

BUSINESS POINTERS.

DRESS REFORM CORSET.

For comfort and perfect fit. The only corset made to fit the natural figure. All other corsets are made to fit a standard figure.

PLUMS, TUESDAY, August 17th.

Large quantity direct from the orchard. Cheap. Leave your order.

T. H. JOHNS, GENERAL GROCER.

Railings for Offices

Wife Guards, Flower Stands, Register and every description of Work and Wire Cloth manufactured by

CRESCENT WIRE WORKS,

F. PATRIDGE, 25 KING STREET

LIFELIKE PAINTING

Our reproductions in oil, crayon and water color are proving highly satisfactory. No need to travel away from home. We give perfect outlines and expression at moderate prices.

A. BRYANT,

High Class Sign and Ornamental Painter. 25 King Street

Bicycle Handle Bars Bent

Yes, we can bend them to suit you. Bicycles, repaired, dropped, or whatever you want, we do it. Call on us at 150 Brock Street.

M. W. ROBINSON S.

Shoppers, now is your chance to get the drop on 'em.

Follow Me

And you'll wear the most stylish gowns in the city. - Dress made to order for the season for dress making. The artistic health of the gown is the first consideration. A full range of Dress Patterns on hand.

RYNBS & CO.

Removed to 150 Brock Street, Kingston, Ont.

$5.50 a Ton

For the celebrated Stratton Coal. Have your coal bin filled before Sept. 1st. Order at once.

W. DRURY, CITY CLOTH & WOOD

150 Brock Street, Kingston, Ont.

Removed

Get your typing and bookbinding done. T. IRWIN'S, 351 Princess St.

Summer Millinery

For this month we offer our fine stock at greatly reduced prices, as we do not stock up for the season. Call and see the latest in Millinery and Clothing. HANNAY & HAROLD, 150 PRINCESS STREET.

Household Economy.

ROYAL GEM Flour makes more bread than any other flour on the market. ASK YOUR GROCER FOR "ROYAL GEM" THE KINGSTON MILLING CO.

There's Only One Best Place

In every city to buy Bread, Cakes, Candies, Soda Water, Ice Cream and Fruit. In Kingston that place is MCLAUGHLIN'S, 222 PRINCESS ST.

1000 ISLAND HOUSE

Modern management, excellent cuisine and best service in the city. Special attention given commercial men and clubs.

CON. MILLAN, Prop.

1000 Island House, Kingston, Ont.

Carriage Painting

That's my business, and I guarantee that all carriages, equipages, etc., entrusted to me will be returned as bright as new. Plenty of room for new carriages permitting good storage.

W. G. FROST,

King St., next to electric car sheds

FITS LIKE A GLOVE

Our specialty is making to order Kid and Mocha Gloves for ladies, gents and children. Largest stock in the city.

F. J. McDOUGALL,

18 Montreal Street, near Princess.

THE CARNOVSKY COMPANY,

Interior and Ornamental Wood Work. Store, Bank and Office Fittings, Parquet and Upholstery. No. 100 Brock Street, Kingston, Ont.

OHKLE

Always has a nice lot of Picture Frames and Mountings on hand. Come and select frames and you will find them as reasonable as any other place in the city. Work promptly attended to at 109 BROCK STREET, KINGSTON.

A BEE

WON'T GO FOR MONEY to a sunflower because it is big and showy. It should be the same way with you in placing your order for Framing, etc.

W. J. BRYSON,

150 Brock Street, Kingston, Ont.

For Family Use.

Belmont's and O'Keefe's Celebrated Lager, in one glass bottle. See you soon at

THOMPSON BOTTLING CO.,

150 Brock Street, Kingston, Ont.

The Bee Hive

Five lines of China, Crochery, Wares, and Glassware. Tinware, Wooden Ware, and other articles. Call on us at 150 Brock Street, Kingston, Ont.

S. C. CHARLES,

150 Brock Street, Kingston, Ont.

CARRIAGES, CARRIAGES.

