

BLACK

How many people wear black! On the street—on the cars—everywhere—the number is surprising. Some wear it through choice, the majority though, in the case of ladies, owing to the death of relatives.

When true, when pure, black is an admirable color, there's a genteel, a dignified elegance about it which arrests attention and commands respect.

In home-dyeing no color has been or is in as great demand, but not till the advent of the now justly celebrated

MAYPOLE SOAP

was it possible for the housewife to procure a black dye that would impart to an article or garment that fascinating "something" that ideal freshness and beauty, peculiar to quality and truth in color.

Maypole Soap Dyes (in all colors) are made in England by practical dyers. They are of highest possible quality. They cleanse and dye at one operation all materials without "streaking" or "croaking." They are a revelation. May be used by anyone without previous experience with certainty of success. No rubbing necessary—simply dip the goods.

Messrs. A. P. TIPPET & CO.

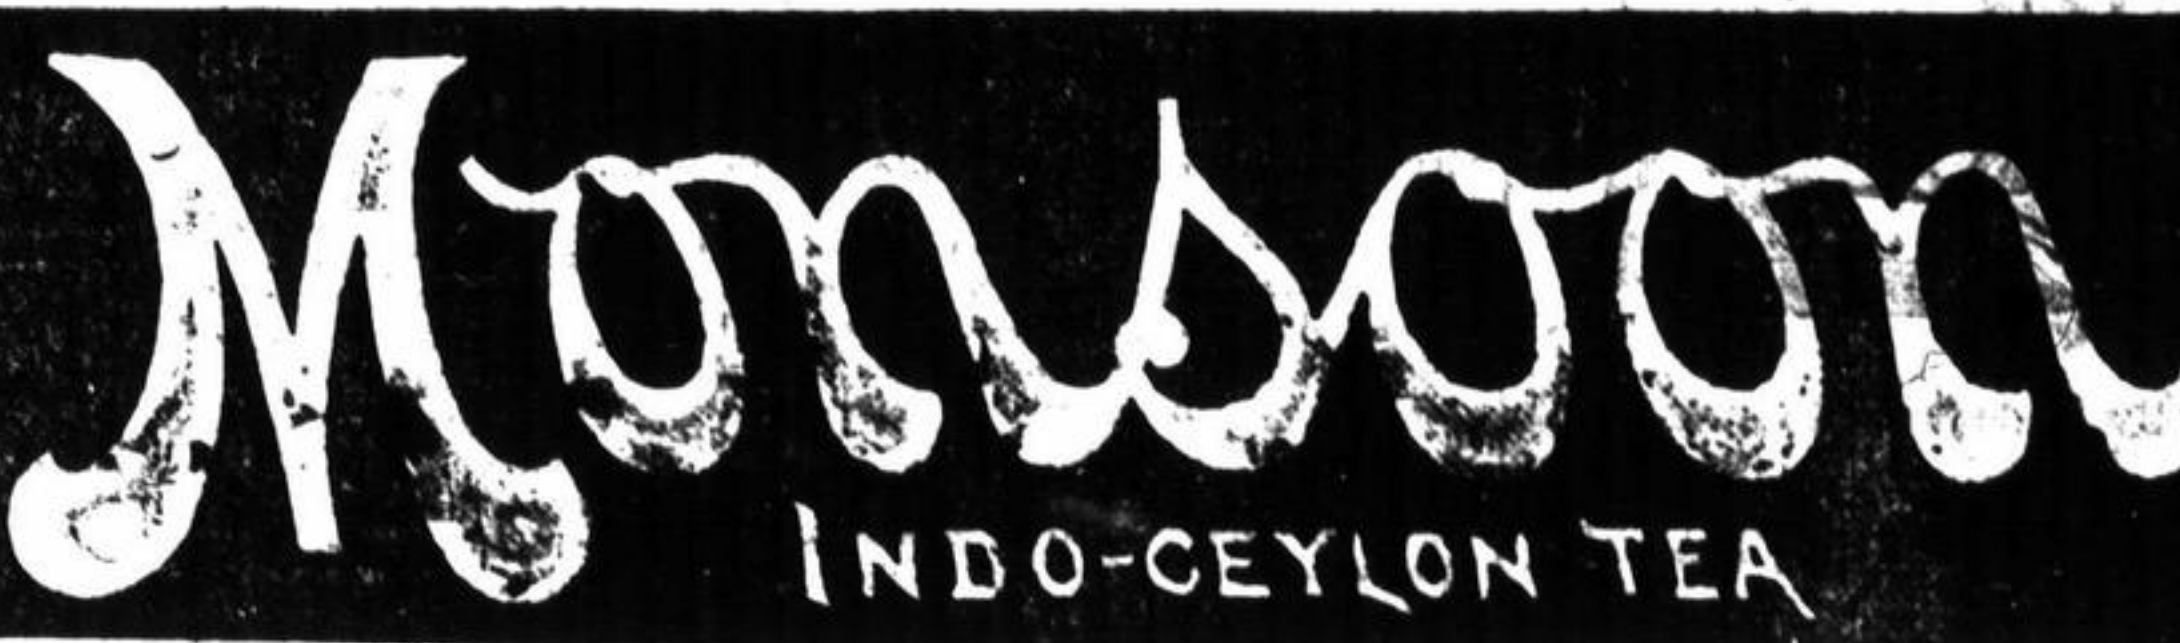

During the last three weeks I have had several dresses as well as other things dyed in the BLACK of your Maypole Soap, and I must say that the result was beyond my expectations. It is simply beautiful. I have used a good many dyes of other makes, but with none have I obtained the same results as with "Maypole." I am highly pleased and will recommend it.

Tea dust is not injurious—but neither is it necessary—and you don't get it when you buy Monsoon Indo-Ceylon Tea. It's just these careful attentions to everything connected with Monsoon Tea—from growing and picking to packing it—which gives you more real tea value in every pound packet of Monsoon than you get in the pound packages of any other kind.

They Fit All Kinds of Feet.

