A Severe Voyage.

The steamers "Pierrepont" "Mand" left last evening about o'clock, heavily laden with shingles, lath, varnish, hay, and fish from Lake Huron. Upon the first-named boat was a steam pump, owned by Messrs. Calvin & Son, and weighing 2,300 lbs going to Seneca N. Y., for repairs. During the voyage the steamer rolled considerably. As the spray, which dashed over the vessel, was transformed into ice, walking on toe deck was diff cult. When the "Pierrepont" got within three miles of Cape Vincent the boat made a lurch and the big pump shifted. struck the gangway shutter and three-quarters overboard. The held it in position. The steamer was stopped and the "Mand" ran alongside her. The united crews worked for four hours in getting the pump back to where it was. The night was terribly cold The crews were completely iced over. None of them were affected seriously by the frost excepting Mr. Hopkins, the United States Customs' official, who had his ears nipped. The steamers reached Cape Vincent at about one o'clock this morning, unloaded, and arrived back about ten a.m. to-day. The to be guided and governed by rules ice was four inches thick at the Cape, which Mr. Walkem submitted but the "Pierrepont" opened up channel. Capt. Miller says he never out in such a cold night. He felt very sore, as his work as wheelsman was very laborious when pushing through ice. The "Maud" will probably now lay up. The "Pierrepont" may make another trip to the Cape.

Oldham Complimentary Concert We are glad to announce that a concert has been arranged for Professor Oldham. Few men in the community deserve better of the general public. While in health he gratuitously rendered valuable aid to almost every public charity. Although his time was fully occupied with his own pupils, to whom he always gave faithful attention, and with his duties as organist, he was never asked to assist at any concert or entertainment that he did not do so most willingly. Let the public on Monday night week show their appreciation of his past service and their sympathy with his sudden affliction by giving him a complimentary benefit in truth as well as in name. The committee who have the management of the concert are giving their best attention and energy to this labour of love. They have been the ice. ably seconded by all the best talent of the city, who will assist in the programme, and it only remains for our citizens to bestow their well deserved and liberal patronage.

It yielded at the rate of 100 gallons to the acre, and think with proper machinery and care ful cultivation the yield could be don bled. It is no more trouble to cultivate it than corn, and makes a syrup almost equal to maple. I intend planting about three acres next spring, and get the necessary machinery to manufacture it. I also raised mangold wurtzels and sugar beets at the rate of 1,000 bushels to the acre. Sugar beets car not be grown for $5 a ton delivered at a factory, unless the distance to dray them would be very short. If any of our capitalists think of going into beet root sugar manufacturing they will have to build the factory in the middle of the beet field, or pay about $7 a ton for beets delivered, where the distance to hanl would be over seven miles."
