TOWN AND COUNTRY.

Probabilities—Moderate winds, fine cool weather.

Now is the time to secure your storm sash at Rathbun's.

VERY BUSY.—The arrival of so many timber vessels at Garden Island has caused quite a "bum." One gentleman asserts that they have never been as busy in ten years.

GAME CHICKENS.—Frank Sheppard bought a coop of game chickens to Kings this morning. It will now be in order for some of our city citizens to take another trip westward.

KINDERGARTEN SYSTEM.—Miss Robertson, who made a study of the Kindergarten system in New York and I taught it for three years in this city, will give an address upon it in St. Andrew's Hall on Friday evening at the request of many friends.

LAMP EXPLOSION.—About five o'clock this morning the fire alarm was sounded, a lamp having exploded in the Anglo-American Hotel. The oil taking fire had caused quite a blaze. A bed was damaged. A fire extinguisher damped out the flames.

ANNOYING YOUNG MEN.—A number of residents on Gordon street are complaining of certain young men and boys who destroy their fences in getting into Mr. Duff's garden to steal apples. The midnight slumbers of the residents are often disturbed by the prowling thieves.

GRAIN REPORT.—Considerable grain is coming in, probably not less than 2,000 bushels daily. The barley receipts are very light. Prices are quoted: Spring wheat, $1.10 to $1.12; fall wheat, $1.07 to $1.10; rye, 75c to 76c; barley, 50c to 60c; oats, 35c to 36c; peas, 65c to 68c; corn, 60c.

CHRIST CHURCH, CATAWAQUE.—There is to be a thanksgiving service in Christ Church, Catawaque, on Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. On the 17th of October the tenth anniversary of the church's erection will be celebrated by a service, in which the bishop will participate. Probably his Lordship will preach.

ACCIDENT.—Yesterday afternoon Mr. Jas. Hunter met with a rather serious accident. He was sitting on his cart when his horse became frightened throwing him to the front. He was kicked in the face and otherwise severely injured. He was brought to his home on Alma street and medical aid sent for. To-day he is progressing favorably.

BAND PERFORMANCE.—By permission of Col. Strang and officers the Band of "B" Battery will play the following program in the Tete de Pont Barracks this evening at 7:30 o'clock: Overture—Ritornel, Flour, Quadrille—Lieder, "Unruh", Selection—Romeo and Juliet, "Gounod", Valse—Toujours en Jambes, "Waldteufel", Scene of Duella, "H. T. Traviata", Verdi, Galop—"The Indian Mail," Lamothe, J. W. TREMBLE, B. M.

DRUNK COURT.—The usual batch of drunks filed into the Court this morning. Mr. Murray paid $1 for his coronal. James Waldrus was fined $2 for a similar offence, and J. Blair and P. McLoughlin were discharged. They committed for the first time the offence of conducting themselves disagreeably in public. Chas. Hippart was discharged. He gave Mr. Carnovsky $15 in cash and a note for the balance of the amount due.

SAILORS' UNION.—Yesterday the President of the Sailors' Union demanded from Mr. E. J. Cochran the books in which the proceedings of the Association had been kept. Mr. Cochran refused to deliver them, they having been purchased by him with his own funds, and he not having heard from the central authorities at Chicago. He was afterwards served with a letter, written by a lawyer, threatening legal proceedings unless the books were handed over to Mr. Crowley. The end is not yet.

There should be a full house on Saturday evening, if Lotta, the actress, is as popularly received here as she was in Montreal. The Herald says that long before the time for the curtain to rise every box and seat were taken, and hundreds were turned away disappointed at not being able to gain admission. We have not the space at our disposal to detail the plot. Lotta as "Masette, Little Bright Eyes," took the audience captive at once—the critics as well as the commonalty. There were a good many of the former present, who were competent to judge and who were warmed into enthusiasm and praise before the close of the evening. Lotta gave an idealistic representation of "Masette" the bright eye, laughing, witty gypsy girl, eliciting hearty and frequent applause. The entire Company was first-class, and it was not strange that "Masette," in their hands, should have met with such a warm reception.

Home of George Schenck.

A letter from a well known Oswego vessel master to Commodore Crimmins of the Oswego fleet, dated Buffalo, September 18, says: "I thought I would drop you a few lines and inform you of the race that is now to come off between the schooners, 'Bolivia,' 'Leadville' and 'Jannina' for a prize of $25, the two latter to give the 'Bolivia' twenty-four hours the start. The mammoth schooner, 'Sage,' Capt. Holland, was going into the pool, but he weakened. Capt. Chaston also wished to join in the pool, but he was barred out by the committee, he wanting too much leeway. Lyons & Son hold the stakes and are to present the winners of an elegant campaign flag."

