LABOR BUREAU OPENED.

Secretary King Took Possession To-Day—Death Came Suddenly.

Ottawa, Ont., Aug. 20.—The government has leased the Mylton bank chambers for a tenure of years for the new labor bureau. Mr. King, secretary of the bureau and editor of Labor Gazette, took possession to-day. A large lot of desks and other office furniture has arrived and is being placed in the position in the different offices so as to commence the business of the bureau as soon as possible.

Mrs. Smith, Ottawa, an elderly lady, residing at 104½ Nepean street, died very suddenly yesterday morning as the result of a blood vessel bursting.

Some Careless Shooting.

Barriefield, Aug. 20.—About six o'clock on Saturday evening, as two persons seated in a buggy were driving over Cataraqui bridge, they heard the report of a shot fired in the direction of the military college grounds. Simultaneously a bullet struck the railing of the bridge a few feet from where they were. During the thunderstorm Saturday evening Willie Saulsbury, Barriefield, stepped into Mr. McRae's store out of the storm just as the lightning cut the flagstaff, a fortunate escape. Miss Maud Hutton, training as nurse in Lowell hospital, is home for a month's holidays. Miss Gillespie, after spending a month at home, returned to Brooklyn hospital on Monday. Visitors: Miss Dingly, Quebec, at Miss Pugh's; Miss Pringle and brother, at their aunt, Miss Crozier's; Miss Eckard, Buffalo, at Mrs. H. Eckard's; Mrs. Crocker, Buffalo, and Mrs. and Miss Dyer, at Mrs. J. Morgan's; Mrs. and Miss Waggoner, Rochester, at Mrs. J. D. Baxter's; Mrs. St. Clair, Utica, at her mother's, Mrs. Saulsbury. Barrett brothers have commenced threshing at J. B. Baxter's. Schools open to-day.

Steam Yacht And Skiff Collide.

A skiff sailed by John Marsh, of Sears', hardware store, and two others, was nearly run down by a steam yacht in the harbor yesterday afternoon. The wind was very strong about four o'clock, and the skiff was making for Moores' elevator. The steam yacht came along, but it was impossible for the skiff to change her coupse to get out of the way. Mr. Marsh shouted to the yacht wheelsman that he would run the skiff down if he was not careful, but no attention was paid to the call. The yacht struck the skiff and knocked the latter's stem out, nearly capsizing her. The steam yacht went straight on without finding out the extent of the injury inflicted upon the skiff.

The 14th regimental bugle band has re-organized and will practice twice a week now until after labor day. They will take part in the labor day demonstration.

During a panic at the Paris exposition on Saturday two persons were killed and twenty-eight injured.

Many bicyclists from the city spent yesterday at Collins Bay, returning in the cool of the evening.

The new census gives New York a population of nearly three and a half millions.

MAKING A LAST STAND

The Allied Troops Surround the Inner City.

VERY CONFUSING REPORTS.

WHEREABOUTS OF THE DOWAGER EMPRESS UNCERTAIN.

The Chinese Say the Empress Fled—American Troops Enter the Legation Grounds—Is the Empress Still in Pekin.

London, Aug. 18.—The admiralty this evening issued the following despatch from rear-admiral Bruce:

"Che Foo, Aug. 18th, 1.30 p.m.—I am informed on the authority of the Japanese that street fighting continues in Pekin, part of which is on fire. Gen Yung Lu prevented the empress from leaving. A last stand is now being made in the inner city, which is surrounded by the allies and being bombarded."

The News At Washington.

Washington, Aug. 20.—The war office has received the following despatch from Gen. Chaffee:

"Pekin, Aug. 16.—We entered legation grounds at five o'clock last night with 14th and light battery. Eight wounded, during day's fighting, otherwise all well."

The navy department has received the following cablegram from admiral Remey:

"Taku, Aug. 18.—Telegraph line to Pekin interrupted. Information from Japanese sources says the princess dowager is detained by prince Yung Ede in inner city, which is being bombarded by allies. Chafee reports that he entered the legation ground on the evening of the 15th. He has eight wounded during the day's fighting. Otherwise all well."

