SAFE ROBBER SUMMERS

A Former Detective and Escaped Convict.

HE MAKES RESTITUTION, AND IS AGAIN BEHIND THE BARS.

The Express Company "Get All That's A-Coming to Them"—Summers Walked a Long Way to Surrender Himself—Does Not Wish to Be Hounded Any Longer for His Wrong Deeds.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Sept. 18.—Charles O. Summers, formerly a detective, an escaped convict from the Mississippi penitentiary, a gold hunter of the Klondyke, and a man with a conscience, is again in prison walls in Mississippi. He journeyed all the way from Dawson City, Alaska, to New York and from New York to Memphis, from Memphis to Jackson, Miss., to surrender himself as a safe robber.

Summers arrived in Memphis Thursday and called on superintendent G. W. Agee, of the Southern express company at his office. Summers said he was tired of liberty that does not mean freedom. Even in the Klondyke he had no peace of mind. He thought of going to China, but his conscience led him back to Mississippi.

When he walked into Mr. Agee's office he was prepared not only to declare his repentance, but to make restitution. He turned over to Mr. Agee $1,500 in cash to cover the amount of his indebtedness to the Southern express company, even including the company's expenses of pursuing him. He said that he would also reimburse the state of Mississippi for the expense of bringing him back from California, which he did promptly upon reaching Jackson.

Mr. Agee told Summers he would trust him to go to Jackson unattended and he would leave when he got ready. Summers left Memphis and superintendent Agee received a telegram dated at Jackson containing the simple words, "Have arrived," and signed "Charles O. Summers."

When Summers reached New York from San Francisco, having gone from Dawson City to that place, he wrote to governor McLaughlin, of Mississippi. His feelings during the years in which he was a fugitive and an exile are expressed in this letter. He desires to serve out his sentence, make reparation for the wrong and go forth into the world a man not hounded by his fellowmen.

A special from Jackson says there is already a strong and growing sentiment for the pardon of the returned convict.

LONDON EXPECTS THE WORST.

Distant Answer of Transvaal Can Have But One Result. LONDON, Sept. 18.—The reply of the Transvaal government to Mr. Chamberlain's latest note is said to cover nine pages. It is eminently of the "negative and inclusive" character which Mr. Chamberlain declared would compel the imperial government to consider the situation afresh.

It practically repudiates unreservedly, reverts to the seven years' franchise and declines to give equality to the Dutch and English languages in the volksraad. In short, it is politely negative and defiant. The full text may not be available for a day or two, but it will not change the aspect of affairs. The cabinet will probably meet on Wednesday or Thursday to consider the next step.

The Morning Post says: "The Boers mean to fight. That is the plain English of it."

The Standard says: "The Transvaal note is unsatisfactory and, indeed, a dangerous composition. It might be going too far to say that the last hope of peace has vanished or that diplomacy has said its final word, but it is idle to deny that the rulers of the Transvaal have broken their country very close to the brink of a disaster which the government has done its best to avert."

The Daily Mail says: "President Kruger's defiance has terminated a long period of unrest and uncertainty in South Africa, for, whatever may be the issue of the present situation, one thing is certain—that dualism in South Africa will not forever."

The Daily Chronicle says: "We regret that the Boers by rejecting a fair offer made in fair language have taken a line giving fresh point to the argument of their enemies that president Kruger is a shifty and impracticable politician, fit only to be spoken of across a line of bayonets."

These extracts fairly represent press opinion in London. All the papers characterize the attempt to represent Conyngham Greening as suggesting the Transvaal's former proposals as more shifty tergiversation.

The Pretoria correspondent of the Morning Post, in his summary of the Transvaal reply, says the Transvaal repudiates unreservedly and the right of interference and denies that either state attorney Smith or the government offered a five years' franchise otherwise than on Conyngham Greening's assurance that the imperial government would withdraw its claim of a right to interfere in the Transvaal's internal affairs. The correspondent adds: "Therapy anticipates a final alternative of a British note by saying that further suggestions on the lines indicated are in vain."

The Cape Town correspondent of the Daily Mail says: "Africa's hand is stretched to have information that president Chamberlain has intervened between Great Britain and the Transvaal. Sir Alfred Milner, British high commissioner, in reply to a correspondent who had requested information regarding the position of British subjects in the Orange Free State in the event of hostilities, has replied that he is unaware of anything in the relations between the imperial government and the Orange Free State which would justify hostile action on the latter's part and expressed the opinion that it would be equally contrary to international law to order our British subjects against the queen's soldiers or to seize them in such a manner as to be free of a corresponding number of burghers for service against her majesty's troops."

This is a most opportune pronouncement, as the Orange Free State purposes compelling British subjects to guard the Beaufort border.

All the despatches from South Africa this morning talk of the imminence of hostilities and the preparations for them. In Johannesburg it seems to be taken for granted that the Orange Free State has approved president Kruger's note and promised active assistance in the event of war.

An official telegram, posted at Volksrust, says that the Transvaal, with the assent of the Orange Free State, repudiates British suzerainty and adheres to the seven years' franchise.

