The citizens of Hamilton are not favorable to the present concentration of the city council, and as a result the Spectator is out with a coupon for signature asking them to answer these questions: Do you favor abolition of wages and election of aldermen at large? (2) A reduction in the number of aldermen? (3) How many should there be? (4) For how long a term should they be elected? one, two or three years?

Excellent Handicraft Powder will relieve that pain in the hand. Buy a box at Sibley's drug store.
