

NINE MEMBERS SECURED.

MRS. SAWYER ADDRESSING AN AUDIENCE AT ODESSA.

Telling Truths in Regard to Missionary Work—A Youth Fell, Breaking His Arm—A Young Lady Met With a Misadventure at Ottawa.

ODESSA, Aug. 20.—The missionary service conducted by the woman's missionary society of the Methodist church, on Sabbath evening last, was very interesting and successful. The church was well filled. After the opening exercises the Rev. P. Benoit read responsively by the pastor and members of the auxiliary, who occupied the front pews. An encouraging report of the auxiliary's year's work was read by Mrs. (Dr.) Maclean. Miss Hilda Smith gave words of invitation to those women of the church not yet members of the auxiliary, to join with them and by their prayers and means help the missionary cause.

Dr. Metzler, in a five minutes address paid a most eloquent tribute to woman and her work in elevating the world. No one would deny that woman's sphere was her home but that home was to be found wherever woman's hand can beautify or her presence can charm. He concluded a very stirring address by introducing Mrs. Sawyer, of Montreal, as one who had devoted herself to the cause of Christ in uplifting humanity.

Mrs. Sawyer has a pleasing and earnest manner and speaks with distinctness, fluency and force. Her subject was "The World's Bread," being a study of the miracle performed by Christ in feeding the five thousand. The address was full of telling truths in regard to missionary work and the necessity of increased interest especially among the women of the church. She prefaced her remarks with an account of the work being done by the W.M.S. in Quebec, in the north-west, in the "schools for girls, the Chinese home for girls on the Pacific coast, in Japan and China. Christians to-day are given the command by Christ, "Give ye them to eat," while millions of women and children in heathen lands are crying out, "Give us Jesus," the Bread of Life. The excuses given to-day by women for not associating themselves actively in the work of the W.M.S. were noticed and criticized and an earnest appeal made to all the women present that, for the sake of Christ and the church and for the sake of the down-trodden women of heathen lands and of themselves, they should unite with those who are doing what they can to convert the kingdoms of this earth to the kingdom of God and of His Christ. The words of the speaker were eloquent and feeling, and the result of the address should be a large increase in the membership of the auxiliary here. Two beautiful solos were rendered by Georgie Watts and Henry Smith.

Nine new members of the society were received during the taking of the offering.

School re-opened on Monday with a good attendance. The teachers, Mr. Caswell, Miss Stevenson and Miss Bailey, arrived on Saturday and took charge of their different departments.

Rev. Mr. Secombe has placed a new walk leading to the parsonage, a needed improvement. The telephone line from Wilton has been completed and machines will be placed to-day. The line is being continued to Collinsby. There was a special time at the S. A. barracks. Ensign McLean, of Kingston, was out and delivered an address.

Fred. Heath, son of Peter Heath, met with an unfortunate accident on Saturday. He was in the mow at John Smith's barn helping to unload grain, when a plank connected with the horse fork gave way, and in falling struck his arm, breaking it. The limb was set and is doing as well as could be expected.

Sidney Denyes left on Sunday for Rochester, where he will spend a week visiting his brother George, and will incidentally take in the circuit races. Johnny Graham and wife, and Miss Martha Sproule took in the Ottawa excursion last week. While in Ottawa Miss Sproule led the misfortune to fall and sprain her wrist quite badly. It is progressing quite favorably now, however. Thos. Caton and family are still suffering from typhoid fever. Mrs. Shewell and Miles Caton being the worst sufferers. The township council will hold its regular session on Monday, August 30th. Will Clark has removed his boiler shop to Main street, next to Watts & Jones' carriage factory. A young man was called out of the Free Methodist tent meeting the other night. He was awaited outside by two young ladies and a horse-whip. The sequel dependent knoweth not. There were extensive moving operations in the east end on Saturday afternoon last.

