

JENKINS
Has the very latest in new DRESDEN SILK TIES.
25 CENTS EACH.
They are all the rage.

THE DAILY WRIG.

SIXTY-THIRD YEAR.—NO. 201. KINGSTON, ONTARIO, SATURDAY EVENING, AUGUST 29, 1896. PRICE TWO CENTS.

SEE
OUR WINDOW FOR...

$1.50
BARGAINS

HAMES & LOCKETT

IN THE DARK.
Are you in the dark as to what is the trouble with your eyes?
Come in and on the subject let us throw the light on our experience.

R. G. MITCHELL, — Chemist and Optician 124 PRINCESS STREET.

NEVER SOLD IN BULK.
OCEAN
WAVE BAKING POWDER
PLEASE EVERYBODY

"Afternoon Cereal"
It is now more fashionable than the ubiquitous "afternoon tea." Cereal is a delightful, healthy and restoring substitute for tea and coffee. Has a flavor and aroma unknown in any other drink. Regular package makes 50 cups. Trial package 50 cups by mail, post-paid, 25c. Ask your druggist.

MADDEN CEREAL CO. NAPANEE, ONT.

Our Last Saturday.
This will be our last Saturday in our present store. Genuine Bargains in Boys' Clothing, plain figures, such as this: $1, $1.25, $1.50, $2, $3 per suit, about half price. Gent's Furnishings, Hats and Caps. All prices in plain figures.
See for yourself.

OAK HALL
216 MARKET SQUARE.

STOP! STOP!
ORIENT'S
COUGH
Cure
FOR 10c.

HOTEL REGISTERS
The WHIG Office makes a specialty of Hotel Registers.

AUTUMN Dress Goods
Are coming to hand. The first lots opened are very attractive.

TAILOR TWEEDS.
Small and large, checks, colors, come out clean and clear, for school wear, 25c, 35c, 50c. Fine Scotch Effects 50c, 60c, 75c, $1.

PLAIDS.
Never were colors made to cross each other at right angles with half the witchery as now.
Here are Plaids in all the combinations 25c, 35c, 50c, 75c, $1.

Bicycle Serge.
A sturdy material and anything but common looking. Navy Blue or Black.
The whirling pedals won't perforate it, nor razor-toed shoes make holes in it. 44 inch wide.
50c.
New styles Fall Jackets now showing.

HARDY'S
123 PRINCESS ST., North Side — Kingston
KINGSTON'S AUTUMN CARNIVAL
TO BE HELD
SEPTEMBER 1, 2, 3 and 4, At the Midland Central Fair Grounds.

BASE BALL MATCH—Granites of Kingston, vs. Duke's, Toronto.
BICYCLE RACES—Three Professional and Four Amateur Races.
HORSE RACES—$1,000 in purses.
Grand Musical and May Pole RIDING by the M. C. Officers, Men and Horse-of "A" Field Battery, R. C. A.
BAND CONCERTS in the evening.
Admission—Adults 50c, Children under 12 years, 10c.
W. M. DRENNAN,
Manager and Secretary.

EVANGELISTIC PREACHING.
CITY PARK.
SUNDAY EVENING, 8 O'clock (Weather permitting)
14th Battalion Band.
H. MYDDLETON WOOD will again speak on "The Kingdom of God in These Days." All are cordially invited.

CARPENTERS' TOOLS of every description at greatly reduced prices.
A. STRACHAN.
FOR SALE VERY CHEAP.

