THE FAMOUS ALERT BURNED.

Had Anchored Nearer the Pole Than Any Other Boat.

QUEBEC, Sept. 28.—Her majesty's steamer Alert, one of the most famous of the vessels that were engaged in Arctic exploring, has sailed her last voyage. Bought at auction for less than $5,000, from the Canadian government a few weeks ago by a shipbuilder of New Brunswick, the Alert was beached on the Beaufort shoals, in this harbor, by her purchaser, and after being dismantled, was fired for the sake of her old metal.
The Alert has the record of having anchored in latitude eighty-two degrees twenty-seven minutes, nearer to the pole than any other ship. At that time she formed part of the Nares polar expedition of 1875 and 1876 and was commanded by Captain (now Admiral) Markham. Her sister-ship was the Discovery. For over four months the members of this expedition never saw the sun. They reached the grave of Capt. R. C. Hall, of the United States ship Polar, and erected a memorial plate over it.

Methodists Taboo Tobacco.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Sept. 30.—The authorities of Ohio Wesleyan university will carry out the anti-tobacco rule of the faculty the coming year in letter and spirit, refusing to matriculate any student who uses the weed in any form. The various conferences and bishops have had much trouble in expelling the tobacco habit from the Methodist ministry, and the college people propose starting early in their effort to stop the use of the stuff. In the earlier days the rules of the church were not so strict against tobacco, and many an old minister has found it the effort of his life to stop chewing and smoking.

LOUIS PASTEUR IS DEAD.

DIED PAINLESSLY SURROUNDED BY HIS FAMILY.

He Passed Away On Saturday Night—He Suffered From Paralysis—He Will Be Given a State Funeral On Thursday Next.

PARIS, Sept. 30.—Professor Louis Pasteur, the eminent bacteriologist, died on Saturday at Garches, near St. Cloud, in the environs of this city. Prof. Louis Pasteur had suffered from paralysis for a considerable period of time. About eight days ago he sustained a violent paralytic stroke, and on Friday suffered still another severe attack. He grew worse rapidly, and remained in a comatose condition during his last hours. The end was absolutely without pain. His wife devotedly watched his bedside. His son, his daughter and his son-in-law, M. Valleryadot, and two grandchildren, as well as Dr. Roux and Dr. Chantemesse, were present when he passed away.

The government has decided to make the funeral of Prof. Louis Pasteur a state affair. Prof. Pasteur's widow has received telegrams of sympathy from President Faure, and M. Challemeil la Cour, president of the senate. The government desired to inter the remains of the distinguished savant in the pantheon, but it was the family's wish that they should be buried at the Pasteur institute. The obsequies will be held at the cathedral of Notre Dame publicly on next Thursday.

Louis Pasteur was born at Dole, Jura, Dec. 27th, 1822; entered the university in 1840; was received as a pupil in the Ecole Normale in 1843; took the degree of doctor in 1847, and was appointed professor of physics at the faculty of sciences, Strasbourg, in 1848. At the end of 1844 he was entrusted, as dean, with the organization of the newly-created faculty of sciences, at Lille, and in 1858 returned to Paris and undertook the scientific direction of the Ecole Normale. In December, 1863, he was elected a member of the institute. The Royal society, of London, in 1856, awarded M. Pasteur the Rumford medal for his researches relative to the polarization of light, etc., and in 1859 he was elected one of the fifty foreign members of that society. He has written numerous works relating to chemistry, for which, in 1861, he obtained the Jecker prize. In 1874 the national assembly accorded to M. Pasteur, as a reward chiefly for his investigations on fermentation, a life annuity of 12,000 francs. He was raised to the rank of grand officer of the Legion of Honor, Oct. 24th, 1878. His reception into the French academy took place April 27th, 1882. Of late years M. Pasteur had devoted himself to the study of inoculation for diseases other than small-pox, and had achieved some very remarkable results in the prevention of hydrophobia. Patients from all parts of Europe, and even from America, travelled to Paris to put themselves under his care.

