GREAT PHYSICAL DISORDERS.

It was different now, the churches having attached to them rooms for the accommodation of the immigrants. In the eight years he remained in Formosa he never travelled on foot 45,000 miles, distances 1,000 miles, and 10,000 persons and above 10,000 teeth. This medical service had been frequently their salvation. In one instance a plot was forged to cast him and his associates over an aqueduct, but having bound the waters of a child hurt in their presence the tone of the populace moderated, and the Dr. had the pleasure of preaching to 9,000 persons. To-day, in this town there is a native church the membership of which is increasing so fast that it must shortly become self-supporting. On the whole island there are 200 churches, and to Father, Son and Holy Spirit be ascribed the glory. What a man! to do! to do? Very much, and he has done it that was not requisite to him to do. The people of Kansas would seem to be an exception to this rule, so far as the temperance question is concerned, for they have just adopted an amendment to their State Constitution, which declares that the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors shall be forever prohibited in the State, except for medicinal, scientific and mechanical purposes. In order to carry this amendment it was necessary to submit the question to a popular vote, the result being 91,741 to 81,007.

The majority may not be very large one, but to carry the State at all for such a purpose is regarded as a great victory by the temperance people of America.

IRELAND.

Mr. Purcell Becoming More Vehement—The Plot Thickens.

London, Dec. 5.—The Spectator reports that a re-conquest of Ireland by military force is the only and inevitable result of the present struggle in the country.

The English government, however, has been frequently their salvation. In one instance a plot was forged to cast him and his associates over an aqueduct, but having bound the waters of a child hurt in their presence the tone of the populace moderated, and the Dr. had the pleasure of preaching to 9,000 persons. To-day, in this town there is a native church the membership of which is increasing so fast that it must shortly become self-supporting. CURIOUS MOVE.

The projected scheme of sending American Condemned to Ireland from America, to defend the indicted agitators, is rather a curious move. American lawyers can only appear and practise in British Courts by courtesy, but it is said that this compliment will be readily extended to them by the British Government. At the same time there can be no doubt that their voluntary intervention in a matter which, strictly speaking, is none of their business will be generally regarded as a pique of unpardonable and cheeky impertinence. It would have been almost a parallel case had leading English lawyers come over to Washington to defend say President Andrew Johnson at the time of his impeachment, or any of the Southern leaders had they been brought to State trial. We wonder how much courtesy would be extended by our consuls to English lawyers under such circumstances. Besides it is surely a reflection upon the Irish Bar that legal gentlemen of distinction are so scarce that American lawyers must volunteer their services for the defence in the case. We do not think that the proposed plan of expressing American sympathy with the Irish cause is destined to prove a very brilliant success.

CIVIL SERVICE REFORM.

It is decidedly refreshing to hear Americans expressing any preference for, and acknowledging the superiority of any English over a similar American institution. The manifest superiority, however, of the English civil service system over that of America has extorted the admission of that fact from the American press. Thus we read in an American exchange: "We need a system such as prevails in England, under which the subordinate offices are completely removed from politics." We denounce the government of the Church, in interfering missionary enterprise in various parts of the world, had incurred a debt of $40,000. He urged the meeting to give (in the collection) not as if they were assisting some passing charity but in a way worthy of the cause.

SUNDAY SCHOOL MEETING.

At 2 o'clock in the afternoon a meeting of the teachers, the children and their parents, connected with the Presbyterian Churches of the city, was held in the Brock Street Presbyterian Church, which edifice was filled to its utmost capacity. The meeting opened with devotional exercises, and then the Rev. A. Wilson introduced Rev. Dr. McKay, the Formosa missionary, whose manner of speech and the language itself, proved most interesting to all, young as well as old. Two small idols were exhibited, and reference was made to the manner in which they were worshipped by the Chinese. The character of the two idols was described, the last insight being that Canadians should be grateful for the privileges and enlightenment they enjoy. The parents were reminded of their indebtedness to those who ministered to their children in religious things. Much importance was attached to secular education, and it was not to be despised, but the moral training of the youth was of infinitely more value, and should be encouraged and promoted in every way. Teachers in Sunday Schools perform a service of which the world knows nothing—in many respects it is peculiar—but it is worthy of the highest commendation, and will merit a fitting reward by and bye. He exhorted parents for gratitude in not acknowledging their obligation to the faithful Sabbath School workers, and urged them to do so in the future.

Bled in God.