PERSONAL MENTION.
Movements of the People—What They Are Saying and Doing.
Mr. and Mrs. Simpson, Kingston, are visiting in Wellington.
Miss Tessie Dickson, Camden East, is visiting friends in the city.
Miss Dunn, Belleville, is spending a vacation here with friends at the Ferguson, Lanark, comes to the Limestone city in the future.
Joseph Swift has returned from a vacaon spent on the Saguenay.
Miss Lillian Ferguson, visiting in Napaereturning home yesterday.
Miss Lizette Cooks, Johnston street, is visiting friends in Rochester, N. Y.
Mrs. Joseph Carrington and two daughters, Kinross, are visiting in Gananoque.
Miss Albin Barron, Gananoque, is the guest of Miss McDonald, Clergy street.
Mr. Abbott, agent for the Rathburn road at Gananoque, is in the city on business.
Mrs. A. W. Richardson, Napaeque, is here to spend a few days with friends.
Arthur and Carl Pflorshamer, New York, visiting B. Oberdorfer, returned home today.
Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Crosby, of Boston, are visiting Joseph Groves, Wellington street.
Mrs. Erwin and family have returned to Kingston. They were summering at Lake Dumfries.
William Cronk, Deseronto, has gone on a trip to Eastern Manitoba, in the interest of his health.
Mr. W. Moore's family returned from Pitterville where they have been spending the summer.
Miss Katie Ainslie, Kingston, is the guest of her cousin, Miss Anna Ainslie, Waterloo, N. Y.
Mrs. A. W. Richardson, Napaeque, N. Y., returning from the Saguenay, are spending a few days in the city.
Ald. C. Livingston and family returned from Cherry Island, near Gananoque, where they have been summering.
Mrs. White, Toronto, mother of Mrs.
T. J. Kinross, agent street, is visiting in Kingston for a couple of weeks.
Rev. C. W. Richardson, pastor of the First Congregational church, is spending holidays with relatives in Montreal.
T. Duxley Allen, journalist, of this city, has been offered a position on the editorial staff of one of the leading newspapers of Liverpool, Eng.
Mr. Wilbur, president of the Lehigh Valley railroad, and party, fishing at Bob's Lake, returned down the river to-day on his yacht "Sloop." The party had excellent fishing.
N. F. Elliott, a recent butcher on Brock street, called this morning for Liverpool to join his brothers in the cattle business at Richmond, Eng. It is likely that he will go to South Africa to open a branch of the business there.
Died at Detroit, Mich.
A telegram this morning announced the death in Detroit, Mich., of Mrs. John P.
Wilmot, wife of the late Robert Gill, of this city. She was a woman of rare qualities, gentle, devoted and self-sacrif-ing, and her death, after long illness, is a great loss to her family and to the community. Her husband was a Kingstonian, a son of an Auld, Edward Wilmot.

WHERE IGNORANCE IS BLISS IS SURELY FOLLY TO BE WISE.
What An Observer Sees in An American City—Finds the Inhabitants Very Ignorant Concerning This Glorious Country—The Condition of Things Over There.

