Information of the gravest kind is current this afternoon in circles in close touch with official life. There is no means () confirming this information in official quarters, for they must remain severely silent, but it is beyond all doubt that the ministers have taken advartages of their release from parliamentary neckling to make a momentous series of decision.

The statements which reach me are of the most positive and unbesitating character. They are, first, that before lord Saliebury left for the south of France be sought an audience with her majesty the queen at Osborne, and plainly told her he could not carry on the foreign affairs in the present critical state of the relations with Russia unless she withdrew her frequently expressed veto upon the prosecution of diplomacy to the point of war during her litetime. Imperative interest of the state must, Salisbury held. prevail, however painful would be even danger of hostilities between her majesty and members of her family abroad. Lord Salisbury went further and declar. ed that he must resign unless her veto was withdrawn and he was given an absolutely free hand.

The queen's answer may be judged from the complete volte face of the The Misees Hathway, visiting friends ministry. They immediately proceeded to change their entire attitude towards Russia. They decided to abanden the policy now so obviously futile of an open door and equal opportunities in all parts of China, as guaranteed by the treaty of Tien-tein, and proceeded to adopt the policy which Mr. Curzon himself long ago advocated in his book, "Problems of the Far East," as alone feasible, namely, the

The ministry then proceeded to make definite proposals to Russia about ten days ago on this basis, Russia being given an absolutely free hand in Manchuri in return for her formal recognition in the same instrument, of British paramountcy in the Yang-tee-Kiang valley, that recognition being accompanied by guarantees of its

England refuses to accept a mere formal recognition, and has finally intimated to Mourauieff, through Sir Charles Scott, the British minister at St. Petersburg, that a satisfactory answer must be forthcoming by Saturday.

In effect this is an ultimatum to Russia, and Mr. Balfour's special visit to the queen at Osborne on Saturday is associated with his final step, he having taken over the foreign office during Salisbury's abcence—an absence which it was thought would make a vital departure in the Bri-