Mrs. Casey, mother of the two children who were found dead in Toronto on Monday morning, expired in the cells of the police station on Friday. The opinion that the little ones died from suffocation gains ground, and it is thought that when arrested the mother was suffering from the same cause. She was moderately attended while in the cells. The heart of the motherless woman, it is published in an interview says: "There is one thing that grieves me: I was refused permission to see my poor wife before she died. I came here three times to see her, but they wouldn't let me go down. When she lay dead in her cell they were kind enough to let me see her. I had to stand out in St. Andrew's market and hear her calling on me, and yet I was refused to see her. If I could only have held her hand when she was dying, and told her that I forgave her I would have been happy." Mr. Fenlon, County Crown Attorney, says that the police must have been posted to no neglect the calls of humanity; the man should have been permitted to see his wife in company with a policeman.

The Breath-State of

Our country is getting to be fearfully alarming, the average of life being lessened every year without any reasonable cause, death resulting generally from the most insignificant origin. At this season of the year, especially, a cold is such a common thing that in the hurry of every day life we are apt to overlook the fact that a cold is not to be despised. To date, a fever and lung trouble has surely set in. Thousands lose their lives in this way every winter, while bad Boeck's German Syrup has taken a cure would have resulted, and a large bill from a doctor been avoided.

For all the strength of the throat and lungs, Mrs. Brown's Syrup has given itself to be the greatest discovery of its kind in medicine. Every druggist in this country will tell you of its wonderful effect. Over 200,000 bottles sold last year without a single failure known. For sale by J. G. King, Kingston, and all first class drug-goods.

When a cough sounds like croup—that is dry and hard—do not delay an instant! Give Brown's Syrup often enough to clear the cough loose, and the danger will soon be over.

As a remedy to purify the blood, nothing can be found equal to Dr. Bates' Moxie Balsam. Price 25 cents per bottle.

In Henry & Johnson's Annex and on Liverpool we furnish a large bottle for 50 cents.

Any person wanting keys for locks, can be supplied at Mr. David's shop, sign of the White Dog. He has hundreds of keys on hand.

SATURDAY'S RACE.

Further Details of the Ross-Trickett Match.

London, Dec. 4.—The final trials between Mr. Edward Trickett of Sydney, N. S., and Mr. Ross, were arranged yesterday.

The trials, which were to commence this afternoon, very little interest was shown in the trials, and the men have been complaining of illness for some days past, and as late as Thursday Trickett's condition was such as to lead to the opinion that he would be unable to compete in the race to-day; nevertheless, yesterday he was reported considerably better, and Ross's condition had improved somewhat. Both men were there, as far as health was concerned, when almost a mile and a half was run, the favorite, his name of last Monday leading "horses" of squalors to suppose that he would have a walk over to-day, notwithstanding which, the jockeys of the Canadian were not disheartened, and placed their money freely on their man, confidently expecting that he would show to better advantage than he did in the previous contest. Shortly after half-past two was given, and the horses shot away from Putney Bridge well together, Trickett having a slight advantage, which, however, he could not long maintain, the Canadian pulling such a vigorous stroke as to soon overtake his adversary, and by the time the Grass Wharf was reached, Ross had the lead by about half a length, which he managed to maintain as far as Crab Tree when the Australian, by a series of brief spurts, gradually crept along to the front, securing a decided advantage, and by the time Soap Works was reached he was slightly leading the Canadian.

THE LEAGUE IN CANADA.

Montreal, Dec. 5.—The weekly meeting of the League was held this evening. The following resolution was moved: "That this meeting has the fullest confidence in Mr. Parnell and his associates, to advance the interests of the Irish people, and that the Secretary be authorized to offer to furnish one of the ablest counsel of Canada to assist in the defense of the traversers at the coming State trials." The resolution was carried and the resolution was sent off. It was announced that $1,100 had been paid into the treasury and 700 new members were admitted. A meeting in support of the League will be held on Tuesday evening. Mr. Quin, advocate, was authorized to proceed to outlying towns of the Dominion for the purpose of establishing branches of the League.

DENOUNCING THE GOVERNMENT.

Winterford, Dec. 6.—At a land meeting yesterday Mr. Parnell denounced the Government as too weak to deal with the land subject. He said the Government hoped to crush the movement by depriving the people of their representatives. Parnell, however, now more than ever, is the tiler of the soil because of his work, and he is saying: "You are alive yet, and now, if he rejoiced in the success of Dr. McKay, he regretted that the Church, in interfering missionary enterprise in various parts of the world, had incurred a debt of $40,000. He urged the meeting to give (in the collection) not as if they were assisting some passing charity but in a way worthy of the cause."

A PULITZER REBURE.

Principal Grant made a few concluding remarks. He held that Christians were too cowardly and selfish and thoughtful of their comfort and respectability. They were not to be compared to the poor Formosa martyrs who willingly gave their lives for Christ, those whom he addressed deploring themselves.
