

SECRET SOCIETIES.

THE SEVERAL INSTITUTIONS THAT THREATEN THE PEACE OF IRELAND.

In order to drive home the nail which the vote of the Commons hits upon the head the Standard is publishing accounts of the secret societies of Ireland. It asserts that the Fenian Association has never relinquished its labors for a single day, and it is at this moment more formidable in every respect than at any time since the seizure of the Irish People and the arrest of the leaders of the movement in 1865. It then proceeds to discuss the Western, Ulster, and Dublin, the "Molly Maguire" society, and says: "The Fenians could take the open field for battle; the Molly Maguires believe in treacherous murder from behind a hedge or ditch. If murder is by the order of the day or night in Connaught or Munster during the coming winter it will be due to the revival of Molly Maguireism. Until the commencement of the anti-rent agitation, not nearly two years ago, the followers of Molly Maguire were in the West could be counted only in units. Within the last twelve months they have increased to thousands. In Mayo alone there are from five thousand to seven thousand affiliated members. The sole object of organization and hope of the Molly Maguire is murder. The 'brother' always has other purposes than the assassination of 'bad' landlords, agents, &c. gens omnes. The rules of the association are few and simple. The oath is made as solemn and binding as possible by being generally administered at midnight, and taken in a hushing attitude. There are no fixed weekly or periodical contributions, a special levy, being laid upon each brother, according to his position and means, when 'Molly' has a job in hand. There are midnight musters, but no attempt at drill, and no effort is made to arm the members. Weapons are purchased, but they are immediately destroyed when the persons for whom they are bought have been accomplished. There are signs, grips and passwords, which are changed every three months, and by these the members are enabled to recognize each other at fairs, wakes and other gatherings, and to fight in gane in case of a fracas. The ranks are filled by a system of terrorism which makes it unsafe for a farm labourer or small cottager to remain aloof from the movement in any locality where it has got a footing.

Outrage in Ohio.

A special says that the residents of Bellire, Ohio, were aroused at a late hour on Saturday night by the loud cries of murder, which apparently came from a woman in distress on the opposite side of the river. Mixed with this distressing sound were the cries of help from the husband and child of the woman. It was not long before the river bank was completely lined with people going to the rescue of the sufferers. Skiffs were procured and loaded down with men ready to start in the direction of the cries. When the husband and son landed on the shore the former told his story. He said that he had camped on the opposite shore with the intention of spending the night when some half dozen men, crazy with liquor, came upon them and outraged his wife. He attempted to protect his wife, who was knocked unconscious and after swimming in a skiff and pushed out into the river. On account of having his arm broken he could make but slow progress. When the crowd heard his story, several skiffs were loaded and they immediately started in pursuit of the assailants and to rescue the woman. Arriving within a short distance of the shore they were fired upon by the ruffians and had to return. The ruffians then left their victim, who ran into the water toward Benwood ferry to make her escape. There she again cried for help. This aroused the people on that side of the shore, who went to her rescue and brought her over. Officer Custer took her in charge, and carried her to her home. She was terribly injured and her husband had his nose and arm broken. No clue to the perpetrators of the horrible outrage has yet been found, though it is thought that some of them are from Bellire.

Worth Knowing.

One of the most notable characteristics of the celebrated Star Relief in the entire absence of narcotics, which cause depression by reaction. The sedative properties of this pain annihilator act upon the nervous organism in such a manner as to strengthen it, while controlling pain arising from neuralgia, rheumatism, tooth-ache, cramps, diarrhea, cholera, nervousness, particularly the nervousness arising from over stimulation. The sale of the Star Relief during the past year is the best evidence of its great popularity. Every household should have it. The living rooms from medical and shoebox may be without it. Travellers should carry it. In cases of sudden sickness or emergency it is invaluable. Price 10 cents per bottle. For sale at Wade's Drug Store, cor. King and Brock st., Market Square.

Dear Sir.—It gives me very great pleasure to inform you of the benefit received from the use of PREVIAN SYRUP in my own family. My wife, for two years, has been in feeble health—very much debilitated generally. Last spring she concluded to try a bottle of PREVIAN Syrup, and was so well pleased with the result that I continued to use it, and also a few bottles had been used, and she is in better health than at any time for ten years, and has increased in weight from 110 pounds to 134. I have employed physicians, and used a great variety of patent medicines, to the extent of hundreds of dollars, and I know she received more benefit from the PREVIAN SYRUP than all the rest together. My wife on the Syrup are very large and constantly increasing, and I do not hesitate to recommend and even warrant it to give satisfaction. If you desire, you are at liberty to use this communication as you see fit, as it gives me pleasure to recommend so good an article to suffering humanity. Yours truly, JAMES REID.

A NAME TO REMEMBER.—Nerveline, the great pain remedy. Nerveline, properly relieves cramps. Nerveline, the remedy for Canadian Cholera. Nerveline is death to all pain whether internal, external or local. Nerveline should be kept on hand in every family for nerveline is a prompt remedy for all pains. Sold by Polson & Co.

THE NEWEST wonder for whitening the teeth, delightfully refreshing to the mouth. To try it is to become a friend to the pugnacious, irresistibly popular dentists of the day.

A FIERCE STORM.
IT VISITS A SECTION OF VIRGINIA AND DOES A DEAL OF DAMAGE—A REMARKABLE NIGHT.

Richmond, Va., was visited on Wednesday night by one of the fiercest storms ever known in that section. For two hours the rain fell in torrents, accompanied by almost incessant thunder and lightning. The rush of water in sheets was so great that Shocks creek in the lower part of the city was forced to overflow, and flooded the whole vicinity. Many houses were filled and buildings damaged by the rush of water into their houses, that it was with the greatest difficulty that they could be rescued. The scene in the neighborhood of the swollen stream was terrible; women and children were seen at the windows holding lamps and screaming for help. The night was pitchy dark, and often cries were heard from points where no one could be seen. Men were wading about in the water trying to save life while others were drowning. The damage was great, but the loss falls heavily upon people who are little able to bear it. A number of the merchants sustain a considerable loss by flooding cellars. In parts of the city the streets were badly washed, and several bridges in the suburbs were swept away. The damage is great, but the loss falls heavily upon people who are little able to bear it.