Walter Watts, in the employ of the N. & W. R.R., at Yarker, is home on a two weeks' visit. Work on B. A. Booth & Co's woolen factory, recently burned, has begun. A new record this week in the corn line. Albert Snider brought to the village last night a stalk of western corn, grown by Joseph Lucas, measuring exactly thirteen feet. In last week's correspondence in the item on the wedding at the parsonage, "choice" should have read "chance." Visitors: Jas. Dillon and wife, St. Catherine's, at Dr. Mabee's; Mrs. Huyck, Montreal, at Dr. Mencham's; Miss Perry, Morven, at G. W. Benjamin's; Miss Moore, Newburgh, Messrs. Archie and Ernest Young, Cherry Valley, at G. Watt's; J. D. Wagar and wife, Wellington, and Charlie Wagar, Enterprise, at Jas. Johnston's; Miss Lizzie Asselstine, of Asselstine's, at Miss Daisy Secombe's; N. Y. Benjamin, Watertown, at his son's Ralph Benjamin; Geo. Baker, Syracuse, at his grandfather's, Ira Smith; Miss Mabel Ham, at Miss Hoyle's; Robert McCready, Plainfield, at Geo. Ham's.

Rev. Fr. Benoit will deliver a lecture in the town hall, Odessa, on Tuesday evening next, Aug. 27th, at 7:30 p.m. The subject of the lecture will be "Modern Romanism," and Father Benoit being an ex-Roman Catholic knows whereof he speaks. He is now working in the Sabrevois mission of the Church of England among the French Roman Catholics of Lower Canada. There will be a charge of 10c. admission at the door to cover necessary expenses and the balance of proceeds will be devoted to the Sabrevois mission. Those who have heard him all speak very highly of his eloquence and of the interest and instructiveness of his lecture.

Consulting A Lawyer.

At a court of the Independent Order of Foresters in an eastern village a citizen of Kingston and a member of a court in the county of Frontenac was charged with having given the secrets of the order away. A resolution was passed, embracing the charges, and a copy of it sent to the court to which the member supposed to have erred, belongs. It is said that a girl first made the charge that the man gave the secrets away. He says the charges are not true, and to-day consulted a lawyer with a view to entering an action against the mover and seconder of the resolution.

He Ended His Life.

The sad announcement is made from Carleton Place of the suicide, on Sunday, of Wm. Cram, by taking carbolic acid. He only lived fifteen minutes after taking it, and no medical skill could save him. He has been in precarious health and suffered a good deal for a year or two past, and lately it was seen that his mind was somewhat affected. One of the daughters is organist in Zion church, of which Rev. A. A. Scott is pastor, and all the family were attending the services, excepting the eldest son William who remained at home with his father. Financially Mr. Cram was in easy circumstances and a property owner of considerable extent.

An Interesting Excursion.

There was a large crowd on the America again on Saturday afternoon to enjoy the annual special trip amongst the Thousand Isles. The trip was much enjoyed and the scenery appreciated until after entering the Lost Channel when the storm came up with terrific force, the lightning being very vivid. For a time excitement prevailed, one woman almost fainting away. "To add to this the steamer rolled over a boulder causing her to tip on her side. On reaching the Thousand Island Park it was noticed there had been no rain or any evidence of the storm of a short time previous. A half hour was given at the park. Leaving there at 6:30 o'clock the return home was made shortly after nine o'clock.

Sole Survivor Died Here.

The original New Orleans Jubilee troupe is now extinct. This morning Frank S. Thomas, the only surviving member, died at the Stanley house, aged thirty-eight years. He had been sick since spring, his illness commencing with grippe and ending with an acute attack of Bright's disease, for which he had not been doctoring. He took medicine to relieve heart trouble principally. He was a very smart tenor singer and was manager of the troupe known as the New Orleans Jubilee singers for about seven years. He was highly respected by the singers, whose grief over his death is intense. He had been on the road for eighteen years, having become a member of the first troupe of Jubilee singers when it started on a tour to raise money for the endowment and establishment of a seminary known as the Lastach seminary, near New Orleans, for the education of colored people. In four years the trip raised over $58,000. The seminary is now self-sustaining. Decayed was educated in the institution and was a member of the Southern Cross masonic order of Louisville, Kentucky, where he was born.

RACES AT CATARAQUI PARK.

THE SPORT WAS GOOD AND THE AUDIENCE FAIR.

The Races Were Free From Jockeying or Other Unsportsmanlike Work—The Time Was Not Real Fast—Joy on Petrie Going to the Front.

