AND CANADA'S CONTRIBUTION TOGENERAL DEFENCE.

Organization and Brigade Formation Will Be Looked After-What Is Lacking in Brigade Camps-Canada Has a Surplus for the First Time in Many Years-Trade of Dominion Has Also Largely Increased.

OTTAWA, Sept. 13.—A rumor is current that the appointments of the earl of Minto as governor-general, and that of majorgeneral Hutton, as G. O. C., are intended to facilitate a reorganization of the Canadian militia on an imperial basis, that is, to place them in a shape to be effectively available for the defence of the empire, not only of Canada, and fulfil the promise made by Sir Richard Carowright in parliament last year that this country, in the event of a war, will stand ready to furnish a contingent for foreign service if required, as her contribution to the general defence. It is said that general Hutton has made a thorough study of the military situation before coming here, and that one weakness

he has located is the lack of organization of the force in any formations larger than a battalion, battery or regiment of cavalry. The militia has absolutely had no training in brigade formation and there is no organization of staff in the proper sense of the term, for handling brigades or larger bodies in the various districts. The experience of officers in these important duties has been hitherto limited to the haphazard engagement of available men for duty at the brigade campe for the in struction of mounted units and the rural corps, and then the work has been confined to the sudimentary administration of the commissariat and other departments necessary to the maintenance of the force under canvas. The units of the force at these camps form brigades in name only. They never drill together or parade as brigade divisions except for a church service or to march past at a review and then, as all militia officers know, it is largely a case of "every man for himself and tho D. O. C. for us all."

Mr. Fielding announces that the surplue for the fiscal year ending June 30th is over $1,500,000. This is half a million better than was anticipated. It is the first surplus Canada has had for years.

Mr. Paterson announces that the aggregate trade of the dominion for the same period has increased by about $50,000,000 over the previous year, the highest in the history of the country.

Referring to the probability of the Alaskan boundary question being settled by ne Quebec conference, it is stated that the settlement will probably be in the shape of a reference to some other separate tribunal for arbitration and final ruling. The expense and difficulties of a new and complete survey would be enormous, and besides a large volume of material is already available from the surveys which were made by both Canadian and American surveyors on the ground a few years ago. The information is regarded as perfeetly reliable and sufficiently comprehensive to justify its use by an arbitration.

The year 1898 was marked in Vienna from the beginning of the summer by great fetes and an exposition in honor of the jubilee or fiftieth year of the reign of Francis Joseph, the unhappy husband of the murdered empress. The official jubilee was arranged to take place in the beauti-Austrian capital next December. Doubtless the sad fate of the empress will put an end to the programme.

The late shah of Persia was the eighteenth sovereign or head of a state assassinated in this century.

It was the emperor Paul, murdered in 1801 by palace conspirators, who led off. Next came the sultan Selin in 1808. There was then a long interval, extending to 1831, when Capodistrias, president of the provisional government of Greece, was shot at and then deepatched by a blow from a yataghan at Nauplia. At the end of another interval, extending to 1854, the duke of Parma was assassinated. The turn of trans Atlantic presidents bcgan with the president of Hayti in 1869. The South American series included Col. Balta, president of Peru, in 1872; Moreno, president of Ecuador in the same year; and his successor, Guttieren in 1873. President Lincoln was the first North American president to be assassinated. Abdul Az z was bled to death in a warm bath in 1874 president Garfield was shot in 1880, and Alexander I blown up in 1881. Carnot was murdered in the midst of civic feetivity at Lyons. The queen of Corea was the last to be added to the black list.

Four devs of Algiers were murdered this century. The executed monarche were Murat, the Iturbide, and Maximilian of Austria, each and all of whom tempted fate. The king most often and most seriously shot at was Louis Philippe, who somehow was never hurt by his would-be assassins. The most desperate attempt was by Fieschi, the Corsican, who operated with an infernal machine. He was once fired at at such close quarters that the flash of the pietol set fire to the bonnet of queen Marie Amelie, who eat beside him in a carriage. Only one serious attempt was made to assassinate the first Napoleon; it was with an infernal machine. The second Napoleon had two narrow escapes. One was when the Orsini bombs exploded around his carriage, and the other was in the Bois de Boulogne, when a ball meant for his guest, Alexander I., whizzed by his ear and shot his aide-de camp's horse. And now comes the poer queen of Aus tria, whose fate the world mourns to day.

Useless Spanish Generals As Named By Count Dalmenas-Spanish Victory. MADRID, Sopt. 13 -The session of the senate yesterday was stormy. Count Dalmenas, challenged to give the names of generals, whom he recently said ought to be disgraced, replied: "Very well; as you wish it, I will. The generals to whom reforred are Gen. Weyler, Gen. Blanco and Gen. Prime de Reveraudt. I will also include in the same category admiral Cervera." This announcement led to an extraordinary scene of tumult. Capt. Aunon, minister of marine, rece ved to day an important despatch from the Philippines, describing a conflict between the Spanish gunboate and an insur gent fistilla in which the former unsucess fully prevented an insurgent landing in the Viscayas. According to the deepatch the insurgents had five vessels, all o which were sunk. The Spanisrds had no loss but the telegram asserts that hundreds of the insurgents are believed to have perished.

He reminded them that the Canadian army to which they belonged was really part of the Brit-ish army, and he spoke of the commandery that should subsist in it. He wished them one and all to speak to him in case he failed at any time to recognize them. Amongst the principal wants of the Canadian military system that he desired to supply was a system of mobilization, a medical service and a commissariat and transport department. Gen.