The ignorance displayed by the average American concerning Canada and Canadian affairs is astonishing. Canadian history does not form a part of the public school curriculum of this country, although every schoolboy and girl can tell you that "we likened the British once." It is not only school children whose knowledge of Canada—that glorious northern country—is deficient, but gray-headed veterans who lived through a life-time with a ride of some of the largest cities in the dominion and yet have failed to take advantage of the fact, visit the country and see for themselves that a splendid place it is. Last week, in conversation with a resident of the flower city who has passed the three-score milestone, and who within that time by frugality stored away a sufficient sum to enable him to travel, he told me that his family in very comfortable circumstances without performing any "wage labor," confessed his ignorance of Canada as a nation and people. He had never understood or-arts were still in use in Canada, (pronounced "Kennedy" here by a majority of the people), was of opinion that the country was inhabited only on the lake border for only a short distance, and that the people lived with the woods on one side of the and the lake on the other, was not aware there were any cities in Canada as large as Rochester, and would not believe the statement that Kingston had the finest street railway in North America. A minister of the gospel, with all sincerity, asked, "How far do you live from the woods?" A young lady of marriageable years coolly asked me if Canada as large as Rochester?" Try and imagine the feelings of a loyal and patriotic Canadian under such circumstances.
Such ignorance of the United States would not be known in the junior classes of Kingston's public schools, and it is safe to say that a ten-year-old Canadian school boy knows more of the history of the United States and of affairs of the nation than the average American youth of Canada of the age of fifty. The importance and superiority of his own country is drilled into the American school boy until he becomes an enthusiast of the native land. It is a possible occurrence
"Old Glory" is hoisted with much attendance ceremony, and the youth are taught
"that the flag that conquered one which for a thousand years braved the breast of the breeze," the flag pole is to be found before every school house in city
and country, and the unfurling of the flag before the assembled scholars is always made an impressive ceremony. No wonder the American youth of Canada of the age of fifty. The importance and superiority of his own country is drilled into the
American school boy until he be-
comes an enthusiast of the na-
tive land. It is a possible occurrence
"Old Glory" is hoisted with much attend-
ance ceremony, and the youth are taught
"that the flag that conquered one
which for a thousand years braved the
breast of the breeze," the flag pole is to
be found before every school house in city
and country, and the unfurling of the flag
before the assembled scholars is always
made an impressive ceremony. No wonder
the American youth of Canada of the age
of fifty. The importance and superi-
ority of his own country is drilled into the
American school boy until he be-
comes an enthusiast of the na-
tive land. It is a possible occurrence
"Old Glory" is hoisted with much attend-
ance ceremony, and the youth are taught
"that the flag that conquered one
which for a thousand years braved the
breast of the breeze," the flag pole is to
be found before every school house in city
and country, and the unfurling of the flag
before the assembled scholars is always
made an impressive ceremony. No wonder
the American youth of Canada of the age
of fifty. The importance and superi-
ority of his own country is drilled into the
American school boy until he be-
comes an enthusiast of the na-
tive land. It is a possible occurrence
"Old Glory" is hoisted with much attend-
ance ceremony, and the youth are taught
"that the flag that conquered one
which for a thousand years braved the
breast of the breeze," the flag pole is to
be found before every school house in city
and country, and the unfurling of the flag
before the assembled scholars is always
made an impressive ceremony. No wonder
the American youth of Canada of the age
of fifty. The importance and superi-
ority of his own country is drilled into the
American school boy until he be-
comes an enthusiast of the na-
tive land. It is a possible occurrence
"Old Glory" is hoisted with much attend-
ance ceremony, and the youth are taught
"that the flag that conquered one
which for a thousand years braved the
breast of the breeze," the flag pole is to
be found before every school house in city
and country, and the unfurling of the flag
before the assembled scholars is always
made an impressive ceremony. No wonder
the American youth of Canada of the age
of fifty. The importance and superi-
ority of his own country is drilled into the
American school boy until he be-
comes an enthusiast of the na-
tive land. It is a possible occurrence
"Old Glory" is hoisted with much attend-
ance ceremony, and the youth are taught
"that the flag that conquered one
which for a thousand years braved the
breast of the breeze," the flag pole is to
be found before every school house in city
and country, and the unfurling of the flag
before the assembled scholars is always
made an impressive ceremony. No wonder
the American youth of Canada of the age
of fifty. The importance and superi-
ority of his own country is drilled into the
American school boy until he be-
comes an enthusiast of the na-
tive land. It is a possible occurrence
"Old Glory" is hoisted with much attend-
