A GREAT HORSE SHOW.

Special Correspondence.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—The horse show is going on this week at Madison Square garden. It is the third annual exhibition of the National Horse Show Association of America.

Many of our readers who have heard of Madison Square garden all their lives probably do not know what it is like. Well, it is a splendid occupying a whole square in the heart of the best part of New York. It is corners on Madison Square park.

Every large exhibition, from Moody and Sankley's revivals to a prize fight, that comes to New York holds forth there. In the center is a great oblong space, covered with a canvas tent. On the long sides of this space tiers of seats rise. At the ends are offices, committee rooms, etc. There is a promenade around below the seats. The great space in the rear of and under the seats is now filled with rows upon rows of stalls for the horses.

You can form some idea of the size of Madison Square garden when I tell you there are 412 horses entered for this exhibition, all stabled on the premises.

COACHING STALLION.

The first trotting race that took place in public for a stake was in 1818, for a purse of $1,000. The bet was that a mile could be trotted in three minutes. It was won by Topgallant, a son of Messenger. Topgallant made his best time after he was 30 years old.

That was sixty-seven years ago. The great horse question then was whether a mile could be trotted in 3 minutes. The question is now whether a mile can be trotted in 2 minutes. Some are living who will probably see it. Maud S. has brought the time down to 2:28. When Van derbilt owned her it was said to be of $50,000 for her. For a time she was the best horse in the world.

The handsome equine animal is the coach horse. The race is not so much for anything in horsehood as well as in these things is devoted to points. But the carriage horse has time to be beautiful. The Cleveland has been considered the finest animal for this purpose.

The animals used in our country are coaching horses. When Gen. Van derbilt visited America at the Yorktown reunion and in 1881 one of his criticisms on our army was that the cavalry and artillery were not so good as the infantry.

THE VICINITY'S NEWS.

What the "British Whig's" Correspondents Have to Say on a Variety of Subjects.

Godfrey Notes.

Threshing machines are making quite a dust in the neighbourhood. Grain does not yield quite as largely as it was expected to do. What with potato rot, grain and beef low in price, farmers are generally drawing long faces. The low prices of calves and sheep does not prevent the enterprising firm, Conter Bros., from buying largely. They are now shipping two or three car loads weekly to Montreal and New York.—Miss Hamilton, of Parham, is in our midst, visiting friends. She leaves for home to-day.—Mrs. G. Godfrey, of Montreal, is spending the best week visiting friends in and around Maberly. She arrived home yesterday.—Several parties from the front Townships have, during the past week, been making their way to our rear in quest of game, which is reported to be very plentiful. A good report may be expected of them.—A surprise party, made up of the young people of the neighbourhood, met at the residence of Mr. G. W. Kellins, Newcombroke station, where a joyous evening was spent, dancing being engaged in and kept up until midnight, when all were called upon to do justice to the good things provided, dancing was again resumed and kept up until a late hour. All present having enjoyed the night's entertainment, bade good-bye to their kind host and hostess.—CATO.

Its Hill Ideas.

The yeomanry have been greatly impeded in their labours by the wet and disagreeable weather.—J. Tait, having finished his contract at J. Kelly's, leaves for home this week.—Ducks are still plentiful on the Kildare waters, and women are having a fine time.—Hugh Smythe and wife were the guests of William Purvis last week.—A number attended the Salvation Army jubilee held at Sunbury on Tuesday evening and had a pleasant time.—The pupils of the public school are progressing finely under the careful guidance of Thompson.—E. Sands, Godfrey, paid a visit to this village on his home trip.—It is said that J. Jackson is going to renovate his mill and use it for a steam flouring mill. We wish him success.—William Jarvis Vanalstine is the guest of R. Austin.—The party announced for Friday evening did not come off, as the weather was unsettled, it was postponed to a later date.

Big, Big, Marriage Bells.

The great event of last week was the marriage of George Blake, of Langhorne, to the eldest daughter of Mr. Henry Paley of Portland, which interesting event took place on Wednesday at the residence of the bride's father. A large party of relatives and friends assembled to witness the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. John Mavey of Kingsville. The party were invited to partake of the plentiful hospitality of the host, who was in the highest style of abundance. After the ceremony the happy couple accompanied by the groomsmen, best men, and other friends, took their departure on their marriage trip amid a shower of old shoes and the hearty congratulations of all assembled. The bride was the recipient of a large number of very valuable presents. We extend our best wishes for their future happiness.