Seeking Unity Of Powers.

Brussels, Aug. 20.—The Paris correspondent of Etoile Belge says it is reported that M. Delcasse, French minister of foreign affairs, is considering the question of proposing an international diplomatic conference, to be held in Paris, with the view to securing military and diplomatic unity between the powers in China.

Demands Severe Chastisement.

Cologne, Aug. 20.—The Gazette says the relief of the Pekin legations partially solves the Chinese question. The paper demands the severest chastisement of parties guilty of the murder of baron Von Kettler, the German minister, and maintains that a policy of terror is the only effective one in China.

Said To Have Fled.

London, Aug. 20.—A news agency despatch from Shanghai says that according to Chinese reports Japanese cavalry are pursuing the fleeing empress and her court. It is stated that 30,000 well armed troops are protecting the empress and her companion, who reached Wu Tai San, province of Shan Si, where there is a detached imperial palace.

Can This Be True?

Hong Kong, Aug. 20.—According to Chinese reports here a guard of honor received the allies upon their arrival at Pekin, and the dowager empress received the commanding officers at the gates of the city.

Chinese Troops Mutinied.

London, Aug. 20.—A Shanghai despatch to Dalziel's News agency, of Friday's date, says the British troops from India are being disembarked. The French proposed to land troops on Saturday. The situation along the Yang Tse, the correspondent says, is serious and especially Wu Chang.

Chang Shi Tung's troops mutinied, but the outbreak was quelled. A despatch from Shanghai says that M. Delcasse, the French consul general, states that 800 French marines have left Saigon for Shanghai and will be landed in the event of an emergency.

Li Hung Chang addressed a humble petition to all the powers, begging them to stop the international troops from entering Peking as their entry will alarm the empress and emperor and offend the four hundred million Chinese people. Lord Salisbury replied refusing all negotiations until the foreign ministers should have been escorted to Tien Tsin by the international detachments and the way thither kept free from Chinese soldiers. The other cabinets sent similar answers.

A despatch to the Central News from Shanghai says that Bombay infantry have landed and gone into camp. The remainder of Indian troops are still aboard the transport of Woo Sung. They will be landed gradually so as not to alarm the Chinese.

Powers Is Convicted.

Georgetown, Ky., Aug. 20.—Former secretary of state Caleb Powers, on trial for the past six weeks charged with complicity in the Goebel shooting, was found guilty and sentenced to life imprisonment. The jury was out only about forty-five minutes. Powers almost fainted when the verdict was rendered. Only one ballot was taken by the jury. It resulted unanimously in favor of life imprisonment. The jury which sat in the Powers case was composed of eight Goebel democrats, three anti-Goebel democrats and one republican.

Jacquelin Is Champion.

Paris, Aug. 20.—In the bicycle races at the Parc Des Princes, Auteuil, Sunday, the final for the title of champion of the world, three turns around the track, was won by Jacquelin. Time not given.

Travellers from Toronto are commenting freely upon the slow and deliberate pace of the Kingston letter carriers. They seem highly amused.

Pursuit races will be conducted at the fair grounds track to-night and to-morrow night by the young wheelmen who are practicing there.

WINNIPEG WAFTINGS.

Deaths From Heat Prostrations—Hon. Clifford Sifton to Tour.

Toronto, Aug. 20.—Benjamin Robertshaw, 34 Lappin avenue, fifty years of age, died at the Western hospital last evening from the effects of prostration from heat. He was taken into the hospital on Thursday.

Ten days ago James Shields, aged forty-nine, was prostrated from the excessive heat and he was taken to his home at 108 Rose avenue. Shortly afterwards lock-jaw developed and he was removed to St. Michael's hospital, where he lingered till Saturday. Death was due to prostration. Shields was unable to take any solid food and was kept alive by liquid nourishment.

Winnipeg's new water works, erected during the past year at a cost of $150,000, are in danger of falling down. The quick sand foundation has been sucked away by the pumps, and the large chimney, boiler and pumping house are sinking. An eminent authority in the east will be wired to come to the city as consulting engineer.

