LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

Mintetors' Criticism of Tunes. KINGSTON, Nov. 21 .- (To the Editor) One often sees reports of ministers calling down their choirs for singing what they call "foreign tones" to some hymns. Only the other day a report of this kind came from Galt. Now I am one of those who love the old-time tence and hymne, (I de not mean those evangelistic things) and reverence them very much. But now-adays one has to go beyond the limits of these. The congregations must learn new tunes and the outy way to accomplich this is hy trying thom. course there are some tunes which are not suitable for congregational singing, but most of those I have seen ministers criticise are all right.