KINGSTON PRESBYTERIAN.

Quarter Meeting Reports of the Work Performed by the Members—Mission Reports, Etc.

The second quarterly meeting of the Kingston Presbytery opened in St. Andrew's Hall at three o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The attendance of ministers and elders was very good.

In the absence of Rev. M. W. McLennan, Moderator, Rev. Finlay McQuinn was appointed Chairman pro-tem.

A minute regarding the late Rev. Mr. McLellan was read and filed. The Presbytery recorded its deep sorrow in his death. He had inspired sincere respect among the ministers.

Rev. Mr. Gracey presented a report that he had visited Palmerston as ordered. The Presbytery thanked him for his diligence, and also thanked the President and Directors of the K. & P. R.R. for giving passes to missionaries prosecuting their work along the line.

The deputation which visited North Hastings reported.

Rev. A. Wilson was appointed Moderator of the Committee for the examination of students' discharges for the Eastern section.

Students' reports from mission fields were read.

At six o'clock the Presbytery adjourned.

THE PRESBYTERY RE-SUMED AT 7:30 o'clock; the Moderator in the chair.

The minutes of the previous session were read and adopted.

Rev. Mr. Young reported what had been done in the matter of organizing the charge at Newburg and Clark's Mills. The work was not completed, although three elders had been elected and all now necessary was to accept them and proceed with their ordination and induction. The Committee was ordered to proceed with their labors.

Mr. Maclellan presented the financial report—receipts $12,508, disbursements $11,741. Adopted.

The reports of missionaries in the Presbytery were read. The missions are supplied principally by students.

Dr. Smith presented the report of the Home Mission Committee. The missionaries supplied this summer were efficient in their service.

A committee to examine a seasonal record was appointed.

THE PRESBYTERY THEN ADJOURNED.

WEDNESDAY'S SEBASTIAN.

The Presbytery resumed at 9:30 o'clock; the Moderator in the chair. The minutes of the last session were read.

Arrangements were made for the fortnightly supplying of the missions at Wolfe Island, Millhaven and Glenvale by students attending Queen's College. Committees were appointed to visit Demorestville, St. Colborne and St. Paul, and Glenvale, and ascertain what contributions they would be willing to give towards sustaining an ordained missionary or pastor.

Mr. Miller was appointed to preach at La. Mabe, York River and Minneth during the winter.

The Presbytery recommended certain grants to mission stations, and supplements to work congregations, to be given by the Home Mission Committee.

Ministers were appointed to visit several missions and dispense the sacrament.

The Rev. Mr. McQuinn was appointed to moderate in a call at Amherst Island as soon as the people are prepared to take such a step.

The Presbytery then adjourned until 3 o'clock.

MISSION REPORTS.

Last evening's session of the Kingston Presbytery was principally taken up by the reading of reports from the missionaries of this district. Some of these were very lengthy, but nevertheless interesting. The work of some students has been laborious. One we quote. A young man in Palmerston has had a field fifty-two miles in length. He has walked this ten times in nearly as many weeks. He has not succeeded in getting a house. Some people on his mission had seldom heard a sermon or seen a Bible before his advent. There was great apathy among them in religious things.

KEEGAN'S BODY FOUND.

Result of the Search Yesterday—Storm Weather—Funeral Today.

Yesterday we reported that the yacht "Sylvia" had gone with a party of searchers for Keegan's body. The party intended to go by the "Sylvia," but unfortunately the engine could not get on, and at last the party divided, part venturing down in an open boat guided by John O'Shea, and the rest using carriages. O'Shea reports the water rougher than ever—he can remember it in thirty years, and told your reporter that he was not going to venture in the yacht even if she had gone, but that he would have saved the others in his boat, as the yacht would have gone to the bottom like a stone, or in such a sea as was rolling yesterday. One party reached the scene of operations about half past one, and about fifteen minutes later the row boat arrived, having done the thirteen miles in about one hour and fifty minutes. O'Shea assured us that all the rowers had to do was to steer, the wind and waves doing the rest.