Cataraqui Collings.

The concert under the auspices of the Ladies Aid on Thursday next promises to be a nice affair. The choir from Westbrook will furnish the music for the occasion.—Mrs. Joseph Bower, jr., has sold out and moved west with his wife and family.—Mrs. E. Jackson, of Ithaca, is making a visit to her parents. The farmers say they never saw the ground so wet at this time of the year. There is hardly any fall ploughing done.—Joseph B. Cooke is doing a fine business in his new store at Westbrook. His brother Charles takes his place in the market garden at Sunbury.—Mr. A. Shaw preached here on Nov. 1st and addressed the Sunday School. His services here are always very acceptable.

Battersea Happenings.

The Orange concert, which was to have taken place on the evening of Nov. 5th, was postponed owing to the inclement weather.—Disease is continuing its ravages among cattle and horses in this vicinity. Mr. Jackson lost a valuable horse. Mr. Fennis a colt, and Mr. Lake a heifer.—Miss M. M. M. of Sunbury is visiting friends here.—Mr. Leonard has been engaged as teacher for the ensuing year.—William Young has again taken up his residence in Battersea, after an absence of nearly one year in Michigan.—Our cheese factory has closed for the season.—F. L. Langstaff for the Medical College on Tuesday. Some of our Hallowell boys met with rather a warm reception at places along their route.—HALL.

Parham Notes.

Nov. 3rd.—Mr. Holston has taken the necessary steps toward building a cheese factory here.—C. Godfrey, jr., of Piccadilly was entertained at the house of John A. Guthrie.—The hum of the threshing machine may be heard here now.—Sewing machines and organs are in great demand.—George Howes house is just finished. The plastering and carpentering is being done.—The neighbourhood.—Norman Patterson has completely recovered from his recent illness.—William Hamilton, general grocer, is doing a rushing business.—Parham is the nearest village in the township.—PUMKIN.

Wilton Whispers.

Roads almost impassable.—Large quantities of hay were sold during the past week and placed on the cars at Harrowsmith.—Mr. Thompson, of Montreal, is visiting friends at Wilton.—Rev. Mr. Robinson has had successful revival services at Wilton.—Miss Neilson is giving satisfaction in her management of the Wilton school.—Potatoes are very scarce and the grain is not yielding as farmers expected.—Miss Snook stands sponsoring the winter in the village of Large quantities of hickory nuts have been stolen this fall, some after they have been gathered.—L.

Motion Dettings.

A student held service in the church here on Sunday.—Mr. S. Kelly lost his oldest child by scarlet fever.—There are a number of cases among here.—The roads in this section were very bad on account of the late rain.—Taper & Son have just received a large consignment of goods.—Mr. B. Henderson is home from the cheese factory, and is making general repairs on his premises.—The services of Miss Brian, as school teacher, are secured for next year. The main question here is, Will Kild be hung?

Harrowsmith Happenings.

Messrs. Stewart and Gallagher are doing a large business in grain and hay.—Our hoppers have returned, bringing with them seven fine deer.—Mr. C. Ruttan has in operation his new saw and grist mill. The mill is a great addition to the industry of our village, and Mr. Ruttan should be heartily supported by the farmers of this district.—Mr. E. C. Spooner has entered the arena as a grain buyer.—Mr. S. F. Stewart has recovered from a very severe attack of senility.

Parham Notes.

The roads to the K. & P. station are in a bad condition at present, being very muddy and somewhat cut up.—What happened the young man who got to the top of the stairs and no further? Did he get frightened?—Mr. George Wager has nearly completed the store at Kingsville.—J. A. Griffiths, of Mr. George Howes has been purchased by a very fine organ from Mr. Vandewater.—Norman Patterson, who has been ill for some time, is slowly recovering.

Joyceville Echoes.

Mr. P. McLaughlin has returned from Montreal, his physician advising him to retire for an indefinite period.—M. J. Joyce is erecting a building on the site proposed for the Joyceville town hall.—Many of the farmers here are shipping their barley on the str. Kharthout at Washburn.—The bulk of it ranks as No. 1.—John Gibson, Kingston, shot 29 ducks on the river Str. in one day.—Rev. J. H. Nimmes passed through here last week vaccinating residents free of charge.