For real pleasure, in goods of electrical appliances, call on us at 150 Brock Street, Kingston, Ont.

JAMES LATURNEY'S,

150 Brock Street, Kingston, Ont.

No Stairs to Climb.

If you want your photograph taken call on us at 150 Brock Street, Kingston, Ont.

J. W. POWELL, 163 PRINCESS ST.

Those who have seen the Ladies' Stearns Bicycle

THE DAILY WHIG.

LIBERAL ECONOMY.

Mr. Fielding, the new finance minister, whom Sir Herbert Tupper does not like, is a man with a record. He began life as a poor boy, entered a printing office as messenger, labored and studied at the same time, and in the course of years became not only the most useful man in the business, but its dominating spirit as well. He was a gifted—and had his gifts so developed by experience—that he could perform any duty of the journalist, and has been recognized as one of Nova Scotia's most pungent writers. He has had occasion to touch upon the vanities and weaknesses of the Tupper family, and so Sir Herbert has come to regard him with a wickedness that cannot be measured. He will be heard from during the discussion of the estimates, and the house will have occasion to acknowledge the wisdom of Mr. Laurier in calling him from the premiership of Nova Scotia to the head of the finance department. By the way, referring to these estimates, the conservative press is equal to any misrepresentation. They are the figures of the late government, revised by the present government, and to most expenditure contracted by the conservatives. They have been cut down in many places—Mr. Tupper reduces the public works by nearly $100,000,000—and yet they have been increased by nearly half a million, which Mr. Foster did not have in his statement and which represents a charge for the redemption of debt. As compared with the estimate of a year ago, there is a decrease of $1,943,000. So that the Montreal Gazette, in insinuating that the liberals have become extravagant and expensive, with the estimates as an evidence of it, are prepared to practice any deception and commit any fraud. The liberals in this respect are having the experience of 1874 repeated.

THE DIGNITY OF THE SENATE.

In his inaugural speech, as the revived or reinstated leader of the senate, tory side, Sir Mackenzie Bowell gave vent to an awful wail of woe because Hon. A. G. Blair, in his campaign, had reflected upon the honor and dignity of the house. How? He had alleged that a friend, a senator, had offered him the loan of his seat for the present session, and he had declined it, preferring the opportunity to represent the people of the province he had so long served as premier in an elective capacity. And Sir Mackenzie harped upon this and grew wild with indignation that any senator should think so little of his seat as to offer it to him as a loan to anyone. That burst of indignation was understood to be for purely party purposes, because Sir Mackenzie has been known to reflect somewhat upon the honor and dignity of the house himself. How? He had done so in a speech on one time to men, and through those promises were holding so many men in close party servitude. Writing to Mr. McNeill in April, 1895, he said the member he was to be called in the paper that he was to be called in the senate, that there was no one whom he would rather see "elevated" to the upper chamber, but the rumor was not true. Promotion, he intimated, had not been asked for by Mr. McNeill, and "such a step," he added, "is precluded for the present by the fact that there are no vacancies that have not long since been promised." Nor is that all. This venerable leader of the tory senators had occasion, last year, to denounce some of his colleagues as "a nest of traitors," and a few days afterwards, having tried to form a government and failed, he took them back as his associates and colleagues, and sat with them cheek by jowl until the time came for his surrender and decapitation. A man with such a record, a party man ready to do anything for the party however humiliating, is not the best one to defend the dignity of the senate. Those who live in glass houses shouldn't throw stones.

SIR CHARLES TUPPER TALKS.

The opposition papers, noticing the election of Sir Charles Tupper to the place he usurped, call attention to the fact that he has said the policy of his party in the future will be what it was in the past, "which would be the continuance of the national policy, which had its birth in the brain of the greatest of Canadian statesmen, Sir John A. Macdonald." Respecting the deceased statesman it is no reflection on his memory to say that the national policy was only a means to an end, and that the success of his party in the election. He had not the remotest idea in 1876 or 1877 of the policy which Sir Leonard Tilley elaborated in 1879, and which was put into operation with the tariff of that year. Nor was he so warped in his judgment as to suppose that that which was experimented with could not be taken out of the experimental stage. Sir John was a freetrader in principle, and a protectionist in practice, and had he lived he would probably have seen the wisdom of a change of tariff tactics long ago.