At Cape Town it is reported that Mr. Hofmeyer, the Afrikaner leader, sent communications to president Steyn, of the Orange Free State, entreating him to do his utmost to preserve peace, but that he received in answer the words, "Too late."

All military men agree that it is one of the questions to begin hostile operations before the middle of next month, no rain having fallen and the veldt being still bare.

It is supposed that the next more contemplated route is an appeal to the powers, begging them to recommend arbitration on the lines of the conference at the Hague.

A despatch from Charleston says the wildest rumors are current there, and that great alarm is felt owing to the unreported state of the town, especially as Boer signaling is plainly visible on the adjacent mountains.

IS THE ONLY METHOD.

Wireless Telegraphy May Be Used in the St. Lawrence.

WHICH WILL FIT THE CASE. SOLVES THE PROBLEM OF COMMUNICATING WITH BELLE ISLE.

So Government Officials Think—Mr. Moo's Has Designed a Roller Boat and a Fine Model—A Rat Forgive Butcher Will Seek a Divorce From the Senate—Other Capital Notes.

OTTAWA, Sept. 18.—It is expected that the extension of the gulf telegraph system to the straits of Belle Isle will shortly be effected. At present the line of the north shore of the gulf of St. Lawrence extends from Murray Bay to Big Lacrosse, a distance of 500 miles. The stretch between Big Lacrosse and Chateau Bay on the straits of Belle Isle is 315 miles, and the contract for the construction of the telegraph line between these points has been let to Lavier Gaudreau, of Quebec. The telegraph poles which are now being laid along the route were supplied by C. J. Bickardie, of Montreal. Chateau Bay is the nearest point on the Labrador coast to Belle Isle, the light station at the "front door" of the St. Lawrence, which station it is intended to connect with the government signal service. But the experts are as yet undecided how the connection shall be made. Of course a cable could easily be laid from Chateau Bay to Belle Isle, but the grinding of the immense masses of ice which pass through the straits in spring would make short work of a cable. The only alternative, therefore, seems to be the adoption of a scheme of wireless telegraphy and the experts of the public works department are eagerly following the results of experiments now being made in Europe, with a view to adopting wireless telegraphy as a means of connecting Belle Isle with the coastland system.

Graham Moon, of the postoffice department, Ottawa, is going to build a roller boat. He has studied the defects of the Knapp cylinder and has all but perfected a roller boat on unique lines. About all that one can learn of his improvements is that he utilizes the resistance of the water, which Mr. Knapp found such an inconvenience. Mr. Moon has a model of his boat, twenty-four feet long and ten feet in diameter.

The Canada Gazette announces that Gustavus Adolphus Kobold, of the town of Rat Portage in the Rainy River district, butcher, will apply to parliament at the next session, for a bill of divorce from his wife, Nellie Woodbury Kobold, formerly of the said town of Rat Portage, now of the state of California, on the ground of adultery.

Allen, The Robber, Caught. BERLIN, Sept. 18.—Charles Allen, the post office robber who escaped from Ludlow street jail, New York, in July, 1895, has been arrested at Frankfurt. He was in company with Sidney Wennis, another American criminal, who was also arrested.

New York, Sept. 18.—Charles Allen, Joseph Killoran and Henry Russell, accused of many post office robberies, escaped from Ludlow street jail on July 4th, 1895, by surprising the keepers, overpowering them and taking their keys. Russell was caught by the authorities in Belgium a few months after his escape, and on April 2nd, 1896, was sentenced to five years' imprisonment for robbery. Killoran and Allen were not traced. There is a post office inspector now in Europe who may take charge of Allen if he is to be brought to this country.

An Historic Palace Demolished. PARIS, Sept. 18.—Another historic building in Paris is soon to be numbered among the things that were. This was brought home to Parisians Thursday by the display on the walls of a garden in the Rue Lafayette of an immense sign board bearing the words, "Demolition of the former palace of Queen Hortense (habitation of baron Salomon de Rothschild, 17 Rue Lafayette). For sale. Handsome wood carvings, sculptures, chimney pieces, paintings, grilles, statues in bronze, mirrors, mosaics in ancient and modern style and materials of all sorts. Apply at chandler de depot of Caet & Rosard." The palace, with its magnificent park and garden, was, it is stated, recently sold by baron Salomon de Rothschild for $3,300,000.

The First Endoanper Dead. PORTLAND, Me., Sept. 18.—The death on Thursday of William H. Pennell, the first signer of the original christian endeavor pledge drawn by Dr. Clark, was not unexpected. He was present at the signing of the 110 29th regimental association some weeks ago, and after that was at Old Orchard. The news of the death of the first of the great army of christian endeavorers will be received with general regret. The state convention held here last week sent a special message of love and christian sympathy to him.

Class Combats. FITZBURGH, Sept. 18.—James A. Chamberlain, president of the American glass company, is authority for the statement that a glass combine has been finally effected. The new company will take in fifty of the largest concerns in the country, their aggregate capacity being about 2,000 tons. It is said to have only about 500 tons outside of the combination. The new company will bear the old name, "American Glass Company," and will be capitalized at $17,000,000.