Cataraqui driving park is again in full swing, and racing people in Kingston are glad of it. Several years ago the track had the reputation of being the fastest in Canada, and the best time made on any of the eastern circuit tracks was generally turned out in Kingston. James Guess, who took charge of the track this year, understood thoroughly the wants of the public in this line and personally superintended the improvements being made. Of late years Kingston has not had the best possible name for horse races, and a few of the leading men in the racing arena signed with the eastern circuit with the principal idea of reclaiming the old time reputation of the district. Personal guarantees were put up to racehorse men, that their purses would be paid and for this reason, horses came to the city that might otherwise have remained at home.

The opening day of the circuit Tuesday afternoon was successful, and no one can offer complaint for the manner in which the races were conducted. Mr. Sewell, the official starter, from Oswego, is the right kind of a man for the business and has the faculty of getting a lot of horses off in nice style. Three classes were put on, the 2:30 and 2:27 trots and running race. Pool sellers and book makers were located on the grounds and some "one" said the premises looked like a small Saratoga. The track was in perfect shape, but not very fast time was made judging from the performance of the same horses at other places. The 2:30 class should have been trotted off in three heats instead of five, and an instance of the jockeying was laid open, when, on Mr. Sewell's suggestion, the judge called off the fourth heat and made the horses go again. Sodana had been leading and pulled out on the stretch and let Bell Howard take the pole to finish the race. The judge did not consider it square sport and another heat had to be trotted. Top bookies had everything their own way and only bet on sure things. They backed Princess L, in the 2:27 class, and Beethoven, sold best. The race was trotted on its merits and the Waford horse won easily in three straight heats.

The running race was the most interesting of all, not because of any great burst of speed but on account of the competitors in the race. The boys were all glad to see "Abe" on top of a runner again, and Pat McLaughlin looked quite natural walking about the track with his hands rammed jammed down in his pockets. Glorali and King William were going at even money, and the starter let them go after Abe had had a chance to get in a little band stand riding. Glorali did not get off very well, but it did not matter. Petrie pushed him on the back stretch and came home fully a length and a half ahead. There was great cheering and Mr. Petrie had to take off his hat and bow to the grand stand. About 150 young lads then followed Mr. Petrie to the barn and he was indeed king of the situation. The second heat ended the same way although King William pushed the Kingston horse a little harder so that he only won by a neck. There would have been other horses in the race had there not been stipulation, barring everything but Frontenac and Lennox horses.

THE EVIDENCE THEY PRODUCED

That the Hated Foreigners Were Guilty of the Death of Chinese.

Dr. O. L. Kilborn has forwarded us from Shanghai, China, reports of the assault upon the Canadian Methodist mission at Chen-Tu, much of which, however, has already been published. This is new:

"Thursday, May 30th, while the magistrate assured us that he was doing his best to quiet the people, we learned through the most trustworthy channels of the state of affairs throughout the city. The viceroy had posted that long and feebly-worded proclamation and squads of soldiers were encamped on the sites of the ruined buildings.

"In opposition to these measures a human head and a hand were nailed on the ruins of the gateway of one of the Roman Catholic compounds. Fresh blood had been splashed on the wall of one of the Protestant mission compounds and an inscription informed the people that this was the spot where the foreigners had murdered their victims, and this the victims' blood. Human bones were actually excavated on the site of one of the R. C. chapels. The French missionaries, when questioned by the officials, explained that these were the remains of a bishop murdered in Chen-Tu about fifty years ago, and buried under that chapel. Some of these bones were brought to the yamen and exposed, not only for official inspection, but to the gaze of thronging crowds. Some bones were suspended from street gateways as proof to every passer-by of the guilt of the hated foreigners. Human heads, hands and feet were obtained from recent pauper graves outside the south gate, and were carried exposed through several miles of streets to the yamen, where they were added to the bones before mentioned. These things were carried by soldiers in red coats who stated freely that these were the indisputable evidence of the foreigners' guilt. The wells, on at least several mission premises, were examined under official direction. Human bones were reputed to have been found in one. It was freely stated, said our informants, that absolutely convicting evidence must be obtained, and was obtained, from each mission compound, Protestant and Roman Catholic alike."
