JOHN OFFORD,

"Opifer per Orbem Dicor."

AN UNFAIR CHARGE.

The charge of Mr. Whitney against the Ontario government, in his speech at Ot-America's Most Popular Songs, tawa, was that the Ontario government was harrassing the temperance men while its members had their arms twined about the temperance people.

The Ottawa Journal differs from Mr. Whitney and alleges that Sir Oliver was the representative of the temperance and other reforms in the Ontario government, and did all he could for them, but that Mr. F. NISBET'S Hardy and the other ministers did all that they could to propitiate the liquor interest. they could to propitiate the liquor interest. "That the government as a government adopted in a defined shape either a temperance or liquor policy there is no reason to believe."

Is that the fact? Did Sir Oliver Mowat, speaking for his cabinet, not say that if the people voted in favor of prohibition, he would introduce legislation to that effect? The proposition depended upon the decision of the privy council in a test case, and it went against the temperance party. The legislature, it was declared, had not the power to prohibit the manufacture and Comparisons. We like to have sale of the liquor traffic.
