MARINE INTELLIGENCE.

Marine Items Picked Up Along The Harbor Front.

The tugs Bronson and Glide arrived at this morning with barge, light.

The steamer Glenagary arrived from Prescott this morning with six barges, light.

The schooner Melrose of the M. T. company's fleet was "salted down" to-day for the winter.

The tug Jessie Hall left Dickenson's Landing at ten o'clock last night with four barges on her way up. She left one barge at the Landing.

The last of the M. T. company's barges to come up the river this fall left Lachine yesterday morning in tow of the tug Thompson.

The schooner Fabiola, Orwego, coal laden, arrived at Swift & Co's wharf last night, having had a fair run across the lake.

After discharging she will go into winter quarters.

The SS. Rosemont arrived at midnight last night from Fort William with wheat for the M. T. Co. The continued flooding of her wharf was more annoying to the town residents than the heavy wind that arose after.

Despite the severity of the storm this morning the staunch steamer Pierpont made her accustomed trips to the islands, starting out at eight o'clock.

On her first trip she had a severe battle with the waves but made the passage in safety.

On Saturday a tug from Detroit passed down the river, bound for Ogdensburg to meet the United States training ship Yantic.

This tug will take the frigate direct to Detroit, after she has been fully equipped to withstand the trip up the lakes.

While trying to make the harbor about eight o'clock this morning the steamer Glenagary, having in tow six light barges, nearly got into difficulty.

The barges became unmanageable and several of them were driven against Swift's wharf.

A few broken planks was the result. Finally they were gathered in and tied up at the mutual dock for shelter.

Of the committee nominees, two are elected from arts, one from science, one from divinity, and one from medicine. The election will take place in the city hall next Saturday.

The request that the students arrange a date for the appearance of Anthony Hope, the novelist, in the city was not complied with. It was decided by the alma mater society that "Hope be deferred."

Guy Curtis resigned the position of captain of the hockey team, and G. F. Weatherhead has been appointed to captain the team.

"Forrie" has played with Queen's for five years, and with the exception of Curtis, is the oldest player now at the college.

A mass meeting of the students will be held in convocation hall to-morrow afternoon at four o'clock, when candidates for alma mater officers will speak.

CULLEN REMANDED ONE WEEK.

A Shrewd Lad Who Will Can Successfully Fake Illness.

On Saturday night chief Ryan, Gananoque, returned to the city with the lad William Kearns or Cullen, it is not known just which of these names he is entitled to. The lad is only sixteen years old, and was arrested for having in his possession three boxes of cigars that were stolen from the store of J. A. C. Thompson, Gananoque.

He was taken to Gananoque but it could not be proved that he had anything to do with the robbery. Consequently he was returned here, and charged with having stolen goods in his possession, knowing the same to be stolen.

At the police court this morning he pleaded guilty, saying he found the cigars in a hay loft in rear of the Globe hotel. He thought some person had stolen and hid them there. He is rather a shrewd lad and will not say anything about himself or the stolen goods.

The police suspect that he was made a cat's paw by the guilty parties. He was remanded for one week. Meanwhile chief Horsey will communicate with a Prince Edward county farmer with whom Kearns or Cullen lived for some time. While in the police cells at Gananoque the lad frightened the officials there by apparently being attacked with a severe hemorrhage of the lungs. A physician was called and every care given the lad. Suspecting trickery, chief Ryan watched Cullen, and caught him in the act of "faking" illness.

Want The Act Amended.

The retail association of Ottawa has forwarded a petition to this city to receive the approval of the city council. It is intended for presentation to the attorney-general, asking for the amendment of the consolidated municipal act, providing for the licensing of hawkers, pedlars, etc. It is claimed section 495 of this act does not afford protection to the retail dealer in the classes of merchandise not therein specifically mentioned. It is asked that section 495 be amended by striking out, in subsection three, the words "tea, dry goods, plated-ware, silverware, furniture, etc.," and inserting in lieu thereof the words "goods, wares and merchandise."

The Annual Meeting.

The annual meeting of the Royal military college club will be held on Feb. 19th, 1898, in Quebec. The annual dinner will be held in the Quebec Garrison club. The election of officers will be conducted by sealed ballot, in accordance with changes in constitution authorized at last meeting. For president, now held by Lieut. Kirkpatrick, E. O. Smith's Falls, Ont., there are four nominations; for the office of vice-president there are seven; for the managing committee, seventeen nominations; two nominations for the office of honorary solicitor. There is but one nomination for honorary secretary-treasurer. Capt. Wurtel's services have been too much appreciated for anyone to think of opposing him.

Married On The Spot.

Last August a young merchant attended Father Carey's picnic in the Mills in company with a young lady. He has just come to the care of the young man's family that they took advantage of the occasion to drive into Sootley's Bay and were married by a Methodist minister.

It is somewhat peculiar that the Saturdays and Sundays of the last two months have been bright and clear, and the days immediately following as disagreeable as possible.

SECOND ORGAN RECITAL.

A Great Musical Treat Afforded in St. Andrew's Church.

The second recital given by organist W. H. Stevens and soloist Freddie Ulley in St. Andrew's church drew a fair audience on Saturday night. The programme was varied from that given on Thursday, although some of the same selections were heard.

Mr. Stevens, with his skillful touch, played his own arrangement of "Adeste Fideles," in which several pleasing variations were heard. His wonderful control over the organ was also well shown in "Andante in G," a favorite piece of many organists.

