The Stooping Man.

—May be short or tall, but his curving back requires the loose-fitting Sack coat, full and wide at nape of neck, but rolling high and short over chest, which should thus be accented to offset back.

The special shape of "Fit reform" Suit skirt, made for such men, is cut longer in back, and shorter in front, so as to seem of even length at bottom, when worn, concealing the stoop, and rendering the chest more prominent to the eye, thus producing the effect of more erect appearance.

Quiet colorings, and indefinite patterns, should be chosen, stripes or plaids of conspicuous design being carefully avoided. Close-fitting coats as "Morning," "Shooting," or "Frock" are undesirable, as they reveal broadly the curving back, by following too closely the waist line.

A HEAVYWEIGHT ROMANCE.

Man Twice Weds a Woman Who Tips The Scales at 300 Pounds. BIRMGHAMTON, N.Y., Aug. 11.—A sensational love romance came to a climax Monday when F. B. Wright appeared in the city with Mrs. Joseph Laurer and declared that for the second time he had made the widow his wife.

VISITING A GIRL IN PRISON.

What Dickens Told Of A Girl In A Kingston Jail. Charles Dickens was in Canada in 1842 and while in Kingston seems to have visited the jail. He writes: Among the prisoners was a beautiful girl of twenty, who had been there nearly three years.

OUR GOVERNOR-GENERAL.

There appears to be a difference of opinion in England as to the entire qualification of the earl of Minto for the vice regal office to which he has been appointed. He has been complimented upon his selection and hailed as one who is expected to be popular in Canada by reason of his residence here, his service as an officer in the north-west rebellion, and his acquaintance with the duties of office while acting as the military secretary of his occupant.

strong minds have told for much? Instances have occurred where the governor-general has had to do some thinking on his own account, and where he has not seen it to be his duty to do just as he was told.

The Toronto Star says the members of the local legislature have already talked down the interest of their audience and might well be done with this session. All the arguments which can be advanced upon either side of the questions before the house have been brought forward.

BRING ON A VOTE.

A WORD FOR THE SOLDIERS.

Some comment, perhaps not without reason, has been made upon the familiarity which has been evidenced between officers and men in the American army. These have been citizens together, on terms of intimacy, accustomed to hail each other as friends, and without any of the form and ceremony which army rules imposes.

EDITORIAL IDEAS.

An interesting announcement is that negotiations are under way which may result in a new service between Canada and the West Indies, that will carry sugar one way and Canadian flour, pork and butter the other way.

MARINE INTELLIGENCE.

CHINESE TIN SMELTING.

Primitive Methods That Are Followed by the Slow Going Orientals. At Tailing the tin mines cover an area of several square miles and are worked almost entirely by Cantonese.

The sand or rubble is excavated and conveyed to the troughs, which are placed at a sufficient height to allow of the water running freely down an incline. One man rakes up to the topmost end the flakes of tin, which resemble bits of black pencil and which, when disengaged from all mud or other light clinging matter, sink at once to the bottom of the inclined trough.

This iron pan, together with a number of cooper's hoops twisted round the baked mud, serves as a stiffening and helps to keep the furnace from collapsing. The lead ore is thrown together with the charcoal which melts it, in one mass into this barrellike furnace, when the molten metal soon passes through the charcoal and escapes (through a vent in the side of the lower portion of the barrel furnace) into a small pit dug into the ground below.

The Toronto Globe virtually tells its readers and temperance men generally that if they wish the government to be quite sure to bring in a prohibition law they had better register a pretty large majority in its favor.

Moderate Ambition.

A prosperous florist in New Orleans used to tell his friends the following incident of personal experience which may contain a suggestion for other American fathers and sons: "My father," he said, "was a shrewd Swiss, a mechanic. He died when my brother and I were lads. Finding that his health was such as to give promise only of a few months of life, he said to us one evening: 'I have but little money to give you, only enough to create you and start you in business in a humble way. Let me advise you to become florists or vegetable or bee growers for this reason: I foresee that there will be great competition in most kinds of business in this country, and because of this competition men working for wages will be forced to accept low returns for their work. In the occupations I have mentioned you will not need necessarily be employed by any one. You can, if you are wise, and not eager to get rich, be comparatively free and unshackled.'
