HEAT KILLS SEVENTY.

Morgues and Hospitals Filled With Victims.

New York, July 19.—Over seventy people were killed by the heat in this city and vicinity yesterday and there are nearly as many more again in the hospitals, many of whom will succumb.

Over half of the fatalities were among babies and little children and there are now about forty bodies of the little ones lying at the morgue at Bellevue.

In the early morning the sun began its deadly work and before the day had gotten fairly well started the hospitals were busy.

On the streets the temperature ranged from ninety-three to 105 and the official record from the weather bureau, high above ground, was ninety-four degrees shortly before five o'clock last night.

One death was from an attempt at suicide made while the subject was crazed with the heat. Many little children were badly hurt from falls from fire escapes, onto which they had crawled for relief from the oppressive weather.

Quaker City Hospitals Full.

Philadelphia, July 19.—The excessive heat yesterday caused the death of six persons in this city and two in Camden, N.J. Up to a late hour last night forty cases of prostration were treated at the various hospitals.

Europe Also Suffers.

London, July 19. Torrid heat, continues throughout Europe. The mercury indicated eighty-five degrees in the shade yesterday in London. The hospitals were busy caring for victims of heat prostrations, nine fatal cases reported. Laborers were obliged to knock off work during the hottest hours of the day.

Police Court Tips.

At the police court this morning Mrs. C. A. Sullivan, Brock street, was charged with obstructing bailiff Smythe in the discharge of his duty. The case was enlarged for one day. George Turcotte was charged with assaulting a lad named Willie Moore. After hearing the evidence the magistrate dismissed the charge, which was the outcome of a case tried in the police court this week, in which young Moore was fined for using abusive language.

British Consul Fatally Stabbed.

Lorenzo Marques, July 18.—Mr. MacMaster, the British consul at Beira, has been fatally stabbed. It is stated that his assailant was an American who came from Mashonaland.

No details of the affair have been received here.

To See The City Hall.

American tourists are beginning to pay their customary visits to the city hall to view the picture gallery and try on the mayor's gold chain. Every young lady trying on this chain is supposed to forfeit a kiss to one of the bachelor city officials.

The Faith Growing.

Mr. Sharp, a prominent London baritone singer, is visiting in the city. He is a christian scientist and at their meeting last night spoke very entertainingly of his travels and how the science was growing in Paris and different places in Germany.

Job Going Ahead.

Henry Smith, architect, went down to Cushendall to-day to superintend some work on the new vestry being built to the Roman Catholic church there. The job is progressing rapidly.

Alterations to the main door of the city hall are about completed.

A DEFIANCE TO WORLD

Millions Of Chinese So Committed Themselves.

WON'T BOTHER ABOUT IT.

WITHDRAWAL OF MINISTERS FROM FOREIGN CAPITALS.

Prince Tuan Would Not Worry if the Representatives Abroad Were Sacrificed by the Powers in Revenge For the Fate of the Ministers at Pekin.

London, July 19.—While it is untrue that any formal declaration of war has been made by China against Russia, it is accepted as a fact by all the European powers that many millions of Chinese have committed themselves to defiance of the western world. It is the consensus of diplomatic opinion that the only reason that the first aggression was against Russia was that she was the only power whose territory was contiguous to that of China. It is hardly expected that China will pretend to make her war-like policy regular by withdrawing her ministers from the foreign capitals. A nation which descends to the roll of savages by such conduct as that of the Chinese at Pekin will scarcely bother with such trivial formalities. Those who know China suggest that prince Tuan probably believes that the Chinese representatives abroad have been sacrificed by the powers in revenge for the fate of their ministers at Pekin. Such action, it is pointed out, would be a matter of indifference to prince Tuan, because the Chinese diplomatists abroad nearly all belong to the party opposed to him. Each day's developments increase the European conception of the magnitude of the task which civilization has before it.

Enquiries in England and Germany disclose the fact that a large output of rifle factories of those countries have been going to China for the last four years. There is evidence that China possesses 900,000 modern rifles, but the makers of these arms have never given a hint of that fact to the respective governments against which they will be used.

It is uncertain how along the powers will keep up the pretentions that there is no war with China, and continue to harbor the Chinese representatives. Germany's refusal to allow them to continue their communications with China will probably be adopted by the other powers. The only effective means to accomplish this end, however, will be to stop all cipher telegrams to China, for it is easy for the ministers to communicate through other persons as they are known to have been doing for the last two weeks.

The Capture Denied.

St. Petersburg, July 19.—The report that the town of Blagovetchensk, the capital of Amoor district, has been captured by the Chinese, and which emanated from officials of ministry of communications, is now emphatically denied by the general staff. An unofficial telegram from Irtusk, dated July 17th, states that the Chinese had been bombarding the town for two days from Aigun, which is across the river from Blagovetchensk, but does not mention the capture of the place. On the other hand it transmits a report that the Russians have captured Aigun.