ance ceremony, and the youth are taught
"that the flag that conquered one
which for a thousand years braved the
breast of the breeze," the flag pole is to
be found before every school house in city
and country, and the unfurling of the flag
before the assembled scholars is always
made an impressive ceremony. No wonder
the American youth of Canada of the age
of fifty. The importance and superi-
ority of his own country is drilled into the
American school boy until he be-
comes an enthusiast of the na-
tive land. It is a possible occurrence
"Old Glory" is hoisted with much attend-
ance ceremony, and the youth are taught
"that the flag that conquered one
which for a thousand years braved the
breast of the breeze," the flag pole is to
be found before every school house in city
and country, and the unfurling of the flag
before the assembled scholars is always
made an impressive ceremony. No wonder
the American youth of Canada of the age
of fifty. The importance and superi-
ority of his own country is drilled into the
American school boy until he be-
comes an enthusiast of the na-
tive land. It is a possible occurrence
"Old Glory" is hoisted with much attend-
ance ceremony, and the youth are taught
"that the flag that conquered one
which for a thousand years braved the
breast of the breeze," the flag pole is to
be found before every school house in city
and country, and the unfurling of the flag
before the assembled scholars is always
made an impressive ceremony. No wonder
the American youth of Canada of the age
of fifty. The importance and superi-
ority of his own country is drilled into the
American school boy until he be-
comes an enthusiast of the na-
tive land. It is a possible occurrence
"Old Glory" is hoisted with much attend-
ance ceremony, and the youth are taught
"that the flag that conquered one
which for a thousand years braved the
breast of the breeze," the flag pole is to
be found before every school house in city
and country, and the unfurling of the flag
before the assembled scholars is always
made an impressive ceremony. No wonder
the American youth of Canada of the age
of fifty. The importance and superi-
ority of his own country is drilled into the
American school boy until he be-
comes an enthusiast of the na-
tive land. It is a possible occurrence
"Old Glory" is hoisted with much attend-
ance ceremony, and the youth are taught
"that the flag that conquered one
which for a thousand years braved the
breast of the breeze," the flag pole is to
be found before every school house in city
and country, and the unfurling of the flag
before the assembled scholars is always
made an impressive ceremony. No wonder
the American youth of Canada of the age
of fifty. The importance and superi-
ority of his own country is drilled into the
American school boy until he be-
comes an enthusiast of the na-
tive land. It is a possible occurrence
"Old Glory" is hoisted with much attend-
ance ceremony, and the youth are taught
"that the flag that conquered one
which for a thousand years braved the
breast of the breeze," the flag pole is to
be found before every school house in city
and country, and the unfurling of the flag
before the assembled scholars is always
made an impressive ceremony. No wonder
the American youth of Canada of the age
of fifty. The importance and superi-
ority of his own country is drilled into the
American school boy until he be-
comes an enthusiast of the na-
tive land. It is a possible occurrence
"Old Glory" is hoisted with much attend-
ance ceremony, and the youth are taught
"that the flag that conquered one
which for a thousand years braved the
breast of the breeze," the flag pole is to
be found before every school house in city
and country, and the unfurling of the flag
before the assembled scholars is always
made an impressive ceremony. No wonder
the American youth of Canada of the age
of fifty. The importance and superi-
ority of his own country is drilled into the
American school boy until he be-
comes an enthusiast of the na-
tive land. It is a possible occurrence
"Old Glory" is hoisted with much attend-
ance ceremony, and the youth are taught
"that the flag that conquered one
which for a thousand years braved the
breast of the breeze," the flag pole is to
be found before every school house in city
and country, and the unfurling of the flag
before the assembled scholars is always
made an impressive ceremony. No wonder
the American youth of Canada of the age
of fifty. The importance and superi-
ority of his own country is drilled into the
American school boy until he be-
comes an enthusiast of the na-
tive land. It is a possible occurrence
"Old Glory" is hoisted with much attend-
ance ceremony, and the youth are taught
"that the flag that conquered one
which for a thousand years braved the
breast of the breeze," the flag pole is to
be found before every school house in city
and country, and the unfurling of the flag
before the assembled scholars is always
made an impressive ceremony. No wonder
the American youth of Canada of the age
of fifty. The importance and superi-
ority of his own country is drilled into the
American school boy until he be-
comes an enthusiast of the na-
tive land. It is a possible occurrence
"Old Glory" is hoisted with much attend-
ance ceremony, and the youth are taught
"that the flag that conquered one
which for a thousand years braved the
breast of the breeze," the flag pole is to
be found before every school house in city
and country, and the unfurling of the flag
before the assembled scholars is always
made an impressive ceremony. No wonder
the American youth of Canada of the age
of fifty. The importance and superi-
ority of his own country is drilled into the