The Babe Died.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Sept. 30.—The ten-week-old child of George W. Adams, of West Haven, died yesterday. Two Christian science doctors, a man and a woman, treated him. They would pick up the baby and look at it straight in the eyes for a long time, holding it outstretched. Then they would turn it at another angle, look at it and then keep on looking. The alleged doctors finally declared that the case needed more science than they could muster, so a well-known female scientist was called on. She gave the baby what she called "absent treatment," transmitting it through the air from Boston. The authorities are investigating.

Arteries Turned to Bone.

TOPEKA, Kan., Sept. 30.—It is learned that the sudden death of J. G. Wilson, receiver of the Santa Fe, at New York, last Wednesday, which mystified his most intimate friends, was caused by ossification of the arteries. This was discovered by an examination made by physicians while the body was on the way west for burial. It is also learned that Mr. Wilson was informed more than two years ago by a physician, while he was in New York, that his arteries ultimately would ossify and cause death.

A Fast of Thirty Days.

MONTREAL, Sept. 30.—The news comes from the parish of St. Barnabe, county of St. Maurice, that a daughter of F. X. Bellemare, notary, has not taken any food for over thirty days, and although, she is very weak can walk about the house and even go to church. Last year the same girl remained twenty days without eating. The doctors of the locality cannot explain the strange phenomenon.

Hamilton's Butternut Pills—A Reliable Non-Mercurial Purgative. One a Dose.

Every household should have always on hand a few simple remedies. No greater need than a safe, mild and efficient purgative can be mentioned, and no remedy so exactly fills the bill as Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Magdruke and Butternut. These pills contain no calomel, never gripe, act mildly, but most thoroughly upon the liver, and in a word, the best purgative medicine in the market. Sold by all dealers and a H. Wade's.

IS STRIPPED OF HIS RANK.

The British Government Brings China to Terms—The Viceroy Punished.

LONDON, Sept. 30.—The British ultimatum in the matter of the Sze-Chuen riots has been issued and within four days an edict must be published degrading the viceroy of the province, or the British admiral commanding will act.

The inquiry into the Chinese outrages at Ku-Cheng was abruptly closed by the viceroy deputy. A native soldier who insulted British consul Hansfield was bastinadoed.

A despatch from Shanghai says that the British admiral Bueller, commanding the Chinese squadron arrived at Woo Sung on Saturday on board the warship Edgar. The other English war vessels at Woo Sung are the cruisers Caroline, Undaunted and Archer and the despatch boat Alacrity. The war sloop Daphne and the gunboat Firebrand at Shanghai and at various ports up the Yang Tse Kiang are the cruisers Rainbow, Spartan and Eolus and the gunboats Plaver and Swift.

LONDON, Oct. 1.—A despatch from Peking was received at the foreign office yesterday confirming the statement that China had acted favorably on the demands of the Marquis of Salisbury for the punishment of the viceroy of Sze-Chuen who Sir Nicholas O'Connor, the British minister at Peking, reported was responsible for the outrages beginning in May at the mission stations in Cheu-Tu, the capital of Sze-Chuen.

The despatch received at the foreign office states that the Chinese Official Gazette has published an imperial edict announcing that the viceroy of Sze-Chuen has been stripped of his rank for failing to protect the missionaries and will never again be allowed to hold office, so that his case will serve as a warning for all future time to officials who may be disposed to do wrong.

The decree also denounces the subordinate officials of the province who failed to take proper action for the protection of the missionaries.

The Pall Mall Gazette says that the Sung-Li-Yamen (the board controlling Chinese foreign affairs) formally communique its decision to the British minister, who expressed himself as satisfied with the terms of the edict. "It is now probable," also says the Pall Mall Gazette, "that the British vessels which had entered the Yang-Tse-Kiang river for the purpose of enforcing the demands of Great Britain will forthwith descend the river and resume their former stations."

Admiral Buller, commander-in-chief of the British fleet in Chinese waters, has arrived at Shanghai on board the despatch boat Alacrity.

MORE OUTRAGES IN CHINA.

