PRIDAY EVENING, SEPTEMBER The rag-money defusion has received a staggering blow trom the miserable fisses of Mr. Wright's candidatore in that behalf in Toronto. He professed to be bong fide candidate, and went to the polls on the strength of his peculiar views on this question, and polled a total vote of half a hundred. The Premier, and bis colleague the Finance Minister, have coquetted with the fester parents of the bantling, and have been waiting for pub. lie opinion to veer around in its favour, and this is the first occasion that there has been any opportunity of eliciting public sentiment in regard to it. The re sult will be that Tory Ministers wil have nothing to do with it. They want no thing but what there is political strength and popular support in, and seeing there

We have no confidence whatever in Sir John's Macdonald's settlement of the Ontario boundary question. The chief tain never was the friend of Ontario When a member for an Ontario constituency he not only never did any thing to favor his city or his province, but he was always ready to surrender our local and provincial interests either to the exigencies of his party or to the demands of Lower Canada. Very properly repudiated and discarded by the electors of this city, who by the way had endured him all too long, he is less than ever inclined to further Ontario interests, or rather he is more than ever disposed to do all in his power to favor other provinces, notably British Columbia, at the expense of Ontario. The animus of Sir John Macdonald has been especially apparent in the matter of the boundary of Ontario and he has shown his hostility to this province by virtually setting aside the award of the arbitrators in its favour. It is now reported that the dispute, which he alone has raised, shall be referred to the Imperial Privy Council for final settle ment. There have been other "refer ences" of this sort which make us suspicious of this move, notably that of the seat of Government and the dismissal of the Hon, Mr. Letellier. The fact is, a reference to England of these Canadian questions, so far as Sir John Macdonald is concerned, is only a cowardly device to shift and shuffle responsibility. John well knows that his political doom in fixed in Ontario at the next election that the Premiers' action will only render their political doom at the next elec tion more sure and complete. Hence to shuffle off the responsibility of this bound the matter before counsel. dary fraud it has been determined to refer it to England so that the Chieftain and his minions may wash their hands of the injustice of setting saide the award, and blame it on the Queen as they did the matter of the seat of Government. The game is too old and the trick too thin, and the people will hold the pre sent Government responsible for the re-

THE DIRECTORS - EXCITING TIME.

(Watness)

The adjourned meeting of the shi holders of the Consolidated Bank was held this morning, (2nd.) The Chairman opened the business observing that a vice had to be taken upon the amendment to Mr. Ritchie motion. The amendment was to effect that the committee be discharged from their functions, that a sum of $300 se awarded them for their services, the all their expenses be paid and that much of the resolution of June 23rd last as was supposed to endow those gentlemen with power to prosecute the late directors be reconsidered.

Mr. Pediar wished to explain that ad never made charges against any per son as being connected with a ring or having improper motives, and for himself he would say that he had had no intercourse with the late Directors and was not working in harmony with them.

Mr. Ritchie said, it seems desirable all hands to get rid of a stock vote, and therefore he would be willing to allow the amendment to be carried, although he did not think $300 sufficient remune ration for the committee, and further more they should be allowed to divid the money among themselves, as they thought proper. If the amendment carried he would move that an action be in stituted in the name of the Bank against the late directors for all losses sustained through their maladministration, and that ed by a hail storm. --- be appointed a committee for that
