Quinte to Lake Ontario, at Weller's Bay .-In the year 1826, Major General Sir Car. michael Smith, Bart., wrote a report to the Duke of Wellington, on the defences of the North American provinces. This report was made " for the use and convenience of official people only," and it contains a review of the battles fought during the American Revolution and the war of 1812, with clever criticism on each engagement. It: there laid down as a first principle, that the defence of Upper Canada to the head Lake ()ntario, depends almost solely upon

And we have seen in the events now passing the United States, that when the naval and I land forces can be brought to act together, victory has rested with that combination Kingston has great facilities for building and sending out vessels of war, and ought to be the chief naval station on the Lake,and Sir Carmichael Smith says that 'there