RESPECTING SIR CHARLES TUPPER IT CAN BE

assumed that it is no more fixed in his ideas of the national policy than he is in his ideas on anything else. Sir John Thompson was candid enough to admit that the national policy of the party needed improvement, that it had moldering branches which should be cut away; and Hon. Mr. Foster, Hon. Clarke Wallace, Hon. J. F. Wood, and other spent weeks in asking the people what they would like in shaping a tariff to suit them, only to find that the monopolists had a tariff of their own which they wanted the government should adopt. And that is the policy that is to be continued with the conservative party, the policy that pleases the tory vote, and which they have a right to revive.

THE POLICY OF THE CONSERVATIVE PARTY IN the late campaign was the constitution and the school question. The maintenance of the constitution, Sir Charles told the people, demanded that remedial legislation be passed, and in alleged defence of the constitution he suffered a severe defeat. Now it is discovered that remedial legislation is of no account, that it can go without any injury to the constitution. Sir Charles' sudden whiteness on this subject warrants E. S. Sheppard in referring to him as a lightning change artist, "a man who abandons without a tear—and, which is more significant, without a blush—both his political position and all those contentions which were supposed to be constitutionally made on behalf of what the majority held to be a bad proposition."

CONTINUING THE SAME POLICY.

The conservatives fall below the front line in this campaign, and the tory vote will be scattered.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

Citizen and Senator Remarks.

KINGSTON, Aug. 28.—(To the Editor): "Citizen" in last night's Whig asks us to give further evidence to substantiate our claim that the United States is ahead of the United Kingdom as regards the aggregate value of her manufactured products. We will do nothing of the kind. The Whig has the statement that the United Kingdom led the world in the matter of manufactures; we disputed the statement and alleged that the United States passed England in this respect some dozen years since. We are now both in the same terms in our statements, and the usual course will be followed. The onus probandi, the burden of proof, devolves upon the plaintiff. It is for the Whig to give further evidence to substantiate our allegation with statistical or other evidence, and we give due and timely notice that when this battle is entered upon that we are loaded for bear and are not in the habit of making any statements in the public prints, but on the contrary hold it to be the solemn duty of men who write for the press, to indite nothing for which they are not able and willing to offer reasonable defence and justification. England is ahead in commerce but not in manufactures.—SARTOR REBARSUT.

NOT SOMETIMES, BUT ALWAYS.

The great South American Remedy. Are you the sufferer from Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Headache, Stiffness of Joints, etc.?

—Mrs. J. Hallam of Berlin, Ont., Cured of Kidney Disease and Rheumatism by the Use of South American Remedy.

With the great South American Remedy as it is called, the occasional blighting of the nerves, these remedies are specific for indigestion and nervous prostration, kidney trouble and rheumatism, and taken by those suffering in this manner are sure to cure.

NEUROUS DEBILITY.—E. Merritt,

lumber merchant and mill owner of Merrickville, Ont., became completely prostrated by nervous debility. "I tried," said he, "several doctors, and everything in the shape of proprietary medicines, and got little if any relief from them. Having seen South American Remedy advertised I decided to give it a trial and I can truthfully say I had not taken a body who had looked for found beneficial effects. Before taking it I had not only to give up business but a pen or sign my own name, either with my own hand, or by means of a notary public. My nervous system was so badly out of order. To-day, I am a robust, healthy man, and I feel as if I were a new man."