Andrew McMillan, a respected young farmer of McGregor district, died from injuries received while fastening a bull.

Hon. Clifford Sifton, minister of interior, will make a tour of the territories during the early part of September, speaking at Regina, on Sept. 6th, afterwards going through to Lethbridge and MacLeod. Returning he will speak at Maple Creek, Sept. 10th and at Moosejaw, Tuesday, Sept. 11th.

A FATHER'S BRUTALITY.

Knocked His Child Down and Set Mastiffs on Her.

New York, Aug. 20. James Carroll, a Long Island City contractor, is charged with first knocking his child down and then holding her while two dogs bit her on the head and arms.

The dogs, urged by the man, bit the little girl several times on the head and arms, she clung in terror to her father. According to the child the tighter she clung to her father the more he urged the dogs for a time to bite her. The screams of the little one frightened the man, and he released the wounded and bleeding girl, and she ran into the house and was taken by her mother to St. John's hospital, where her wounds were dressed and bandaged.

The child presented a pitiful sight when brought to court by the mother, and it was with difficulty that some of the attaches of the court could be prevented from assailing Carroll when they heard the story of his brutality.

COWBOY KING DEAD.

Wild Rider, Known Throughout the Land, Passes Away.

Washington, Aug. 20.—Buck Taylor, "King of the Cowboys," sergeant in the Rough Riders and devoted friend and admirer of governor Roosevelt, died of consumption Sunday, in the Providence hospital in this city.

Since he returned from Cuba with the Rough Riders his health has been poor, and for many months he has been a mere shadow of the stalwart athlete whose feats of horsemanship were once one of the chief attractions of Buffalo Bill's Wild West.

He went to Cabin John's Bridge, a suburban resort a few miles from Washington, Saturday night. He was taken ill and lay on the porch of the hotel gasping for breath when he was recognized. He was sent to the hospital, where he sank during the night.

CARS CRASH IN BROOKLYN.

Twenty Persons Injured by Smash-Up on Coney Island Line.

New York, Aug. 20.—Twenty persons were injured and great excitement was caused among the crowds returning from Coney Island at the transfer station, Thirty-Ninth street and Fifth avenue, Brooklyn, at half past ten o'clock Sunday night by the rear-end collision of two trolley cars of the Fifth avenue line filled with Sunday excursionists. The cause of the accident was the "losing of the trolley" on the car ahead from the wire above.

Roosevelt To Stump New York.

New York, Aug. 20.—Governor Roosevelt started to-day for a three weeks' campaign tour through this state. The trip is of his own suggestion and by dispensation of the republican committee, which had arranged that he should do all of his campaigning in the west. The governor thought, however, that New York, as a pivotal state, needed his attention, and asked that he be given time to go over the route which he covered in his campaign two years ago. When it is completed he will go west.

A Protest Lodged.

Protests have been lodged against the yacht race, held a week ago Saturday. Several yachtsmen claim that the buoy was not placed until after the starting gun was fired, and in consequence their yachts lay at anchor while others were beginning the race. Of the race committee only J. H. Macnee is in the city. J. Conway, F. Strange, A. Dalton and J. M. Mowat, the other members, are out of the city, so it is not likely the protest will be settled for some time.

Entombed Men Burned.

Mahanoy City, Pa., Aug. 18.—One of the rescuing parties to-day located the bodies of George and William Tompkiss and Charles Iritis, who were entombed Saturday in the burning Primrose colliery. The sixty mules which were in the mine when it was discovered on fire are also dead and were raised to the surface to-day. The fire is still burning fiercely.

Corpl. Johnson and constable O'Brien, of the north-west mounted police, were drowned on 11th inst. by the overturning of a canoe near Tagish.

On Saturday one of the street car conductors was exceedingly rude to an old lady passenger. He scarcely treated anyone civilly.

It is reported that lord Roberts will succeed lord Wolseley as commander-in-chief of the army.

DEWET STILL MOVEING

The Wily Boer Secured Some Information.