After a substantial repast, to which full justice was done, provided in part by the kindness of some campers who still brave the climate, the party divided, some under O'Shea's guidance to grapple, some to wait along the shore examining the islands in the channel, and some to walk along the beach. The coasters, Messrs. Stuart and Anglin, were successful, about half an hour after the search began. The body was found floating, head, arms and legs down, and the back seen first by the white shirt quite out of the water.

The signals were given, and all assembled, when sure enough the body was fully recognized as Keegan's, and was picked up not more than half a mile from where he had been last seen by the Clarks, and in a direct line as the wind blew yesterday from the place always said by them to have been the spot where he disappeared. The body was placed in a punt, towed to Professor Dupuis' camp, and then left for a few hours until other arrangements were completed.

Mr. Stark, Beeve of Pittsburg, was communicated with, and permission granted to remove the body, and just here came in the exceeding kindness of Mr. Edwards family. Mr. Cowan gave his light waggon to visit Gananoque for the purpose of procuring a rough board casket, and while there the friends in Belleville were informed of the mournful tidings, and all hoped, which might have survived that not withstanding appearances Keegan might have made his way to land, was effectively dispelled. On the return from Gananoque the body was carefully placed in the casket, and the party returned to the city about eight o'clock, one of Mr. Cowan's men coming up with his team and the light waggon having the body.

In one of the rooms of the Medical College, often made joyful by the jokes and laughter of poor Keegan, his body was deposited pending the arrangements for his funeral, which occurred today.

Too much can not be said of the uniform kindness of the neighbors in the various incidents of the search. Mr. McGinnis was always on hand at Prof. Dupuis' camp to render any assistance in his power, and Mr. Cowan's family seemed to think that all they could do was not enough to show the warmth and fullness of their sympathy. The friends and companions of the deceased wish thus publicly to state their thanks.

It is evident that poor Keegan lost his life accidentally. Mr. O'Shea thinks he fell out of the boat. The boat which found had shipped a quantity of water.

Personal Notices.

Mr. Farrall, formerly residing in Pittsburg, and his family (nine persons) have left for Bay City, Michigan, near which place they will settle.

Mr. H. F. Bioge, formerly of this city, and lately in the Merchants' Bank, Ottawa, has resigned his position, and intends to locate in New York.

Mr. J. D. Bissonette, B.A., of Queen's University, has accepted the position of Assistant Principal of Dundas High School. Mr. Harold, another graduate, is Principal.

Mr. A. T. Love, B.A., who has been preaching at Hantsville, Missisquoi, is visiting the city. He goes to-morrow to St. Stephen, N.B., to occupy a pulpit until the opening of the College.

Mr. J. C. Bachand, who has been dismissed by the Joly Government, has been re-appointed Registrar of the county of Bagot. Mr. Chas. Laroche, who had been appointed in lieu of Mr. Bachand has been ousted.

A Word to the Wives.

We would advise the several applicants to the office of Police Magistrate to consider well what power the City Council now has as to the emoluments, and as some of them are not lawyers we refer them to chap. 34, sec. 9 in the Ontario Acts of last session, which we think supercedes sec. 1 (a) chap. 72 Revised Statutes of Ontario. If this be so the Council would seem to have the power of abolishing the salary, at least as to a new incumbent, and leave him to repent on his magisterial fees for his remuneration. As the fees collected would not be very fat the impetuous delinquents predominating it is worth the while of the candidates to be sure about what they are doing. If an appointment is to be made we should think the City Council, who pays the salary, should be consulted.

There is no end to the slander of the Western press upon the Paris of Kingston and Montreal and their forwarding trader. Now the Chicago Times calls the river barges old tubs which wait their grain and entail losses on the insurance companies. The latter are about to appoint another seafaring man to assist Capt. Lewis in his inspections here as he has already done much service. His complaint is very much over-drawn. All the barges are not perfect, but, as a class, the fleet is a fine one.

PICTON VS. KINGSTON.

The Match Completed—Kingston Leads in the Series.

Our report left off yesterday when P. ten went to the bat for the second time, when it was expected that the game would be decided on the first innings. But the steamer could not wait beyond the regular time for the Pictonians, so they decided to stay and play both innings out. Picton did poorly, compared with its former score, making 48 only. Barker did not do so well, and while the rest of the team kept up only their former average, the total was diminished. Kingston went to the bat with but 47 to make to win, and with every prospect of an easy victory if it had but ordinary luck. But this it had not. Jones got out simply after making nine runs in good style. Ireland and Lavin had special ill luck, by going out by hit wicket and a shield ball at the beginning of their play. Smith got his eye in splendid and made fair for another splendid double figure when he was run out. Stockwell made a good stand with Hendry, and hope again set for Kingston, though its prospects had been black enough. Finally there were two men left, with fourteen runs to earn to win. Hendry and Renton by careful play and several good hits secured the much-sought for runs, carrying their bats out amid a storm of applause. The goal fortune that deserted the team in the beginning of the innings perched on them at last, leaving them victors with two wickets to spare.

