LORD WOLSELEY'S ABDRESS AT FORT GARRY.

Delivered to the Men of the 60th Rifles on the Eve of Their Departure for Home -They Suffered Many Hardships Uncomplainingly-Officers Set a Good Example for the Men.

The heroic undertaking of the Red river lord Wolseley, i. a matter of history. The hardships endured by the brave men who in heaven. formed that noble force are realized by none save those who went through them. Canadians should consider the veterans the same plane as United Empire Loyalists; the one gave up home and fortune for the pri vilege of living under the rule of a just sovereign; the other undertook a great task and volunteered to sacrifice life in order that the new home of the loyalist might be protected and the rule of the sovereign upheld. That great gifts and powers which impel them. undertaking was vividly recalled by a document loaned the Whig by James a beautiful church at Pierce's Corners, Thomas, postmaster at Lake Opinicon, township of Marlboro, finished and freed
