Addington was proposed, the conservatives proposing to allow Kingston to go unopposed, if the reformers would allow Addington to go conservative. M. Avery's candidature in Frontenac was endorsed. The names of several prominent local conservatives were menentertainment yesterday- the ture, but nothing definite was done

At the caucus, the name of Capt. John Gaskin was freely mentioned as very a possible candidate for the dominion pre-ent, did not withdraw his name. A committee was appointed to wait upon the reform association leaders with reference to the proposed saw-off, putting Kingston against Addington.