American school boy until he be-
comes an enthusiast of the na-
tive land. It is a possible occurrence
"Old Glory" is hoisted with much attend-
ance ceremony, and the youth are taught
"that the flag that conquered one
which for a thousand years braved the
breast of the breeze," the flag pole is to
be found before every school house in city
and country, and the unfurling of the flag
before the assembled scholars is always
made an impressive ceremony. No wonder
the American youth of Canada of the age
of fifty. The importance and superi-
ority of his own country is drilled into the
American school boy until he be-
comes an enthusiast of the na-
tive land. It is a possible occurrence
"Old Glory" is hoisted with much attend-
ance ceremony, and the youth are taught
"that the flag that conquered one
which for a thousand years braved the
breast of the breeze," the flag pole is to
be found before every school house in city
and country, and the unfurling of the flag
before the assembled scholars is always
made an impressive ceremony. No wonder
the American youth of Canada of the age
of fifty. The importance and superi-
ority of his own country is drilled into the
American school boy until he be-
comes an enthusiast of the na-
tive land. It is a possible occurrence
"Old Glory" is hoisted with much attend-
ance ceremony, and the youth are taught
"that the flag that conquered one
which for a thousand years braved the
breast of the breeze," the flag pole is to
be found before every school house in city
and country, and the unfurling of the flag
before the assembled scholars is always
made an impressive ceremony. No wonder
the American youth of Canada of the age
of fifty. The importance and superi-
ority of his own country is drilled into the
American school boy until he be-
comes an enthusiast of the na-
tive land. It is a possible occurrence
"Old Glory" is hoisted with much attend-
ance ceremony, and the youth are taught
"that the flag that conquered one
which for a thousand years braved the
breast of the breeze," the flag pole is to
be found before every school house in city
and country, and the unfurling of the flag
before the assembled scholars is always
made an impressive ceremony. No wonder
the American youth of Canada of the age
of fifty. The importance and superi-
ority of his own country is drilled into the
American school boy until he be-
comes an enthusiast of the na-
tive land. It is a possible occurrence
"Old Glory" is hoisted with much attend-
ance ceremony, and the youth are taught
"that the flag that conquered one
which for a thousand years braved the
breast of the breeze," the flag pole is to
be found before every school house in city
and country, and the unfurling of the flag
before the assembled scholars is always
made an impressive ceremony. No wonder
the American youth of Canada of the age
of fifty. The importance and superi-
ority of his own country is drilled into the
American school boy until he be-
comes an enthusiast of the na-
tive land. It is a possible occurrence
"Old Glory" is hoisted with much attend-
ance ceremony, and the youth are taught
"that the flag that conquered one
which for a thousand years braved the
breast of the breeze," the flag pole is to
be found before every school house in city
and country, and the unfurling of the flag
before the assembled scholars is always
made an impressive ceremony. No wonder
the American youth of Canada of the age
of fifty. The importance and superi-
ority of his own country is drilled into the
American school boy until he be-
comes an enthusiast of the na-
tive land. It is a possible occurrence
"Old Glory" is hoisted with much attend-
ance ceremony, and the youth are taught
"that the flag that conquered one
which for a thousand years braved the
breast of the breeze," the flag pole is to
be found before every school house in city
and country, and the unfurling of the flag
before the assembled scholars is always
made an impressive ceremony. No wonder
the American youth of Canada of the age
of fifty. The importance and superi-
ority of his own country is drilled into the
American school boy until he be-
comes an enthusiast of the na-
tive land. It is a possible occurrence
"Old Glory" is hoisted with much attend-
ance ceremony, and the youth are taught
"that the flag that conquered one
which for a thousand years braved the
breast of the breeze," the flag pole is to
be found before every school house in city
and country, and the unfurling of the flag
before the assembled scholars is always
made an impressive ceremony. No wonder
the American youth of Canada of the age
of fifty. The importance and superi-
ority of his own country is drilled into the
American school boy until he be-
comes an enthusiast of the na-
tive land. It is a possible occurrence
"Old Glory" is hoisted with much attend-
ance ceremony, and the youth are taught
"that the flag that conquered one
which for a thousand years braved the
breast of the breeze," the flag pole is to
be found before every school house in city
and country, and the unfurling of the flag
before the assembled scholars is always
made an impressive ceremony. No wonder
the American youth of Canada of the age
of fifty. The importance and superi-
ority of his own country is drilled into the
American school boy until he be-
comes an enthusiast of the na-
tive land. It is a possible occurrence
"Old Glory" is hoisted with much attend-
ance ceremony, and the youth are taught
"that the flag that conquered one
which for a thousand years braved the
breast of the breeze," the flag pole is to
be found before every school house in city
and country, and the unfurling of the flag
before the assembled scholars is always