The Tricky Chinese. BERLIN, Sept. 18.—The Cologne Volks Zeitung prints a despatch from Shan Tung, which reports a serious condition of affairs in the Hinterland. The German minister of Peking has not received telegrams from there, as the Chinese government has intercepted them. The German mission at Shan Tung is reported to have been established, and a rail-road communication is only possible with a strong military escort.

Mr. Sherman, U.S. Senator. TORONTO, Sept. 18.—George H. Sherman, M.P., has gone to New York to consult eminent physicians regarding his health. He was laid up for some weeks with an attack of neuritis in his shoulder and arm, the result of a surgical operation performed early in the summer.

Boat's Harbor Is Impregnable. BOSTON, Sept. 18.—Gen. Merritt, in an interview before he left Boston, said: "Boston harbor, in case of attack by a hostile fleet," will certainly be the most superbly defended place in the United States. It will be simply impregnable, and as nearly perfect, so far as fortifications are concerned, as it is possible to make it."

DREYFUS VERY WEAK.

Wrapped in Blankets To Keep His Wasted Body Warm.

PARIS, Sept. 18.—It appears now that Dreyfus' health has deteriorated in an alarming manner since the verdict of the court-martial was rendered. Yesterday three woolen waistcoats were not sufficient to keep his wasted body warm and his guardians were compelled to wrap him up in blankets to stop his fits of shivering.

Dreyfus, in spite of his physical weakness, apparently maintains his mental serenity, and displays astounding courage and calmness in his wife's presence evidently for the purpose of cheering her up, although really himself enduring untold agony over the knowledge that his hopes for the restoration of his good name have been shattered.

Dreyfus will be released Tuesday, and thereafter will be at liberty to pursue, as a free man, the vindication of his honor which pardon can give. The court of cassation will then be open to him for quashing the Rennes verdict as soon as the necessary facts for demonstrating his innocence have been collected. The prisoner himself is unable as yet to declare his intention in this respect, but his family and friends, in announcing the withdrawal of the appeal to the military court of revision at the request of the government, affirm their purpose never to rest until the rehabilitation of the injured man is complete.

ROCKAWAY BEACH FIRE SWEEP.

Two and a Half Blocks of Summer Buildings Burned. NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—Two and a half blocks of summer hotels, bathing pavilions, dancing pavilions, seaside theatres and smaller buildings went up in flame and smoke early Sunday morning on the ocean front at Holland's Station, Rockaway Beach. Two men were badly injured, one probably fatally, by jumping from a blazing roof. Other exciting incidents of the fire and a half hour blaze were the reported loss of a bag containing several thousand dollars' worth of jewelry and the carrying of 140 inmates from St. Mary's home for crippled children. It was the barking of a prowling dog that aroused the cottagers.

Physician Shot Dead. WILLIAMSON, W. V., Sept. 18.—Friday night at Jaeger, a small village forty miles east of here, Dr. C. K. Harris, one of the best-known young physicians in this region, was assassinated. He was going to bed when A. J. Mann, living near by, stole up in front of the house and shot through a window at him. Harris dropped dead with a bullet hole through his heart.

Mann fled, but was captured, and is now in jail at Welch. Several months ago Mann made an insulting remark about Harris' wife, who is Mann's stepdaughter. A quarrel ensued and ill-feeling has existed since. This is presumably the cause of the assassination.

Fires are High. NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—Speculators declare that the price of seats for the Dewey land parade will be higher than are now quoted, despite the fact that almost fabulous prices are being paid for windows and small rooms on the line of the parade. This is especially true of Fifth avenue, where it will cost a party of six upward of $100 to witness the demonstration from a private window.

New Ball League is Formed. CHICAGO, Sept. 18.—A new baseball league, whose circuit include cities in both the national and western leagues and which will be known as the American association of baseball clubs, was formed here. The circuit as decided on will include St. Louis, Milwaukee, Detroit and Chicago in the west and Baltimore, New York, Philadelphia and Washington in the east.

Alger Out Of The Race. DETROIT, Sept. 18.—Gen. Russell A. Alger will not be a candidate for the United States senate. In a letter addressed to state oil inspector Judson, head of the Michigan state machine, he announces his final decision to withdraw from the contest with senator McMillan, leaving him an unobstructed field so far as Gen. Alger is concerned.

A Verdict Of Guilty. LONDON, Sept. 18.—The jury in the case of W. S. Carmichael, secretary of Lipton's limited (the company of which Sir Thomas Lipton is the head), indicted because the company had in its possession a quantity of bad fruit and jam, returned a verdict of guilty. The penalty is a fine of £50 or two months' imprisonment.

Fugitive Turns Franchiser. BOSTON, Sept. 18.—Bob Green, a prize fighter known as the "Black Spider," preached a trial sermon at the Calvary Baptist church last night. Green quit the prize ring two years ago. Last night's effort was to secure a license to preach, which will probably be granted to him. He spoke on "Repentance."

Boys Killed. ST. MARY'S, Ont., Sept. 18.—Two boys, Richard Robbins, aged twelve, and Charles Hunt, aged fifteen, both of Bradford, were killed Friday night in a rear end collision between two freight trains. The engine and several cars of the rear train were destroyed.
