WERE ACCUSED OF ROB. BING A TREASURY.

The Parties Have Since Proved Their Innocence-An Enquiry Will be Made and the Fullest Legal Punishment Indicted Upon Those Who Were Guilty of Demanding That the Fortures be indicted.

VIENNA, July 14 - Details of the torthree to which it is alleged that the local officiale at Moosa, Hungary, subjected men and women to extort confussions that they robbed the communal treasury, a charge clippings he had attached to his petimatter of any kind. of which they have since been proved innccant, have just been revealed. When the robbery was discovered the district judge ordered twelve arrests upon the most tri ing empicion. One of the prisoners, Stephen Kovace, upon declaring his innocence, was ordered to be tortured. His hands were tied bar ... arde to hie feet, and he was thrashed on the abdomen and the soles hie feet until the cane need was split. The judge then trampled on him with his spurred booter Kurge not confession under this treatment, some spirits on a plate were ignited under his swellen feet, and then the burning liquid was poured over them. The judge struck him about the ears until the unfortunate prisoner faint. ed. BROCKVILLE, July 14 -At a largely attended meeting of the preebytery of Brock. What ville a matter that engaged the serious consideration of the presbytery for some time and evoked much discussion was a petition presented in person by D. Crozier, a member of the Merrickville CONDENSED church, asking the presbytery to investigate certain rumors which connected his name with the death of the late pastor of that church, the Rev. Mr. Aston. In will be remembered that about the first of the year Mr. Crezier and Mr. Aston met in a hall at Merrickville. They had not been on friendly terms for rome time, and albercation arose, in the mideb which Mr. Acton was taken suddealy ill owing to the excitement of the occasion, and died a few days later without regaining consciousness. His last words were: "My heart is broken." Crozier came in for some criticism at the time, chiefly in the newspapers.
