The wind storm which arose during , the night was very fierce, and probably blew hardest about three or four o'clock this morning. It continued right into the afternoon, and was responsible for keeping away the rain which would have fallen had the wind gone down. Much damage was done by the big blow, and some anxiety will be felt for the small boats on the lakes. LEADERSHIP IN MILLINERY.

The Trimmed Millinery for this Fall will teach you better than ever before that we mean to hold the lead for style. we couldn't have such a varied stock and keep so many last busy fingers going if we didn't. You will get a good idea of what we can do by looking over the cases and tables. Pernew haps we can do better. We have the materials, some good lians, including the legation lades and fields where the heavyweights may meet lideas and experienced milliners who work quickly. Not a shop in town that can afford to be as price cheap as we and by F. Goodyear, still keep the quality end well balanced. All the new styles are here and many novelties. Our London representative keeps us well informed of new ideas in Millinery and fast trains and steamers bring them to us constantly. The fact is important. If we can furnish stylish hats and bonnets at lowest prices, keeping thoroughly in touch with the world of fashion, there is no limits to the trade we shall get in.