made an impressive ceremony. No wonder
the American youth of Canada of the age
of fifty. The importance and superi-
ority of his own country is drilled into the
American school boy until he be-
comes an enthusiast of the na-
tive land. It is a possible occurrence
"Old Glory" is hoisted with much attend-
ance ceremony, and the youth are taught
"that the flag that conquered one
which for a thousand years braved the
breast of the breeze," the flag pole is to
be found before every school house in city
and country, and the unfurling of the flag
before the assembled scholars is always
made an impressive ceremony. No wonder
the American youth of Canada of the age
of fifty. The importance and superi-
ority of his own country is drilled into the
American school boy until he be-
comes an enthusiast of the na-
tive land. It is a possible occurrence
"Old Glory" is hoisted with much attend-
ance ceremony, and the youth are taught
"that the flag that conquered one
which for a thousand years braved the
breast of the breeze," the flag pole is to
be found before every school house in city
and country, and the unfurling of the flag
before the assembled scholars is always
made an impressive ceremony. No wonder
the American youth of Canada of the age
of fifty. The importance and superi-
ority of his own country is drilled into the
American school boy until he be-
comes an enthusiast of the na-
tive land. It is a possible occurrence
"Old Glory" is hoisted with much attend-
ance ceremony, and the youth are taught
"that the flag that conquered one
which for a thousand years braved the
breast of the breeze," the flag pole is to
be found before every school house in city
and country, and the unfurling of the flag
before the assembled scholars is always
made an impressive ceremony. No wonder
the American youth of Canada of the age
of fifty. The importance and superi-
ority of his own country is drilled into the
American school boy until he be-
comes an enthusiast of the na-
tive land. It is a possible occurrence
"Old Glory" is hoisted with much attend-
ance ceremony, and the youth are taught
"that the flag that conquered one
which for a thousand years braved the
breast of the breeze," the flag pole is to
be found before every school house in city
and country, and the unfurling of the flag
before the assembled scholars is always
made an impressive ceremony. No wonder
the American youth of Canada of the age
of fifty. The importance and superi-
ority of his own country is drilled into the
American school boy until he be-
comes an enthusiast of the na-
tive land. It is a possible occurrence
"Old Glory" is hoisted with much attend-
ance ceremony, and the youth are taught
"that the flag that conquered one
which for a thousand years braved the
breast of the breeze," the flag pole is to
be found before every school house in city
and country, and the unfurling of the flag
before the assembled scholars is always
made an impressive ceremony. No wonder
the American youth of Canada of the age
of fifty. The importance and superi-
ority of his own country is drilled into the
American school boy until he be-
comes an enthusiast of the na-
tive land. It is a possible occurrence
"Old Glory" is hoisted with much attend-
ance ceremony, and the youth are taught
"that the flag that conquered one
which for a thousand years braved the
breast of the breeze," the flag pole is to
be found before every school house in city
and country, and the unfurling of the flag
before the assembled scholars is always
made an impressive ceremony. No wonder
the American youth of Canada of the age
of fifty. The importance and superi-
ority of his own country is drilled into the
American school boy until he be-
comes an enthusiast of the na-
tive land. It is a possible occurrence
"Old Glory" is hoisted with much attend-
ance ceremony, and the youth are taught
"that the flag that conquered one
which for a thousand years braved the
breast of the breeze," the flag pole is to
be found before every school house in city
and country, and the unfurling of the flag
before the assembled scholars is always
made an impressive ceremony. No wonder
the American youth of Canada of the age
of fifty. The importance and superi-
ority of his own country is drilled into the
American school boy until he be-
comes an enthusiast of the na-
tive land. It is a possible occurrence
"Old Glory" is hoisted with much attend-
ance ceremony, and the youth are taught
"that the flag that conquered one
which for a thousand years braved the
breast of the breeze," the flag pole is to
be found before every school house in city
and country, and the unfurling of the flag
before the assembled scholars is always
made an impressive ceremony. No wonder
the American youth of Canada of the age
of fifty. The importance and superi-
ority of his own country is drilled into the
American school boy until he be-
comes an enthusiast of the na-
tive land. It is a possible occurrence
"Old Glory" is hoisted with much attend-
ance ceremony, and the youth are taught
"that the flag that conquered one
which for a thousand years braved the
breast of the breeze," the flag pole is to
be found before every school house in city
and country, and the unfurling of the flag
before the assembled scholars is always
made an impressive ceremony. No wonder
the American youth of Canada of the age
of fifty. The importance and superi-
ority of his own country is drilled into the
American school boy until he be-
comes an enthusiast of the na-
tive land. It is a possible occurrence
"Old Glory" is hoisted with much attend-
ance ceremony, and the youth are taught
"that the flag that conquered one
which for a thousand years braved the
breast of the breeze," the flag pole is to
