

Knowingnot guessing.

Instinct tells a man more, at a glance, that he needs to know, in the trying on of a ready-made hat, suit, or shoe, than his tailor could guess for him in a century.

The round-shouldered person instinctively recognizes (when trid on) the suitability of the quiet, loose-litting coat, which conceals the deforming curve of his back, even though he may not analyze the cause of such suitability, nor admit the deformity.

Slender men can look stouter, short men taller, sloping shouldered men squarer, and any man more dignified or jaunty, as he desires, by an intelligent selection of andard "Fit-reform" shapes, tried on uctore purchased.

This does not apply to ordinary readymade clothing, in which neither these distinctive shapes, nor the workmanship, which constitutes and retains fit, are obtainable.

Sherritt Rode Hubs Like These ?

In his races at Peterboro and Toronto, Alf. Sherritt, who defeated the fastest amateurs in the Dominion, rode a Red Bird Special with the new caged bearings that add so much to the easy running qualities of a wheel.

Rear Hub of Red Bird Special showing William automatic brake and new caged bearings.

It will be noticed that with the new caged bearings the balls are separated and never come in contact with each other. The result is an entire absence of friction, and easy running qualities utterly impossible with the old style bearings. Sherritt was fortunate enough to choose a Red Bird Special, with caged bearings, for his mount, and the result was that at both Peterboro and Toronto he won just about everything for which he competed. All of which would go to prove our old contention that when anything worth winning is won the trick is generally accomplished on a Red