The Picton men bowled well and fielded sharply. They are young at the willow, but some of them had excellent form. The bowling of Betts and Smith has earned them a name, but Hendry rivalled them with a splendid pitch. Jones at the wicket was sharp, getting men out in succession on short catches. Col. Van Straubenzee joined the team in the second innings and upheld the honor of the veterans by a good catch and sharp fielding. Kingston is to be congratulated on a good victory, however, with a "scratch" team. The scores are:

Table with 2 columns: Team Name and Score. Kingston: 1st Innings 48, 2nd Innings 47. Picton: 1st Innings 48, 2nd Innings 47.

WALSLEY'S PATENT MACHINERY.

Operation at the United States Mint at Philadelphia, Pa.

I visited the United States Mint at this place yesterday and hesitated about leaving it so much as I interested in the various departments. The institution was established in 1792, and the first material currency of copper cents coined in it in 1793. In the following year 1794 silver dollars were made, and gold pieces were produced in 1795. The first machinery and apparatus used in it were imported from England. Until 1816 the mintage of coin was entirely done by hand power, some twenty or more men being employed, specially for the Mint, was commenced, but it was not completed until 1833, but the structure, of white marble, Grecian in architectural appearance, was made very substantial. The premises may be visited any day, except on Sundays and on public holidays between the hours of 9 and 12 o'clock, strangers being met at the entrance by officers in livery and conducted through the establishment and given an insight into the various processes of money making. It is estimated that about 30,000 persons annually take advantage of this privilege. With one thing the visitor is impressed—the care and accuracy observed in the handling and passage of the coin, and the method from one place to another, weighing being so often resorted to that the least deficiency, caused by heat or displacement, can be detected in a few moments. The coin is stamped in the mill, and the process occurs. The metal is received in blocks of various sizes, from one hundred to thousands of dollars, but deposits of plate, silver, etc., not less than $100 worth at a time, are accepted, and even if copper, as it is stated that $50,000 worth of gold coins were weighed in one small room set apart for the purpose. The weights vary in size, the largest being five hundred and the smallest the thirteenth hundredth part of a gram, so small indeed that it can scarcely be seen with the naked eye. The metal, after being melted and mixed with borax, is poured into iron moulds, then weighed to the cent, and afterwards a fine adjustment is made by the use of a lathe, and rendered perfectly correct. The rolling room is located on an upper floor, and is a most interesting place to visit. The machinery, which is of peculiar design, eighty horse power, near by are the machines through which two hundred sheets are put per cent, and are capable of cutting a sheet of gold into strips of a certain width, and of varying the thickness of the metal. The strips are then drawn through rollers, and the thickness and smoothness of the platelets regulated. The annealing furnace, and the drying and cleaning rooms will furnish an idea of the process, and the machinery used, but they have not the attraction of the coining room. Here is situated the weighing and counting machine by which light platelets are weighed in many apartments, and the heavy ones into another. It is said to be able to do as much as five persons, adjusting eighty pieces per minute. The balling machines are operated by hand, and each is capable of balling from five to ten hundred platelets per minute. There are ten counting presses, which show stamp more than eight cents per minute, but which can be worked by one hundred and twenty per minute. Weighing all the process run at their greatest capacity $34,000 in gold currency could be manufactured in a minute. To make the stamp clear and perfect a preliminary of from twenty to eighty tons of pressure is necessary. The enormous pressure in the balling, blacksmith, and counter and paint shops, the "sweep" to which all the accumulations of the building are conveyed and ground up in order that any dust or scrapings may be extracted from them, the walls and ceiling room—all work of the class in operation which they receive. The count of the silver dollar, the five and three cent pieces, and the bronze two cent pieces, was discontinued in 1873. Half cents have not been coined since 1857. An official informed me that all the last coins for the country were coined in this institution, which they then take to the coast enough to supply all the coinage of the country. The Mints at Carson and San Francisco coin gold and silver only; the Mint at Denver does but assaying and refining. There is no scarcity of clerks and other employees, since a host of men and women seem to be engaged in watching and checking each other.