be found before every school house in city
and country, and the unfurling of the flag
before the assembled scholars is always
made an impressive ceremony. No wonder
the American youth of Canada of the age
of fifty. The importance and superi-
ority of his own country is drilled into the
American school boy until he be-
comes an enthusiast of the na-
tive land. It is a possible occurrence
"Old Glory" is hoisted with much attend-
ance ceremony, and the youth are taught
"that the flag that conquered one
which for a thousand years braved the
breast of the breeze," the flag pole is to
be found before every school house in city
and country, and the unfurling of the flag
before the assembled scholars is always
made an impressive ceremony. No wonder
the American youth of Canada of the age
of fifty. The importance and superi-
ority of his own country is drilled into the
American school boy until he be-
comes an enthusiast of the na-
tive land. It is a possible occurrence
"Old Glory" is hoisted with much attend-
ance ceremony, and the youth are taught
"that the flag that conquered one
which for a thousand years braved the
breast of the breeze," the flag pole is to
be found before every school house in city
and country, and the unfurling of the flag
before the assembled scholars is always
made an impressive ceremony. No wonder
the American youth of Canada of the age
of fifty. The importance and superi-
ority of his own country is drilled into the
American school boy until he be-
comes an enthusiast of the na-
tive land. It is a possible occurrence
"Old Glory" is hoisted with much attend-
ance ceremony, and the youth are taught
"that the flag that conquered one
which for a thousand years braved the
breast of the breeze," the flag pole is to
be found before every school house in city
and country, and the unfurling of the flag
before the assembled scholars is always
made an impressive ceremony. No wonder
the American youth of Canada of the age
of fifty. The importance and superi-
ority of his own country is drilled into the
American school boy until he be-
comes an enthusiast of the na-
tive land. It is a possible occurrence
"Old Glory" is hoisted with much attend-
ance ceremony, and the youth are taught
"that the flag that conquered one
which for a thousand years braved the
breast of the breeze," the flag pole is to
be found before every school house in city
and country, and the unfurling of the flag
before the assembled scholars is always
made an impressive ceremony. No wonder
the American youth of Canada of the age
of fifty. The importance and superi-
ority of his own country is drilled into the
American school boy until he be-
comes an enthusiast of the na-
tive land. It is a possible occurrence
"Old Glory" is hoisted with much attend-
ance ceremony, and the youth are taught
"that the flag that conquered one
which for a thousand years braved the
breast of the breeze," the flag pole is to
be found before every school house in city
and country, and the unfurling of the flag
before the assembled scholars is always
made an impressive ceremony. No wonder
the American youth of Canada of the age
of fifty. The importance and superi-
ority of his own country is drilled into the
American school boy until he be-
comes an enthusiast of the na-
tive land. It is a possible occurrence
"Old Glory" is hoisted with much attend-
ance ceremony, and the youth are taught
"that the flag that conquered one
which for a thousand years braved the
breast of the breeze," the flag pole is to
be found before every school house in city
and country, and the unfurling of the flag
before the assembled scholars is always
made an impressive ceremony. No wonder
the American youth of Canada of the age
of fifty. The importance and superi-
ority of his own country is drilled into the
American school boy until he be-
comes an enthusiast of the na-
tive land. It is a possible occurrence
"Old Glory" is hoisted with much attend-
ance ceremony, and the youth are taught
"that the flag that conquered one
which for a thousand years braved the
breast of the breeze," the flag pole is to
be found before every school house in city
and country, and the unfurling of the flag
before the assembled scholars is always
made an impressive ceremony. No wonder
the American youth of Canada of the age
of fifty. The importance and superi-
ority of his own country is drilled into the
American school boy until he be-
comes an enthusiast of the na-
tive land. It is a possible occurrence
"Old Glory" is hoisted with much attend-
ance ceremony, and the youth are taught
"that the flag that conquered one
which for a thousand years braved the
breast of the breeze," the flag pole is to
be found before every school house in city
and country, and the unfurling of the flag
before the assembled scholars is always
made an impressive ceremony. No wonder
the American youth of Canada of the age
of fifty. The importance and superi-
ority of his own country is drilled into the
American school boy until he be-
comes an enthusiast of the na-
tive land. It is a possible occurrence
"Old Glory" is hoisted with much attend-
ance ceremony, and the youth are taught
"that the flag that conquered one
which for a thousand years braved the
breast of the breeze," the flag pole is to
be found before every school house in city
and country, and the unfurling of the flag
before the assembled scholars is always
made an impressive ceremony. No wonder
the American youth of Canada of the age
of fifty. The importance and superi-
ority of his own country is drilled into the
American school boy until he be-
comes an enthusiast of the na-
tive land. It is a possible occurrence
"Old Glory" is hoisted with much attend-
