The information received was again unsatisfactory, as it left an uncertainty as to the safety of the Walker's crew, nearly all of whom are Amgstonians. The substance of the mes sage was that the Walker had filled and sank about two hundred yards off Nicholson's island, which hes about twelve miles south west of Wellington; that it was supposed her crew had reached the island in safety, and that the two barges, break ing away from their anchorage, drifted ashore about six miles abive Wellington and filled with water. These few words told of a probable loss of over $50,000, outside of the irreparable loss of a son. This to the Ro-emount's tow on lake Superior, gives an instance of how troubles will bunch

Why The Boats Were There.

When the Walker and her two cost laden barges left Charlotte for Kingston on Thursday night a herce gale from the south-east was blowing. This caused Can Boyd to strike his course N. by E . E bringing him on a line with Nichoison's island, and giving his boats an easier run in the sea. Evidently he was impressed with the idea that the wind would baul around to the north by the following morn ing, and he would have a emboth rundown along the lee shore. But fall winds are an uncertain quantity and the most experienced will at times find themselves astray in their cal lations. UTILIZING SAWMILL WASTE.

J. R. Booth Belleves It Will Pay Well In Large Concerns.

OTTAWA, Oct. 24 Mayor Bingham has returned from a trip to the old country. On being tol! by a reporter that Sir Adolphe Caron and N. A. Belcourt were probable candidates for the mayoralty, he replied that he could "best these two fellows easy." Vicar general Routhier, of the Baralica, swallowed a piece of wood in some bread on Friday afternoon and has since been unable to attend to his duties. The wood lodged in the throat and inflamma tion has since set in. The attending physicians made an attempt to remove the obstruction, but were unsuccessful. An operation will be performed to day. The success of Prof. Emerson's experiment with regard to utilizing the waste from raw mills has attracted an immense amount of interest, not only among lum ber nen but also among those interested in the manufacture of acetylene gas. J. R. Booth, speaking in regard to the invention, raid: "I do not think the invention can be utilized with any amount of profit on a small scale, that is to say in connection with small concerns, but so far as large mills are interested I am under the impression that he has solved the question of disposition of the eawdust and waste from the mills. He is correct in his theory, and as for the profit of his discovery there is no doubt in my mind but that he will make a big thing out of it before he is done." Mr. Booth further stated that there were a great many others who were deeply interested in the result of Prof. Ruttan's busing,