Officials here who consent to discuss the situation emphatically deny that the government has altered its attitude or that it regards itself with being at war with China. Such a declaration of war as that made by the local commander at Aigun could not be regarded as formal. There was no evidence that it was authorized. These officials declare that Russia is indifferent as to what rebels and usurpers, such as prince Tuan, did; she would not, however, allow acts of violence against herself to go unpunished.

If it once became known with certainty that government has ceased to exist in China, then every soldier and warship ought to be disarmed or ranked as a brigand or pirate.

It is understood that Russia has forbidden the free use of the telegraph to the Chinese minister and requires that all his messages be revised by the foreign office.

Foreigners At Pekin.

London, July 19. A despatch to the Central News from Shanghai, of yesterday's date, says Mr Warren, the British consul, has received a telegram from W. R. Carles, the British consul at Tien Tsin, which states a Japanese messenger who left Pekin on June 16th, reports that prince Tuan's troops were then bombarding the British legation with krupp guns. Mr Warren prefaced his telegram with the statement that he could not see the slightest reason for hoping that the foreigners in Pekin were still alive.

An official telegram from Tokio, received in London, says a courier who arrived at Tien Tsin on July 12th from Pekin, expressed the fear, which was entertained by the foreign minister, that it would be impossible to secure provisions after July 1st. He also brought a letter from the Japanese minister, which stated the legations were being bombarded daily and a massacre of foreigners was eminent. The request was expressed that early relief should be sent at once.

A Japanese despatch from Tokio says the Japanese government has received a despatch from its consul at Shanghai, of the date of July 13th, which says that two the legations at Pekin were standing on July 6th; that night the foreign force attacked prince Tuan's barracks and killed and wounded 100 Chinese.

War Tidings.

The sale of arms in the Shanghai settlement is prohibited.

Russia has addressed a note to the powers declaring that she never desired to prevent action by Japan for the re-establishment of order in China.

The Japanese consul at Hango telegraphs, under date of July 13th, that the Boxers have destroyed the London and Catholic missions at Hong Chow, killing three foreigners.

Russia is prepared for great military operations in Manchuria against Pekin.

The Russian war office has informed the press that the international forces in China will number from 70,000 to 80,000 by the middle of August.

The statement that dissentions prevailed between the commanders of the allied forces is unfounded; on the contrary there has been the greatest cordiality.

GALLANT CANADIANS.

Tribute to Lieuts. Borden and Birch From Roberts.

London, July 18.—In a despatch dated to-day lord Roberts pays a tribute to Lieuts. Borden and Birch. He says: "They were killed while gallantly leading their men in a critical juncture of their assault on one position. Borden was twice brought to my notice in despatches for gallant and intrepid conduct."

The name of Lieut. Birch is not in the official lists of any of the Canadian regiments, but it is possible that an officer of that name belonging to another corps has been attached to the mounted rifles.

Drove The Boers Away.

Pretoria, July 18.—Gen. Ian Hamilton entered the Bush veldt, north of Pretoria, yesterday, and drove the Boers before him. Some of the burghers scattered to the east, and others to the west. They will probably join the commandos which are threatening Pretoria and the Springs. Women whose husbands are absent and who are unable to support themselves are being sent away from the capital.

The Bill Prepared.

Cape Town, July 18.—The bill for the trial of rebels prepared for submission to the Cape parliament imposes no penalties outside the present laws which perpetually disenfranchises those convicted of treason, if they are condemned by the higher tribunal, while those convicted by the lower tribunal are only disenfranchised for five years. The attorney-general decides on the tribunals before which the accused will be prosecuted. He enjoys the confidence of the people and everyone believes he will use his discretion fairly.

Parliament Prorogued.

Ottawa, July 18.—Prorogation of the fifth session of the eighth parliament today was in the usual form of that ceremony. The governor-general arrived shortly after three o'clock, accompanied by a body guard of the Princess Louise Dragoons. A guard of Foot Guards received him at the buildings, and a salute was fired from Nepean point by the field battery. On his arrival at the senate chamber, attended by major Drummond, Capt. Graham and Capt. Mahan, the commons was summoned and entered, led by speaker Bain in his robes of office. The bills were assented to and the speech from the throne read by lord Minto, after which the session was declared at an end.

The difficulty over the election bill was removed by the senate's withdrawal of their amendments as to the north west territories and Prince Edward Island, and the passage through both houses to-day of a bill providing for a scrutiny of a high court judge of the island within twenty days of the publication of the return. This is an improvement on the senate's amendment, by preventing the opportunity of the two proceedings (a scrutiny and protest being carried on separately, and by holding the scrutiny before a high court judge, whose decision is appealable, instead of before a county court judge without appeal.

May Settle There.