It costs a man no more to buy shoes in a store with a stock of 5000 pairs of Men's shoes than it does in a store where only one thousand pairs are kept. —And he has the advantage of a larger choice of styles and an absolutely surety of fit. A different shape, size, width and kind of leather could be sold to 9,240 different men without duplicating a single pair of "Slater Shoes." —And our contract says we must keep a full representation of all the "Slater Shoes" in stock. Goodyear welted: $3.00, $4.00 and $5.00. Soles stamped.

The County Fair. Now the pumpkin gloom resplendent. Mid the rows of ripened corn. Now the hunted prairie chicken. Wishes he had not been born. Now the maize machine collectors. Every day the farmers grow. Now the roads are blocked with wagons. Hauling thirty-ton wheat. And the merchant advertisers. "Winter clothing—cheap, but new!" Now the farmer, from his harvest. Lays his largest pumpkin by. Softly smiling, says he thinks how. It will strike the judge's eye. Now his thirty-wagons are building. Now his three-acre patchwork quilts. And his daughter's point on canvas. Black-red boys in purple hats. Crimson leaves and pale-green berries. Steel-gray stocks on yellow stiles. Now the rowhorse trainer gravely. Walks the hot-stained plug around. And each day the trusty jockey. Rides him swiftly over the ground. Both the trainer and the jockey. Work him early, work him late. While the owner's partner limps they. Regularly elongate. And the fondly trusting owner. Credulously pays the freight. Now the weeds upon the raw track. Fast before the sickle fall. Loud the hammers of the workmen. Echo in the floral hall. Off the county-fair directors. Sit in solemn convulsive drear. Planning for the grand occasion. Glory of the passing year! All these portents plainly teach us. County fair time's drawing near: County fair! Event suspicious. Herkled both far and near. In our gaudiest rustic circles. As the climax of the year! Joyfully we hail thy coming. Never with thy charm can vie Marble-palmed expositions. Though their temples kiss the sky. Dearer far the signs that tell us. County fair time's drawing nigh.