Christians Attacked And Wounded—Their Houses Looted And Cattle Stolen.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 2.—Advices from Tokio, dated Sept. 17th, received by the steamer City of Peking, state that another anti-Christian outrage is reported in China. On the 3rd of August as service was proceeding in one of the chapels of the American board of missions in Canton, a number of roughs entered the building, vilified the native christians, declared that the black flags had beaten the Japanese and said that a reward of $2 would be given to a Chinaman that killed a foreigner. Owing to the tumult the minister had to discontinue service, after which the mob proceeded to destroy the furniture.

News also comes from Fochow that at Hoo-Chong, near Hing-Hua, an attack has been made on the native christians. Several of the latter were wounded, one fatally; eight houses were looted and destroyed, and the cattle of the christians were stolen. The riot is said to have resulted from a proclamation with a double meaning issued by the magistrate on the subject of the Kucheng massacre. The report adds that five appeals made to the magistrate for protection were unsuccessful.

Li Hung Chang has been appointed manager of the imperial chancery or prime minister of China. He will henceforth reside in Peking. Opinions differ as to the significance of this step, but there seems to be little doubt that it means the great viceroy's political extinction.

LABELLED "I AM A THIEF."

Two Distinguished Clerks in Chicago Wore Such Placards Publicly.

CHICAGO, Sept. 30.—Two young clerks in the employ of Hibbard, Spencer, Bartlett & Co., the wholesale hardware merchants, were caught stealing. Mr. Hibbard told them they could choose between jail and wearing cards with the words "I am a thief" printed in large letters. They chose the placard punishment. Mr. Hibbard hung the two placards around the necks of the two young men and took them all over the establishment so that every employe in the large building might witness the disgrace into which his thieving fellow-workmen had fallen.

After this Mr. Hibbard called a large colored man in the employ of the firm and stood him between the two young men at the exit, where every man and woman in the store would see them when passing out at six o'clock. They were then discharged.

Toronto's Rustic Features.

TORONTO, Oct. 2.—During the last two weeks, G. M. Hunt, inspector of the Standard Life insurance company, residing on Shaw street, has missed chickens from his poultry yard at the back of the house. Yesterday the cause was discovered. It was a fox, which had its home in a hole under the sidewalk in front of the residence of Mr. Hunt. Further depredations on the part of Mr. Raymond were stopped by a bullet being sent through his head. It is a mystery how he comes so near the centre of the city in a thickly populated street.

No Divorce From Any Cause.

COLUMBIA, S.C., Oct. 2.—After a long debate, the constitutional convention has decided that there shall never be a divorce granted in South Carolina for any cause. The vote was eighty-six to forty-nine. Senator Tillman did his best to have the divorces of other states recognized in this state, but for once his appeals were heard with a deaf ear, and he was voted down. The bible was quoted from very freely during the debate.

SHE'S TO ADORN BLENHEIM.

FIVE MILLIONS WILL BE GIVEN BY W. K. VANDERBILT.

Wedding Day is Fixed—Marlborough Will Have a Duchess on Nov. 14th—Honey-moon on Papa's Yacht And in Some German Castle—Wedding Gifts Galore.

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—Miss Consuelo Vanderbilt and the Duke of Marlborough will be married on Nov. 14th in Grace church. Right Rev. Henry C. Potter, D.D., bishop of the diocese of New York, will perform the ceremony, assisted by the rector, Rev. Dr. Huntington. William K. Vanderbilt will give his daughter away at the altar, but whether or not he will appear at the reception, which is to follow the ceremony at the residence of Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt, Madison avenue and Seventy-second street, is a question nobody seems able to answer.

In deference to British custom, the marriage will be celebrated at noon and will be followed by an elaborate breakfast, thoroughly English in all its details. The Prince of Wales, it is said, will send a representative to this country to attend the wedding. The duke's mother, the Marchioness of Blandford, will also be present, likewise a number of his relatives. That Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt or any of William K. Vanderbilt's family will go to the wedding is considered quite improbable. Society is asking itself whether Cornelius Vanderbilt will present his niece with the silver dinner service purchased by him years ago of the duke's father. It was formerly used at Blenheim and each piece bears the arms of the house of Churchill.

