General Wheeler, with a detachment his cavalry company, and Garcia, with hi Cuban troops, quickly joined general Lawbon's men in the advance upon Canaj.

The Spaniards for a time fought desperately to prevent Caney from falling into the hands of the United States forces. It was a vain effort. Before the fighting had been long under way the American and Cuban forces gained advanced ground Foot by foot the enemy was driven back into the village. It was evident, after the first hour's fighting, that Gen. Shafter had accurately gauged the strength of the shared in the belief of Gen. Shafter that Santiago could be taken by a sharp, persistent attack and they have been impatient

Brigadier general Kent, who commanded the centre of the general line of attack, started the 21st regiment of regulars toward Aguadores at the same hour as Gen. Lawton's men advanced towards Caney.

There was desperate fighting about Aguadores. Acting under orders from Gen. Linares, the Spanish at that point returned the American fire with a fury that aroused in the Americans the fiercest de-Fraud Duchess Kitchen Range, Iron emy's fire, holding their ground tenaads, Bedroom Suite, Bookcase and ciously and pressing forward whenever an opportunity to gain an advance presented itself. In their operations about Aguadores, the Americans were greatly encouraged by the work of the fleet which poured a heavy fire into the lines of the Spaniards. Admiral Sampson ordered the New York, Gloucester and Suwanee to attack the batteries recently placed to the east of Morro, the vessels engaged the batteries at short range and left only the scarred hillside to show where the batteries had been located. The Massa-Wood Bros.' Metal Valve opened with big guns, plunging a heavy chusetts and the New York ships then