DEWET SENT FLAG OF TRUCE

FORTHCOMING TERMS ASKED BY KITCHENER.

Dewet Stood Not Upon the Hour of His Departure—Cordua Incrimnates a British Detective in Plot to Kill British Officers and Carry Off Roberts'

Pretoria, Aug. 19.—Lord Roberts has issued a proclamation, cancelling his previous order regarding the oaths of neutrality and passes. Hereafter no oaths will be taken or passes granted and all burghers will be regarded as prisoners of war. Houses in which armed Boers find shelter will be liable to be razed and farms used by the fighting burghers will be destroyed. Damage to the railways will be punished by fines and seizure of land.

The reason for this action is lack of appreciation shown by the Boers and their misuse of the leniency shown them, they taking advantage of it to show their resistance to the British and continued breaking of oath of neutrality, which the government of the Transvaal, it is said, has advised the burghers is not immoral.

Gen. Pagee has blown up with dynamite the pass at Hornett's Nek, ten miles from here. Yesterday he drove the Boers out of the surrounding district, killing four.

Col. Hoare, who was relieved by Kitchener, at Elands river, made a magnificent defence against the burghers, fighting from the cover of a ravine. There were fifty casualties, most of them being slight wounds.

Gen. Dewet has appeared north of Common Nek, twenty miles from here. He sent a flag of truce to Col. Baden-Powell, demanding his surrender. This however, was only a plan to discover the strength of the British force. Gen. Baden-Powell, seeing the ruse and hoping to detain Gen. Dewet, asked what terms would be given him if he surrendered. The messenger was equally sharp, and having learned the strength of the garrison, returned to Gen. Dewet, who at once resumed his march northward, without the formality of sending his terms to the British.

Lieut. Cordua, who is on trial for conspiring, with others, to kill British officers and abduct lord Roberts, made a long statement yesterday. He said that Gano, the British detective, had urged him to instigate the plot. Gano pretended to be "sick and tired" of British service and effected American ideas as opposed to those of the English. He told the prisoner that it was an easy matter to capture Pretoria, after the officers had been seized and the arsenal taken, furthermore he said, so the prisoner testified, such an act would stagger the British army. The prisoner consulted with his friends on the subject and all of them refused to join in the plot, except Dutoit and Melt Menais, who considered the matter over night, and the next morning refused to go into the scheme. After receiving these refusals Lieut Cordua testified that he returned to Gano and told him he objected to going any further in the affair. Gano again charged him to go on, and taunted him with cowardice. He said that if Americans were interested in such a scheme they would have carried it out long before then, instead of losing time thinking over it. Gano, the prisoner said, made him drink constantly and seemed to have control over him. Cordua swore that Gano instigated the entire plot and made all the plans. Lieut. Cordua, denied communication with Gen. Botha on the subject of the killing of officers and the abduction of lord Roberts. The prisoner detailed his excursion and capture outside the lines. He said that Gano, who pretended to act as a guide, supplied the party with revolvers and the British uniform which he wore. When they arrived at Silverton he discovered the Boer camp was quite a distance away. Cordua thought of his broken parole and wanted to return, but it was then too late. Prisoner's evidence was shaken on cross examination.

Detective Gano gave testimony rebutting the statements concerning him made by the prisoner. He denied that he originated the plot, but admitted that it was his suggestion that Cordua go to Silverton, by which act Cordua broke his parole. The court asked the witness his nationality and Gano replied that he was an American. He was attached to the British police force. Gano's testimony closed the evidence. Solicitor Berange, in his address to the court, admitted that the prisoner was guilty, but he asked for mercy. He declared that the prisoner was the victim of a cunningly laid trap, which appealed especially to his recent eccentric mind, he having been assiduously inflamed by drink supplied by Gano. The solicitor thanked the court for the privileges allowed the defendant. The counsel for the prosecution will address the court Monday.

Who Is Cordua?

London, Aug. 20.—A Pretoria despatch describes Cordua as a young German, who was naturalized a few years ago. As an official of the Pretoria museum and a volunteer officer of artillery, he was left in Pretoria last October by Gen. Botha, to hand over the Wonderboom forts to the British.