The young people will make the trip in regular fashion, quite by themselves, aboard Mr. Vanderbilt's yacht Valiant, which he will place at their disposal. On their arrival on the other side the duke and duchess will proceed to Saxony, where, through the hospitality of the emperor of Germany, they will spend a few weeks in some picturesque out-of-the-way castle. Their visit to Germany over, they will go to Blenheim by way of Paris, where they will be joined by Mrs. Vanderbilt. Blenheim is one of the finest estates in England, or in the world. It is situated in Oxfordshire and contains about 2,700 acres.

When Mrs. Louis Hemmery married the present duke's father Blenheim had suffered greatly from the want of money to keep it up. She at once set about restoring it as much as possible to some of its old-time splendor, although it could never be fully restored at any price, for many of its superb art treasures went under the hammer at the Marlborough art sale in 1886.

In addition to the dowry of $10,000,000 to go with Miss Vanderbilt upon her marriage with the duke, another settlement of $5,000,000 has been made by Mr. Vanderbilt. This last sum, it is understood, will be entirely expended on Blenheim, and will enable the duke and his young duchess to keep it up in regal state. The future Duchess of Marlborough will be presented to the queen by the Marchioness of Blandford at one of the spring drawing-rooms.

Mrs. Vanderbilt and Miss Vanderbilt have come to New York. Besides the splendid settlement Mr. Vanderbilt has made upon his daughter, it is understood that he will give her some superb jewels, among other things a long string of diamonds like the one he presented her mother some years ago. It is two yards long and consists of large matched gems. The duke's mother will bring the Churchill jewels over with her for her son's bride.

COULD NOT STAND THE SHOCK.

Seeing a Fire in His Own House Mr. Fraser Dropped Dead.

LANCASTER, Sept. 30.—Sunday morning the fire-bell, erected last week, sounded an alarm for the first time. Morning service was being held in Knox church at the time, and the pastor, the Rev. A. Graham, told any of the congregation who could assist, to leave as the town had no fire brigade. Many did so, including Alexander Fraser. When the latter turned the post office corner he saw the crowd around his own house. The shock was too much for him and he fell. On being approached, he gasped once and expired. The minister was informed of this just as he was about to begin his sermon, so he asked the congregation to remain for a few minutes and promised to return. He was too late, however, to render any assistance. Mrs. Fraser was in church and was quietly removed, being told that the fire was out. Mr. Fraser was a respected citizen—a retired farmer, seventy years of age and a native of Fraser's Point, Quebec.

HERESY CASE IN MONTREAL.

A Young Divinity Student With Views Likely to be Called Down.

MONTREAL, Sept. 30.—It looks as if Montreal Presbyterians had another heresy case on their hands. On Sunday Rev. Dr. Smyth, pastor of Calvin church, was in want of a preacher for the day, and Mr. Keith, secretary of the McGill college Y. M. C. A. and a divinity student of considerable promise, was sent as a supply. The sermon although an able effort, especially when the speaker declared that it is possible for good men and women to have doubts regarding certain portions of the scripture. The pastor of the church, who was present, arose at the conclusion of the sermon and rebuked the young theologian, declaring that there could be no possible doubt as to the inspiration of the sacred writings. It is understood that the matter will be further threshed out at the next meeting of the presbytery.

It's a Daniel.

MONTREAL, Sept. 28.—Judge Wartelet, who is presiding at the Demers murder trial, at the opening of the case yesterday, asked all the women who respected themselves to leave the court room.

Only two or three left and scores remained. Then the judge said:

"You have all heard my request; the police will now put the others out." And they did.

A New Rectory Building.

SHARBOT LAKE, Oct. 1.—The rectory being built by Rev. Mr. Smith is, to say the very least, a credit to this village. It will be in every sense of the word a magnificent structure. He deserves great praise for the way in which he has pushed business and secured a subscription list that would be a credit to a much larger place.
