REBELS BEATEN—FEARFUL LOSS IN BATTLE IN SANTANDER.

Two Days of Hard Fighting—Ten Thousand Men Were Engaged and 5,000 Rebels Reported Wounded—Several Generals Among the Killed.

Panama, Colombia, Nov. 20.—Official advices from Bogota dated Nov. 18th, report that a terrible battle between the government forces and the revolutionists was fought near Bucaramanga, capital of the department of Santander, in which the government forces were victorious. It is stated that the battle lasted two days, ending at noon on Nov. 17th. More than 1,500 rebels were killed and 2,000 were wounded. About 10,000 men on both sides were engaged in the fight.

Gen. White and Gen. Juan Francisco Gomez, prominent leaders of the revolutionists, were wounded, and it is reported that Gen. Pablo Emilio Villar was killed.

On the government side Gen. Pena Salano Piloniz and Gen. Hernandez were wounded.

The regiments commanded by Gen. Holguin and Luis are reported to have occupied Bucaramanga on Nov. 18th. The place had been held by the revolutionists since the civil war of a month ago.

The Managua, an English steamer, arrived here yesterday with 600 recruits from Bucaramanga. About 400 more recruits are expected and on their arrival all will proceed to the Atlantic coast, the movement beginning next month. No news has yet been received from Bucaramanga.

The Colombian revolution started on October 19th last in the departments of Santander and Tolima and quickly spread to other departments. Revenues of the government and sea revenues had fallen short of the expenditures, and efforts of the departmental assemblies to meet the emergency were without avail.

Being without funds, the government resorted to a course that has practically amounted to repudiation. Civil employees to whom eighteen months' salary was owing were informed that the government could not pay them without salary, and they understood the situation well enough to take the hint.

The military branch of the government salaries have always been paid promptly, and the various clerks who are paid by the government are being informed that the government cannot pay them without salary, and they understood the situation well enough to take the hint.

The present revolution had these financial troubles as immediate cause. Several engagements were fought between the government forces and the revolutionists, since the outbreak, in which the government was victorious. The foremost was that on Magdalena river. The government forces were well armed and armed against the rebels' five, all poorly armed. One of the rebel vessels was sunk by a well directed and heavy fire, and after losing its crew, the other four steamers were captured.

Two hundred revolutionists were shot or drowned during the fight and several hundred prisoners were taken on the Magdalena river. The government's loss was slight.

In a last engagement at Bucaramanga one of the rebel leaders was shot and another captured.

BOARD OF TRADE.

D. Deputation to Ottawa—Task of Establishing Gold Standard.

A meeting of the council of the board of trade was held yesterday. Messrs. E. J. B. Pense, John McKelvey, H. A. Calvin, George Richardson, Capt. Gaskin and Mayor Ryan were named a deputation to wait upon the Hon. Mr. Giddens in connection with the deputation from other boards of trade in requesting the government to cancel the recent order-in-council granting the privilege to American agents to carry goods between Canada and the United States.

Another matter brought before the meeting was a proposal by J. W. Hart, superintendent of the Kingston dairy school, for the board to take steps to have a gold standard established in connection with the Kingston dairy school. This Mr. Hart held would be an immense advantage to Kingston merchants, who could store eggs, butter, cream, and keep them in good order for a considerable time.

The board appointed a committee, consisting of E. J. B. Pense, F. King, J. Hart and A. Chadwick, to look into the matter. When at Ottawa to interview Prof. Roberts, agricultural commissioner for the Dominion, and seek his advice. It is believed that a government grant can be secured towards the project.

A letter was received from the advertising agent of the G.T.R., stating that he would give Kingston as much space as possible in next year's summer tourist book.

Well Known to the City.

E. H. Brough, who died a couple of weeks ago at his sister's residence in Brampton, Ont., was for four years watchmaker and repairer with Frank W. Gaites, Princess street. During that time he resided with his mother here. It was only seven weeks after he left here that he died, a victim of a long illness. He was a member of the local lodge of the Sons of England, and carried an insurance of $1,000. In the first Baptist church he was also an active worker. He was known as a good workman, honest and industrious, and his sudden demise is sincerely regretted. A brother is employed in the store department at Fort Henry.

Will Be Chosen To-night.