ance ceremony, and the youth are taught
"that the flag that conquered one
which for a thousand years braved the
breast of the breeze," the flag pole is to
be found before every school house in city
and country, and the unfurling of the flag
before the assembled scholars is always
made an impressive ceremony. No wonder
the American youth of Canada of the age
of fifty. The importance and superi-
ority of his own country is drilled into the
American school boy until he be-
comes an enthusiast of the na-
tive land. It is a possible occurrence
"Old Glory" is hoisted with much attend-
ance ceremony, and the youth are taught
"that the flag that conquered one
which for a thousand years braved the
breast of the breeze," the flag pole is to
be found before every school house in city
and country, and the unfurling of the flag
before the assembled scholars is always
made an impressive ceremony. No wonder
the American youth of Canada of the age
of fifty. The importance and superi-
ority of his own country is drilled into the
American school boy until he be-
comes an enthusiast of the na-
tive land. It is a possible occurrence
"Old Glory" is hoisted with much attend-
ance ceremony, and the youth are taught
"that the flag that conquered one
which for a thousand years braved the
breast of the breeze," the flag pole is to
be found before every school house in city
and country, and the unfurling of the flag
before the assembled scholars is always
made an impressive ceremony. No wonder
the American youth of Canada of the age
of fifty. The importance and superi-
ority of his own country is drilled into the
American school boy until he be-
comes an enthusiast of the na-
tive land. It is a possible occurrence
"Old Glory" is hoisted with much attend-
ance ceremony, and the youth are taught
"that the flag that conquered one
which for a thousand years braved the
breast of the breeze," the flag pole is to
be found before every school house in city
and country, and the unfurling of the flag
before the assembled scholars is always
made an impressive ceremony. No wonder
the American youth of Canada of the age
of fifty. The importance and superi-
ority of his own country is drilled into the
American school boy until he be-
comes an enthusiast of the na-
tive land. It is a possible occurrence
"Old Glory" is hoisted with much attend-
ance ceremony, and the youth are taught
"that the flag that conquered one
which for a thousand years braved the
breast of the breeze," the flag pole is to
be found before every school house in city
and country, and the unfurling of the flag
before the assembled scholars is always
made an impressive ceremony. No wonder
the American youth of Canada of the age
of fifty. The importance and superi-
ority of his own country is drilled into the
American school boy until he be-
comes an enthusiast of the na-
tive land. It is a possible occurrence
"Old Glory" is hoisted with much attend-
ance ceremony, and the youth are taught
"that the flag that conquered one
which for a thousand years braved the
breast of the breeze," the flag pole is to
be found before every school house in city
and country, and the unfurling of the flag
before the assembled scholars is always
made an impressive ceremony. No wonder
the American youth of Canada of the age
of fifty. The importance and superi-
ority of his own country is drilled into the
American school boy until he be-
comes an enthusiast of the na-
tive land. It is a possible occurrence
"Old Glory" is hoisted with much attend-
ance ceremony, and the youth are taught
"that the flag that conquered one
which for a thousand years braved the
breast of the breeze," the flag pole is to
be found before every school house in city
and country, and the unfurling of the flag
before the assembled scholars is always
made an impressive ceremony. No wonder
the American youth of Canada of the age
of fifty. The importance and superi-
ority of his own country is drilled into the
American school boy until he be-
comes an enthusiast of the na-
tive land. It is a possible occurrence
"Old Glory" is hoisted with much attend-
ance ceremony, and the youth are taught
"that the flag that conquered one
which for a thousand years braved the
breast of the breeze," the flag pole is to
be found before every school house in city
and country, and the unfurling of the flag
before the assembled scholars is always
made an impressive ceremony. No wonder
the American youth of Canada of the age
of fifty. The importance and superi-
ority of his own country is drilled into the
American school boy until he be-
comes an enthusiast of the na-
tive land. It is a possible occurrence
"Old Glory" is hoisted with much attend-
ance ceremony, and the youth are taught
"that the flag that conquered one
which for a thousand years braved the
breast of the breeze," the flag pole is to
be found before every school house in city
and country, and the unfurling of the flag
before the assembled scholars is always
made an impressive ceremony. No wonder
the American youth of Canada of the age
of fifty. The importance and superi-
ority of his own country is drilled into the
American school boy until he be-
comes an enthusiast of the na-
tive land. It is a possible occurrence
"Old Glory" is hoisted with much attend-
ance ceremony, and the youth are taught
"that the flag that conquered one
which for a thousand years braved the
breast of the breeze," the flag pole is to
be found before every school house in city
and country, and the unfurling of the flag
before the assembled scholars is always
made an impressive ceremony. No wonder
the American youth of Canada of the age
of fifty. The importance and superi-
ority of his own country is drilled into the American school