Ottawa, July 19. E. T. Holmes, Canadian immigration agent, is here in company with two German farmers from the Rhine Grand state as representatives of a large German colony in Kentucky, who are on their way to the north west to select homesteads. They are in the Kentucky colony some fifty families, all of whom will migrate to the good land of the Canadian west if their representatives report favorably upon it.

Drowned Near Carlton Island.

Watertown, N.Y., July 19. Archie Wylie, the fourteen-year-old son of James Wylie, a team of No. 2 fire company, Cape Vincent, N.Y., was drowned yesterday in the deep water near Carlton Island. Men have been working this afternoon grappling for the body, but the finding of it will be a difficult task, on account of the depth of the water.

International Shoot At Paris.

Paris, July 19. Expert marksmen of nearly all nations, including a score of noted American shots are entered in the international shooting tournament which opened here to-day. All classes of fire arms are embraced in the competition. The tourney which will continue until August 7th consists of twenty-four classes, for which there are nearly 10,000 prizes.

Strangled To Death.

Watertown, N.Y., July 19.—The two-year-old son of Clifford C. Rusman, Grove street, died Tuesday night from strangulation. The child was playing on the floor with the father, who saw him reach for something and place it in his mouth. In a moment he began to choke and strangle and before a physician could arrive the child was dead.

Offer A Trophy.

Quebec, July 19.—G. C. Scott, commander of the Quebec yacht club, has received a letter from the commander of the H.M.S. Crescent, offering a small bowl to be sailed for by yachts belonging to the club to be sailed under any conditions agreeable to the committee. The Goldsmiths and Silversmiths' company has been requested to forward the bowl.

GR. EDGAR BIRCH

Thought Not to Have Been Killed —Letter From Him.

Enquiries are being made as to the identity of "Lieut. Birch," reported killed in action north of Pretoria, on Tuesday. The only Birch serving in South Africa, according to the official list, is Edgar Birch, a gunner in "C" battery, R.C.A., and a son of Samuel Birch, of McKelvey & Birch, this city. The cablegram, however, says that Lieuts. Borden and Birch belonged to the mounted rifles and were killed while leading their men at a critical juncture. Young Birch did not belong to the rifles and it is held to be quite impossible that an artilleryman should be changed to a mounted rifleman and raised to the rank of lieutenant within a month.

Mr. Birch discredits the idea that it is his son. The father arranged with major Haslon, commanding "C" battery, to cable him if anything happened his son. He feels confident he would have received notification. Mrs Birch and family are spending the summer at Thousand Island park.

It was only yesterday that Mr. Birch received a letter from Edgar. The epistle was written a little over a month ago while the battery was proceeding from Mafeking to Pretoria. In it Gr. Birch told of the relief of Baden-Powell. The battle preceding it was very brief, and the fire was terrific while it lasted. The shells fell in scores all around them. But the Canadians soon became too much engrossed in working their own guns to pay the least attention to the shells that were bursting all around. Mr. Birch wrote that he could attribute the fact of their escape from annihilation to but two causes the intervention of Providence, and the soft state of the ground. The earth was so yielding that the shells sank deep in it as they fell, and, exploding there, did no more damage than to scatter earth in all directions.

Gr. Birch complained of the food dealt out to the men. They would be given a pound of dry flour, he said and would have to make what they could out of it. The only ingredients they had to mix with it was dirty water. It was a pretty hard menu to live on, especially when one had to make it himself over a chip fire on the ground. The nights, too, were extremely cold, and the days just as extremely hot.

HIT BY A TRAIN.

Fast Freight Ploughs Through the Throng, Killing Two.

Johnstown, Pa., July 19.—As the result of an accident which occurred at the Pennsylvania railroad station in this city yesterday, when a fast train plunged into a crowd of 2,700 people trying to board an excursion train bound for Altoona, five persons were injured, two of whom are dead, the life of a third and fourth is hanging in the balance, while the fifth is but slightly hurt.

It was the occasion of the annual outing of the A.O.U.W. and a crowd of over 2,700 persons had gathered to take excursion trains for Altoona.

The first section had just stopped in front of the depot and a general rush for the train was in progress when a fast freight dashed around the curve a short distance from the station.

A wild scene followed in the scramble for places of safety, but before all could get out of the way the freight train was upon them. The injured were removed to a hospital.

A. Barnard, Westmount, Montreal. She will go to Boston to see her mother, and will then return to Montreal.

Received A Terrific Shock.

Niagara Falls, Ont., July 19.—William Powley, a Grand Trunk fireman, met a terrible death yesterday. This was his half day off duty, and he was engaged in some gardening operations near the carborundum works. Becoming thirsty, he went into the works, and while standing near the reduction pots he placed his hand near some portion of the machinery and received the full 2,200 volts of electricity used to produce carborundum, a substitute for emery.

Powley was killed in an instant. He leaves a widow and six children. On Monday he just passed his examination for an engineer.