A meeting of the officers and band committee of the 17th battalion was held last night to consider the appointment of a band instructor. A letter was read from the late instructor, T. C. Carey, refusing to entertain any offer to re-engage, his resignation from the committee will resign. The committee will now select a bandmaster from the large list of applicants they have on hand. The selection will be made this evening, and the new instructor will undoubtedly be a man from outside the city. He will be brought here on probation.

To Address the Government.

Capt. Gaskin addressed the city council last night regarding the request of the board of trade to have Mayor Ryan added to a deputation appointed to wait upon the government to urge the cancellation of the recent order-in-council, changing the coasting laws, giving American boats the right to carry grain between Canadian ports. Capt. Gaskin entered into a lengthy explanation of the coasting laws, and the changes made, and was prepared to show that there was ample Canadian tonnage to carry all Canadian grain. Alderman Behan favored the request, and the council resolved to retain the carrying trade to Canada. If this is done it will result in an increase in Canadian tonnage.

DIES FROM UNUSUAL DISEASE

Peculiar Case of New Yorker Who Succumbs to Blood Poisoning.

New York, Nov. 20.—The surgeon attached to the Long Island college hospital in this city, has just been interested in the case of Philip Conroy, a longshoreman, who died in that hospital of anthrax, one of the most virulent kinds of blood poisoning. The disease appears usually among wool gatherers, but it is not common in the large cities and less than a dozen cases have come under the notice of doctors in Brooklyn during the last quarter of a century.

Conroy visited the hospital on Monday. He informed Dr. Mildenberg, the house surgeon, that he had been at work at one of the big warehouses on the river front in Brooklyn unloading hay and grain from a vessel that had come from a southern port. On Saturday he noticed a small swelling on the left side of his neck, immediately under the angle of the jaw. He picked it with a pin. Soon his neck and the glands situated there began to swell. Dr. Mildenberg and the other surgeons diagnosed the case as one of anthrax, a malignant pustule. Soon his body was swollen from the neck to the waist. His temperature was four degrees below normal and at times it was impossible to get worse and on Tuesday night he died. He was in great pain all the time he was in the hospital.

The case was reported to a coroner. Dr. Mildenberg and Dr. Hartung made an autopsy. By means of microscope and tests it was proven without doubt that death was due to anthrax.

Dr. Mildenberg, who watched the case carefully, said that anthrax has never been in the index which Conroy was handling. There was a scratch on his neck and he must have accidentally rubbed his hand on his neck. The anthrax found on his neck, he said, is that other persons might handle the hair for years and escape the anthrax bacillus, just the same as hundreds of people escape the bacillus of consumption. The result of anthrax poisoning, he said, was that all the tissues and the organs of the body became diseased.

To Meet the County Council.

The county council has fixed Thursday morning at eleven o'clock, to receive a deputation from the Kingston general hospital, consisting of E. H. Smythe, Q.C., H. A. Calvin and B. M. Britton, M.P., who will urge the claims of the hospital upon the county's representatives. The council has requested the hospital board to furnish a statement of the total number, and the names, of the patients received last year from the county.

Will Over Naming Officials.

At the city council meeting last night, when returning officers and deputy returning officers to preside at coming municipal nominations and elections, were being named, alderman Cunningham objected to the manner in which alderman White had turned down one official in St. Lawrence ward, after having promised to support him in Alderman White claimed he did not promise to support the official in question. The two aldermen had quite a wordy scrap over the affair. Later on, when Bibeau ward officials were being named, alderman Elliott objected to all the old officials being cut off and new men appointed. He asked why George Young, had been turned down and W. P. Bell nominated. The speaker had not been consulted by his colleagues with regard to the naming of the officials. Alderman McCann replied that Young had acted for twelve years and it was thought advisable to make a change. Several aldermen pointed out that if an official had given satisfaction for twelve years there was no excuse for cutting him off. If there are doubters who in the past have questioned the efficacy of Paine's Celery Compound in saving life, they must, after carefully reading Mr. Kilbridge's last letter, come to the conclusion that the great medicine is worthy of closer thought and attention than they were disposed to give it weeks or months ago. It is allowed to be made public for the advantage and well of thousands of sufferers who are anxiously looking for new life and freedom from the power of disease.

Mr. J. Kilbridge, postmaster of Inverness, P.E.I., is no idle theorist or speculator, neither has his important testimony been unduly obtained. This record letter, reaching for a permanent and lasting