KIDNEY DISEASE.—Few worse cases

of kidney disease are on record than that of Mrs. J. Hallam, who suffered from Rheumatism and Gout, and was unable to get on her feet. She had been suffering for many years, and was in a very bad way. She had tried everything, but nothing seemed to relieve her for any length of time. I saw South American Remedy advertised, and I decided to give it a trial. I can truthfully say I had not taken a body who had looked for found beneficial effects. Before taking it I had not only to give up business but a pen or sign my own name, either with my own hand, or by means of a notary public. My nervous system was so badly out of order. To-day, I am a robust, healthy man, and I feel as if I were a new man."

REUMATISM.—At 120 Church-st.,

Toronto, resides W. J. Tracie, who was a great sufferer from rheumatism for many years, and was entirely unable to get on his feet. He had tried everything, but nothing seemed to relieve him for any length of time. I saw South American Remedy advertised, and I decided to give it a trial. I can truthfully say I had not taken a body who had looked for found beneficial effects. Before taking it I had not only to give up business but a pen or sign my own name, either with my own hand, or by means of a notary public. My nervous system was so badly out of order. To-day, I am a robust, healthy man, and I feel as if I were a new man."

ATTENTION TO CONSTITUTIONAL

Mrs. John Nelson attempted to commit suicide at J. E. Bowditch's restaurant in the Paddock Arcade, Waterbury, N.Y., on Thursday last. She was a widow, and was 32 years of age. She was a native of New York, and had been married to Mr. Nelson for many years. She was a very kind and affectionate woman, and was much beloved by her friends. She had been suffering from a long illness, and was in a very weak state of health. She had been in the hospital for many weeks, and had not been able to get on her feet. She had tried everything, but nothing seemed to relieve her for any length of time. I saw South American Remedy advertised, and I decided to give it a trial. I can truthfully say I had not taken a body who had looked for found beneficial effects. Before taking it I had not only to give up business but a pen or sign my own name, either with my own hand, or by means of a notary public. My nervous system was so badly out of order. To-day, I am a robust, healthy man, and I feel as if I were a new man."

ATTENTION TO CONSTITUTIONAL

Mrs. John Nelson attempted to commit suicide at J. E. Bowditch's restaurant in the Paddock Arcade, Waterbury, N.Y., on Thursday last. She was a widow, and was 32 years of age. She was a native of New York, and had been married to Mr. Nelson for many years. She was a very kind and affectionate woman, and was much beloved by her friends. She had been suffering from a long illness, and was in a very weak state of health. She had been in the hospital for many weeks, and had not been able to get on her feet. She had tried everything, but nothing seemed to relieve her for any length of time. I saw South American Remedy advertised, and I decided to give it a trial. I can truthfully say I had not taken a body who had looked for found beneficial effects. Before taking it I had not only to give up business but a pen or sign my own name, either with my own hand, or by means of a notary public. My nervous system was so badly out of order. To-day, I am a robust, healthy man, and I feel as if I were a new man."

ATTENTION TO CONSTITUTIONAL

Mrs. John Nelson attempted to commit suicide at J. E. Bowditch's restaurant in the Paddock Arcade, Waterbury, N.Y., on Thursday last. She was a widow, and was 32 years of age. She was a native of New York, and had been married to Mr. Nelson for many years. She was a very kind and affectionate woman, and was much beloved by her friends. She had been suffering from a long illness, and was in a very weak state of health. She had been in the hospital for many weeks, and had not been able to get on her feet. She had tried everything, but nothing seemed to relieve her for any length of time. I saw South American Remedy advertised, and I decided to give it a trial. I can truthfully say I had not taken a body who had looked for found beneficial effects. Before taking it I had not only to give up business but a pen or sign my own name, either with my own hand, or by means of a notary public. My nervous system was so badly out of order. To-day, I am a robust, healthy man, and I feel as if I were a new man."