Master Ulley, with his clear resonant voice, excelled his singing of Thursday. By request he repeated the song, "When I'm Big I'll Be a Soldier," with splendid effect. Among his new pieces was "The Holy City," and in that powerful voice and clear articulation were well brought out.

Mrs. McKelcan, Hamilton, contralto singer, was probably the greatest attraction. This famous singer, who is credited with the best contralto voice in the dominion, is no stranger to Kingstonians, especially St. Andrew's church people. In several selections she revealed her great range of tones. Her voice is a sweet, powerful and high note and sweet in the low. Mr. Stevens played the accompaniments for the singers, and in that he excelled as an organist, seeming to adopt the organ to the strength of the voice, and not drowning the notes of the singer, as is a common error with organ players.

Change Of Date.

The first week in the month is a crowded one and again a request has been made to change the date of the annual meeting of the reform association because of conflicting entertainments and meetings. The evening now fixed is Friday. The members all desire to be present, hence the desire to accommodate them.

Deputy Warden Returns.

Deputy warden O'Leary, Kingston penitentiary, returned to the city Saturday after completing a month's temporary service in St. Vincent de Paul, Montreal. He brought with him a female prisoner from the lower province, and Church Leveque, an insane convict, transferred from St. Vincent de Paul to this penitentiary. Leveque is serving five years for burglary.

An Explanation Needed

Last week a young Kingstonian, whose christian name is similar to that often given to one of the gentler sex, contemplated taking a trip to Montreal, and took the trouble to arrange by post card for quarters with a friend there. His friend's boarding-housekeeper secured and read the card, and, inferring from the name signified on the message, raised a small row with her star boarder in consequence. An explanation straightened out matters.

There was one absent one, Robert, in Oklahoma.

Long Walk On A Bogus Message.

On Friday night a few students called at the boarding house of a fellow-student on Brock street, and left a message for him to be at the general hospital at eleven o'clock. The message was delivered, and giving himself ample time the student left in the great down-pour of rain for the institution. On his arrival there he found that his presence was unlooked-for, and that he had been made the subject of a joke. He did not allow his temper to get the best of him until on his return home he was taunted by the expression of "Ugh! Ugh!" from the lips of the originators of the joke.

A Timely And Needed Suggestion.

"I think ministers could do a lot of good if they, unitedly, would begin a crusade against the habit young men have of standing before church doors after service every Sunday evening," remarked a prominent church worker last evening. "If such was done I think it would result in the young men attending church. Of course, to a great extent, the remedy lies with the young women. Educate them to a sense of their duty, and they will quickly put a reform into general use. If ministers would show these young ladies the wrong they are doing in encouraging young men to hang around church doors instead of attending service I think it would have the desired effect. No self-respecting young woman will permit a young man to escort her home who has not the sense of honor to call at her home and go with her to service."

The Living Age For 1898.

In another column will be found a prospectus of this standard periodical. Founded by Eliskind Littell in 1844, it has steadily maintained a reputation of being the most complete representative of foreign thought. It is a faithful reflection of almost all that is substantial and truly valuable in the passing literature of the world, embracing in its monthly supplement American as well as foreign literature. While its pages show the same wise discrimination, the scope of the magazine has been widened, its size increased and its price reduced, so that increasing years seem only to add to its vigor and value. To those whose means are limited it offers what could not otherwise be obtained except by a large outlay. Intelligent readers who want to save time and money will find it invaluable. The Living Age is published weekly, and the price is now but $6 a year. To all new subscribers for 1898, are offered free the eight numbers of 1897, containing the opening chapters of the new serial, "With All Her Heart."

You think of Scott's Emulsion as only for those who have consumption or who have inherited a tendency to it. Almost its greatest use is for those whose condition is so impaired as not to be able to get the good they should out of their ordinary food. In nearly every case with these, Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil brings back appetite, stimulates digestion, restores color and plumpness, and controls the diseases of thinness. Public Servants Again.

HARRYING OF DEALERS UNDER EXCISE REGULATIONS.

The Subject of Mustard Under Review—Fussy and Expansive Officials—They Should Turn Their Attention to Sugar—Benefit Could Be Brought by Its Restriction.

KINGSTON, Nov. 29.—(To the Editor): The ill-directed efforts of some public servants in the employ of the inland revenue department in harriving merchants with fines and penalties imposed under the adulteration of foods act and tobacco excise regulations, are causing a good deal of comment just now in trade circles.

If the reports be at all reliable, far more attention is given to the selection and fines for failure to comply with the exact manner prescribed in which a tobacco package is to be opened by retailers, than is expended in protecting the country's tobacco revenues by endeavoring to check the increase of border smuggling of Yankee makes, while in other lines officials have shown more zeal than knowledge.

At the expense of at least thousands of dollars' worth of commercial mustard, "sixty-six samples of commercial mustard," collected from one end of the dominion to the other, was lately paraded, showing the summer's work of several highly salaried scientific officials, and probably scores of undertrappers, wherein a great wonderment is made that no pure mustard was found to be on sale. Now any grocer's clerk or observant housewife could have informed these sapient officials what they ought to have known themselves, that an absolutely pure ground mustard is not an article of commerce. Such a grade from the city and heating nature has so great a tendency to ferment and turn rancid that the very best English makers in their very best brands mark every package as an admixture, as any purchaser of Keen's, or Colman's "double superfine" grade can see by
