A Delightful Trip.

The steamer Caspian had a large crowd from the Thousand islands yesterday and the trip was delightful in all the elements of good weather and a comfortable boat. Travellers are cranks as a rule, like to show off in a crowd as of exclusive or supertor feelings, but none of that spirit is met on the Caspian, for the courtesies the officers is on a par with the excellence of the boat. To the Kingstonians on board the varied island trip seemed to hold its fascination in spite of repetitions.
