

MOTHERS

Read What CUTICURA REMEDIES Have Done for Skin-Tortured Babies.

My little sister (Annie Matthews, La Plata, Charles County, Md.) had the cow-pox, when only seven years old. She suffered terribly, and everything we tried did no good. Every time her clothes were taken off, even bits of scab would come off them; she was raw all over. One box of CUTICURA ointment and a salve of CUTICURA Salve healed her in three weeks.

My baby's little baby, two years old, was so badly afflicted with eczema that he needed constant watching. His face was always full of large sores which he scratched constantly.

Mornings, his clothes, face and hands were stained with blood. They had medical treatment, and tried everything. I commenced CUTICURA REMEDIES. The sores left his face and he was entirely cured.

Mrs. J. L. ROOT,

Feb. 16, 1898, New Scotland, N. Y.

Our little boy was four weeks old when he had eczema, in the most horrible state. His face was full of soaks, and parts of the flesh were raw.

I used CUTICURA SOAP and, in one week this boy was as good as new.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. FRESEE,

Feb. 12, 1898, 308 First St., Brooklyn.

When my boy was five weeks old, I noticed a very red roughness on his face. We had several doctors, but they did no good. I was told to use CUTICURA REMEDIES, and after using one box of CUTICURA OINTMENT and CUTICURA SALVE he is now cured.

Mrs. W. G. LOVE,

Feb. 20, 1898, 1012 Washington, Phila., Pa.

Between five babies and myself, I suffer in agony from eczema, and suffering, letting it fester, skin and scab disease. No doctor can really know how to treat it. I know that a woman with CUTICURA SOAP and CUTICURA SALVE healed my son in three weeks.

London's County Council.

ITS GREAT WORK IN THE CITY'S INTERESTS.

Municipal Ownership of Water Works, Street Railways, Etc. Results in Great Economy - The Works Department a Money-Saver - Breathing Places in the Great City - A Great Change Being Effected.

Less than fifty people listened to the first address of Prof. J. W. Martin, B.Sc., a graduate of London college, on the subject of social science, in the city hall last evening. Hon. Senator Sullivan occupied the chair.

In his opening words Mr. Martin said he came to speak with the loyalty of Canadians, to ensure union to this country. He then turned his attention to the civic government of London, Eng. The first county council, of which lord Rosebery was chairman, included many distinguished men, and men who had the interest of the city at heart. It turned its attention to a practical, minute political government, and passed what was afterwards happily called the "magna charta" of labor. It laid down for its principle the ruling that no employee of the council should receive wages upon which he could not live decently. In other words, it determined to make minimum wages.

In the first place there is abundance in this land for man and beast; also a good, pleasant and breezy climate; in the next place, a population sufficiently homogeneous to ensure eventual national unity, and yet sufficiently varied to ensure all the elements that constitute a noble national character, resembling in this the British empire, which is composed of similar distinct elements. In the third place, incisive administrative power, of the greatest empire the world has ever seen, and which as lord Rosebery says is the greatest secular instrument for the promotion of righteousness and peace upon earth. In the fourth place, the freedom to think and to speak and to write, conditioned only by the requirements that we shall think soberly and always speak and write like gentlemen. These are special blessings. There are other general blessings which need not be mentioned as they will occur to every christian mind. These blessings are accompanied by corresponding social advantages, such as religious liberty, pluralism, and that danger means nothing less than the retreat of the cultivated from the church and the return of the masses to heathenism. Our political danger is isolation from the responsibilities of the empire to which we belong. That would mean nothing less than the stagnation and corruption of our political and social, and indeed of our whole national life. May we all unite in thanking God for the gifts with which he has endowed us and in praying to him to inspire us with courage to undertake our responsibilities and with wisdom to avoid the dangers which threaten us. All life, individual and national, is a continual battle and the prize is only "to him that overcometh."

BRING RESPONSIBILITIES.

Principal Grant Talks About What We Should Be Thankful For.

Montreal Herald.

Principal Grant was busy discussing theological matters with the members of the faculty in Queen's college senate room when your correspondent called to ask him "What we had to be thankful for in Canada?"

"So the Herald wants to know what Canadian ought to be thankful for. Let me think a moment." Then in the keen sighted principal stood up and down his room he dictated this:

The crossing at the corner of Alfred and Union street is, and has been all summer, in a disgraceful condition. Especially at night, when no electric light illuminates the uneven way, it is very unpleasant for a pedestrian to find himself in the middle of a muddy pool.

William Gillespie, lighthouse keeper, Wolfe Island, was affected with muscular rheumatism, but yet without perfect success, to get the water supply municipalized. In order to secure the modern and sanitary buildings, they undertook to civilize these heathens, and their work was as moral and commendable as that of missionaries in far away, uncivilized lands. Now a pretty garden forms a centre from which streets radiate, on which dwell thousands of families, whose cost of living has been greatly lessened. At present the sum of 100,000 dollars is spent annually on the work of the council.

The water supply of a city tends to become a monopoly. The council has been trying, but yet without perfect success, to get the water supply municipalized. In order to secure the modern and sanitary buildings, they undertook to civilize these heathens, and their work was as moral and commendable as that of missionaries in far away, uncivilized lands. Now a pretty garden forms a centre from which streets radiate, on which dwell thousands of families, whose cost of living has been greatly lessened. At the police court this morning he pleaded guilty to a charge of drunk and disorderly conduct.

A short discussion followed on points which some of his hearers brought up for explanation. Mr. Martin is a clear and ready speaker, possessing a great fund of information on this valuable question, and with the ability to present it in a manner that engages the closest attention.

A CHURCH DEDICATED.

The Hope of the Sisters of Hotel Dieu Has Been Realized.

The sisters of Hotel Dieu yesterday experienced the culmination of long cherished hopes, and their ardour and desire to erect the crowning monument of their labours in Kingston a church and an orphan asylum.

After a long and laborious effort, the building was completed.

James Daly, a partner in the company, went to the province of Wellington to inspect the building.

He found the building in excellent condition.

He also inspected the church and the
