MORE SCHOOL ROOM. There is the prospect, it seems, of selling the old Queen street school building for manufacturing purposes. It is hoped the arrangement will go through for two reasons, (1) that the business energy of the city will be belped by expansion, and (2) that the echool interests of the city will be devel ped in another direction. It ie the feeling of the trustees that the school property should only be sold at a reasonable valuation, but when it is sold there is a work to which its proceeds can be very well applied. What is it? The enlargement of the Williamsville school. It has been greatly over crowded, so much so that the teachers have been handicapped in their service, and the conviction grows that this should not be continued any longer than possible.
