ON ACCUMULATING MONEY.

The Place to Begin, Mr. Gosszelye Thinks, Is Right Where a Man Is. "Why, say," said Mr. Gosszelye, "the more I think of it the more I think that the place for a man to begin in, right where he is. I don't see how going west, or going south, or going any other place is going to help him unless he's got it in him. Even in fast growing places with a tremendous boom on the bulk of the people work for day's wages, just as they do here. The people there don't all get rich, by a long shot, and the comparatively few that accumulate wealth get it by the exercise of the same qualities that command wealth everywhere—namely, ability to recognize opportunities and promptness to seize them."

"Opportunities exist everywhere, but the number of really great opportunities is always proportionately small, and these are always taken up by the men who have not only brains, but courage. Luck may strike a man occasionally, but the chances are millions to one against it, and it never strikes a man who waits for it. Money of course gives a man greatly added power. The rich man can seize opportunities that the poor man can't touch. But pretty much all the rich men in this country were once poor. They made the money themselves, as every man has the right to do for himself. It may be put in here that it is a mighty good thing for a man to have a few hundred dollars laid by. It may come handy any time. Got ahead a little."

"As to the place to begin there is none any better than right where a man is. He sees the difficulties there, familiar as he is with his surroundings, but it's just the same 50 miles or 1,000 miles west. There where everything is new to him the conditions might seem easier and more favorable, but in reality they are just the same. The great majority of men there are plugging away for a mere existence, and here as in his own town, the men who are making the money are the men of brains and courage and enterprise and frugality."

"In other words, it is not the place, but the man himself that counts. Any place will do. The great thing is to make the beginning."—The New York Sun.

THE TALK OF ALL EUROPE.

THE PLAN OF PEACE CONGRESS PROPOSED.

England Claims Salisbury First Proposed the Idea—France in Despair—Asking What It Really Means.

LONDON, Aug. 31.—The Daily Graphic says that Lord Salisbury, in 1888, communicated to emperor William a memorandum showing the tremendous cost of armed Europe. Emperor William was so impressed that he privately intimated his intention to summon a disarmament congress. The semi-official German press ventilated the idea, with the result that so much animosity was revealed on the part of France that the kaiser abandoned the project.

The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Times says: "Count Muraviev the Russian foreign minister, declares that the idea originated entirely with emperor Nicholas. There is much skepticism in diplomatic circles as to any practical result from a conference, and it is admitted on all sides that the circular came as the greatest surprise."

The Paris correspondent of the Times still insists that M. Faure and the French ministers knew nothing beforehand, and that the czar's proposal has plunged the entire official world into terrible embarrassment and almost into stupefaction.

"Everybody," says M. De Blowitz, "is asking with dismay what it means. It is a sad awakening for France, and her papers are making an immense effort to restrain their feelings in the face of what is regarded as the Russian proposal."

LONDON, Aug. 31.—In spite of the peace proposition of the czar there is a revival of the war talk between Great Britain and Russia. Three days have passed since the pronouncement and yet there is not a statesman in Europe who will express an opinion upon the proposition. The truth is that, notwithstanding the high position of the czar in royal society, there is not one who believes that the proposal was made with sincerity.

Kicked By A Colt—Discussing the Prohibition Question—Visitors. ODESSA, Aug. 31.—At the regular meeting of court Odesa, I.O.F. Thursday evening last, the court was paid a fraternal visit by district deputy H.C.R. Bro. Hughes, of court Frontenac, Kingston, accompanied by Bro. Scruton, of the same court. Both made pleasing addresses.

The district deputy was glad to note the progress of court Odesa and hoped for still better things in the future. James Judge and son Albert spent Sunday and Monday visiting Rev. F.T. Lemmon left last week for Kingston, where he went to Buffalo on Sunday. He carries the good wishes of a great many friends who will miss his base profound. J. W. Another very beautiful plant in town is the century plant belonging to William Calder, Main street. It has over thirty leaves of great size and length. At the opening session of the local lodge of the S.O.T. last night a large number were in attendance and an hour was very profitably spent in the discussion of questions bearing on the plebeic to campaign.

Cyrus Young leaves next week to attend model school at Napanee. Samuel Babcock, township of Kingston, has bought the old S. H. Clark farm in the second concession of Erneststown. The regular session of the township council was held on Monday with all the members present. Only routine business was transacted. Robert Aylesworth Ham, eldest son of George Laidley, met with a painful accident this morning. A young colt, which he was attempting to frighten away with a stick, kicked him on the forehead, rendering him unconscious and inflicting an ugly cut.

The police commissioners meet to-morrow morning to consider further charges against constable McCullagh.

PARIS, Aug. 31.—Lieut. Col. Henry was one of the witnesses in the recent trial of M. Emile Zola to contradict unfair points of testimony given by Col. Picquart, and subsequently wounded in a duel with the latter officer, was arrested and conducted to Fort Valerien. The arrest was the result of a discovery that Lieut. Col. Henry was the author of a letter involved in the Dreyfus case.

Advancement Deserved.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—The acting secretary of the navy has appointed a board composed of officers of the highest rank to meet at the navy department to consider and report on all cases of officers deserving of reward for specially meritorious services during the war with Spain, other than those officers whose services have been already recognized by promotion.

To Create Sympathy.

Toronto Globe. An effort is being made to create sympathy for two officials who have been dismissed from the Kingston penitentiary for cause. The services of Neil McNeil, of the engineer's department, and Patrick Healey, a stoker, have been dispensed with as a result of the recent investigation conducted by inspector Stewart. It was proved by evidence fully corroborated that McNeil fell asleep while in charge of convicts. The warden, the chief engineer and the acting engineer declared Healey to be inefficient, and evidence was produced to show that upon one occasion he had to appeal to a convict for assistance as to what to do in an emergency.

The Misses Pendergast, Utica, N.Y., visiting friends in the city, have gone on a short visit to Rockport before returning home.
