Cumulative Preference Shares of the Dunlop Pneumatic Tyre Company of Australasa, Limited It will be seen from the statements made therein, and from the Accountant's Report, that the Company has acquired a very large and profitable business, together with the valuable Trade Marks and Patents in connection with the worldrenowned Dunlop Pneumatic Tyres for Australasia.

The seven per cent. First Preferince Cumulative Shares are pracically as safe as debentures, as they are protected by a provision in the Articles of the Company which proides that no debenture or mortgage can be put upon the assets of the Company without the consent of over two-thirds of the Preference Shareholders, and a Reserve Fund is also provided for.

The Accountant's report shows the earnings of the Compeny are at present sufficient to pay the seven per cent, on the Cumulative Prefer ence Shares, and seven and a half per cent, on the Deferred Shares. and nine per cent, on the Ordinary Shares, with a surplus. The Company is in a very strong financial position, having started in August last with no liabilities and a complete manufacturing plant and $170,000 in the Treasury, enabling the Company to purchase all'its raw materials for cash.

It will also be noticed in the Report of the Accountant that the business of the Dunlop Pneumatic (1) Tyre Company (Australasia), Limited, for the year ending 31st January, 1899, amounted to $447,106 -05, which was an increase over the previous year of over $70,000, and Morn-that the profits for the year ending 31st January, 1899, amounted to