The Morning Post's Pretoria correspondent describes Cordua as a well-tailored young ruffian. He is bullet-headed, but not unpleasing facially. The correspondent adds that he never saw a cooler prisoner. The chief witness against him, Dutoit, is a soft-spoken slithery creature. He is a thoroughly slimy informer, and is generous with his information. He showed badly under the prisoner's cross-examination, every question leading to show his previous complicity in the plot.

NEW LAKE AND RIVER.

Rumbling Is Followed by Additions to the Scenery.

Santa Fe, N.M., Aug. 20.—A Pintada ranchman reports a phenomenon at Agua Negra, Guadalupe county. Tuesday night the inhabitants were awakened by a rumbling noise like that of an earthquake. Subsequent investigation revealed that several hundred acres of prairie had sunk about ten feet and the cavity had filled with water, although there had been no rainfall. In a few days the water had steeped through the ground and a subterranean river was discovered 500 feet below the surface.

Struck By A Train.

Fulton, N.Y., Aug. 20.—James Horan, aged forty-five years, and Peter Flannigan, fifty years old, both of Oswego, drove up Cayuga street Sunday as train No. 307, crossed at that point, and the collision resulting will cost the older man his life and probably the other. The buggy was struck fairly in the centre and pitched both out. Flannigan had his right arm cut off above the elbow and the right leg below the knee, and suffered scalp wounds. He will die. Horn suffered a fractured hip. They were removed to Oswego hospital and word from there says both will die. It is alleged that the crossing bell did not ring.

Seized A Courtroom.

Honolulu, Aug. 11, via San Francisco, Aug. 20.—United States judge M. Estee has arrived here and opened his court, and one of his first acts was to make an order seizing a courtroom for his own use, the local authorities not having provided him with one. The order created a great sensation among the legal fraternity. It has raised the point whether the United States or the territory of Hawaii is the owner of the public buildings here. The matter will have to be decided at Washington. Judge Estee is doing quite a large business in naturalizing citizens.

Was Being Kidnaped.

Albany, N.Y., Aug. 20.—Henry W. Heist, Elmira, and a woman named Mrs. Sigel, this city, were arrested on a charge of kidnapping. Heist is said to have lured ex-alderman Ebel, a very wealthy man, to a hotel, and preparations are said to have been made to remove him to a sanitarium at Elmira. The woman was a former employee of Mr. Ebel. Heist became frightened and informed the police and the arrests followed.

Death Of Mrs. Mary Dodds.

Watertown, N.Y., Aug. 20.—Mrs. Mary Dodds, wife of alderman Robert H. Dodds, died Sunday morning at her home, Cedar street, aged thirty-one years. She was the daughter of the late John Ryan, and had always resided in this city. Besides her husband she is survived by one small son. The funeral will be held Tuesday morning.

Want Alien Law Repealed.

Montreal, Aug. 20.—The federal labor council No. 9 met last night and discussed among other things Japanese immigration, and passed a resolution calling on the government to either enforce or repeal the alien labor law of the country. There were strong objections to laws being enacted and never enforced.

Poker Players Arrested.

Watertown, N.Y., Aug. 20.—A gambling room run by William Paddock on the third floor of the building on Arsenal street was raided by the police at four o'clock Sunday morning, and the proprietor of the room and four men were caught playing poker. They were taken to police headquarters and allowed to go on their own recognizance.

Committed Crime Here.

Watertown, N.Y., Aug. 20.—James Daly and "Ab" Mosher have been placed in the county jail here to serve time for stealing a boat belonging to a man in Clayton, this county. The crime was committed at Charleston lake, province of Ontario. It is the first instance on record of a crime committed in Canada being punished by imprisonment in the United States.

Her Own Arm Did It.

New York, Aug. 20.—Mrs. Catherine Boylan, Derby, Conn., was strangled to death by her own arm. She retired in excellent health and was found dead in her bed this morning. She lay on her right side, and it appears, from the position of her body, that as she turned over in bed her right arm became twisted about her throat, causing strangulation.
