A CLASH QUITE LIKELY. The Boers And Burgers Pouring Into Natal. HOW THEY INTEND TO ACT. COL. BADEN-POWELL SENDS HIS FORCES FORWARD.

The Boers are anxious to secure strategic points and thus cut off the reinforcements of the British—On the line in the ability of the Imperial Troops to Defeat the Boers is increasing. LONDON, Oct. 13.—A special despatch from Ladysmith, Natal, says that the Boers occupied Lang's Nek the moment the ultimatum expired and are now pouring into Natal. Iogogo Heights have been occupied.

The Orange Free State burghers have entered Natal by way of Van Rensselaers Pass. It seems improbable, therefore, that the clash between the forces of British and the Boers can long be delayed, if indeed, it has not occurred already. The Free State burghers, according to a private message, have crossed the Orange river into Cape Colony and occupy Philippa town. Their object, it is supposed, is to cut the railway at De Aar Junction, which is considered an important strategic point.

Feeling At Making. MAKERING, Oct. 12.—Half a battery of artillery from Kimberley has just arrived. The police at the outlying stations have been ordered to concentrate within the town limits. No one is allowed to leave either by road or train without special permission, which is not granted to any able-bodied male. Nearly all the women and children have left. Confidence in their ability to repulse the Boers is increasing among the British.

No Need For Alarm. LONDON, Oct. 13.—The situation of Natal need cause no undue alarm. The forces in the vicinity of Glencoe is sufficient to stop any serious invasion. It consists of five battalions of infantry, and a force of about 500 volunteers. Some 6,500 men, with eighteen guns are available to deal with any Boer incursions. It may be difficult to stop them destroying the line between Glencoe and the frontier, as it would not be prudent to push the troops now available so far.

Advices from Ladysmith yesterday afternoon state that 4,000 Boers crossed Lang's Nek pass and entered Natal yesterday. They took possession of Charlstown and Iogogo without resistance.

Injured In A Runaway. BROCKVILLE, Oct. 13.—T. J. Storey, manager of the Canada carriage company, together with his wife and sister, Mrs. Helen Ganacow, were driving behind a new team of horses which became unmanageable and ran away. The team ran madly down a steep hill leading to the river. Mrs. Storey jumped from the rig and sustained very serious internal injuries. She was unconscious when picked up. When within a few feet of the water the horses veered into a stone wall. Mrs. Storey was badly hurt in the crash, and Mr. Storey had his collar bone broken. The coachman was also hurt.

FOUR MET THEIR DEATH. Fast Train Killed Father And Three Children. MOTHER STOOD NEAR TRACK. CHILDREN LAUGHING AND PLAYING IN A BIG WAGON.

She Hurried to the Scene With the Crowd, Not Knowing What Had Happened—When Told It Was Her Family Who Had Been Killed She Went Mad—She is Now Under a Physician's Care. RIVERSIDE, N.J., Oct. 13.—In a grade crossing accident yesterday afternoon Frederick George, forty years old, and his three children, Freds, Maggie and Lena, respectively seven, six and four years old, were killed.

When the father, who was driving, approached Lippincott's crossing, on the Amherst branch of the Pennsylvania road, the children were laughing and playing in the big wagon. George saw a long freight train puffing slowly toward the crossing and started to cross, being confident that he would escape it. So intent was he in watching the freight train that he did not notice a passenger train coming swiftly in the opposite direction. The engine struck the wagon in the middle, hurling George on the track directly in front of the freight train, which cut his body in twain. The three children were thrown in the air amid the fragments of the wagon and fell dying or dead beside the track. All the bodies were badly mutilated.

AGAIN NO RACE. Not a Breath of Wind—The Fog Was Very Thick. NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—For the sixth time the race between the Shamrock and the Columbia was declared off at noon today. From early morning the indications were altogether against a contest. There was less wind today than at any other time since the races commenced. At eight o'clock there was so heavy fog and it was impossible to see any distance ahead. The sea was so smooth as glass. Excursion steamers surrounded the yacht which were at anchor. At one time a little stirred, but it died out again. The yachts did not move from their anchorage on account of the fog, and at noon the race was declared off.

Baron Thomas Farrer Dead. LONDON, Oct. 13.—When the cabinet met at noon today it was evident the Boer advance was in full swing. Judging from present appearances, the Boers are preparing for a simultaneous invasion at the separate points—Lang's Nek, Kimberley, Vryburg, Mafeking and Lichtenh. Therefore, it is almost impossible to guess the plan of campaign.
