MR. PRESTON SPEAKS. W. T. R. Preston, European emigration agent, has been heard from. name has been freely connected with the away by allowing adulterators the right West Elgin scandals by the conservative press. A telegram which he addressed to Mr. McNish, on his election, has been distorted, given a meaning it was never meant to convey, and made sport of by the humorists. The disposition has been to hold him guilty, without eviderce, of having conceived and directed the wrong doing of which Mr. McNish made confession on surrendering the seat. In Mr. Preston's absence little could be done, and because he was not present to deny the charges, the conservative press was not warranted in its criticisms.

Writing from London to the Mail he sharply reprobates it for its rabid attack upon him. He calls attention to the fact that the brief of the election lawyer is not always made up of gcspel truth, and this will be conceded by those who will remember the awful particulars to which the petitioner in the late Kingston case subecribed and which had to be abandoned at the trial.

Mr. Preston calls attention to two other facts: (1) That he was supposed to be wanted, as a witness in the Ontario case, that he was on the continent when the free of those influences that have been charged against Mr. Preston, and in view licly assailed, he is justified in demanding that he be called to account and given an opportunity to vindicate himself.

It has been insinuated that he is conveniently absent from the scene of his former labours. He did not seek his presauthority. The government deemed him the best fitted man for the duties of it and pressed the appointment upon him. But defend and he is ready for examination, and invites it. No man ought to be condemned on inference or suspicion. He is