ATTENTION TO CONSTITUTIONAL

Mrs. John Nelson attempted to commit suicide at J. E. Bowditch's restaurant in the Paddock Arcade, Waterbury, N.Y., on Thursday last. She was a widow, and was 32 years of age. She was a native of New York, and had been married to Mr. Nelson for many years. She was a very kind and affectionate woman, and was much beloved by her friends. She had been suffering from a long illness, and was in a very weak state of health. She had been in the hospital for many weeks, and had not been able to get on her feet. She had tried everything, but nothing seemed to relieve her for any length of time. I saw South American Remedy advertised, and I decided to give it a trial. I can truthfully say I had not taken a body who had looked for found beneficial effects. Before taking it I had not only to give up business but a pen or sign my own name, either with my own hand, or by means of a notary public. My nervous system was so badly out of order. To-day, I am a robust, healthy man, and I feel as if I were a new man."

ATTENTION TO CONSTITUTIONAL

Mrs. John Nelson attempted to commit suicide at J. E. Bowditch's restaurant in the Paddock Arcade, Waterbury, N.Y., on Thursday last. She was a widow, and was 32 years of age. She was a native of New York, and had been married to Mr. Nelson for many years. She was a very kind and affectionate woman, and was much beloved by her friends. She had been suffering from a long illness, and was in a very weak state of health. She had been in the hospital for many weeks, and had not been able to get on her feet. She had tried everything, but nothing seemed to relieve her for any length of time. I saw South American Remedy advertised, and I decided to give it a trial. I can truthfully say I had not taken a body who had looked for found beneficial effects. Before taking it I had not only to give up business but a pen or sign my own name, either with my own hand, or by means of a notary public. My nervous system was so badly out of order. To-day, I am a robust, healthy man, and I feel as if I were a new man."

ATTENTION TO CONSTITUTIONAL

Mrs. John Nelson attempted to commit suicide at J. E. Bowditch's restaurant in the Paddock Arcade, Waterbury, N.Y., on Thursday last. She was a widow, and was 32 years of age. She was a native of New York, and had been married to Mr. Nelson for many years. She was a very kind and affectionate woman, and was much beloved by her friends. She had been suffering from a long illness, and was in a very weak state of health. She had been in the hospital for many weeks, and had not been able to get on her feet. She had tried everything, but nothing seemed to relieve her for any length of time. I saw South American Remedy advertised, and I decided to give it a trial. I can truthfully say I had not taken a body who had looked for found beneficial effects. Before taking it I had not only to give up business but a pen or sign my own name, either with my own hand, or by means of a notary public. My nervous system was so badly out of order. To-day, I am a robust, healthy man, and I feel as if I were a new man."

ATTENTION TO CONSTITUTIONAL

Mrs. John Nelson attempted to commit suicide at J. E. Bowditch's restaurant in the Paddock Arcade, Waterbury, N.Y., on Thursday last. She was a widow, and was 32 years of age. She was a native of New York, and had been married to Mr. Nelson for many years. She was a very kind and affectionate woman, and was much beloved by her friends. She had been suffering from a long illness, and was in a very weak state of health. She had been in the hospital for many weeks, and had not been able to get on her feet. She had tried everything, but nothing seemed to relieve her for any length of time. I saw South American Remedy advertised, and I decided to give it a trial. I can truthfully say I had not taken a body who had looked for found beneficial effects. Before taking it I had not only to give up business but a pen or sign my own name, either with my own hand, or by means of a notary public. My nervous system was so badly out of order. To-day, I am a robust, healthy man, and I feel as if I were a new man."

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Get ready for the autumn carnival.

The weather has adapted itself to the requirements of the hour.

VACATION IS OVER.

The schools re-open on Tuesday, and they will remain open until labor day, when King Ben's lake side frolics will break the spell.

SIR CHARLES TUPPER DECLINES TO MEET

Mr. Glen in the law courts unless he makes his money deposit, to cover costs, with the Bank of Montreal. Couldn't Mr. Glen oblige him?

MR. BLAKE DECLINES APPOINTMENT TO the judicial committee of the royal council. It is suggested that the place be given to Hon. D. Mills or Sir Oliver Mowat. The salary connected with it is $30,000 a year.

PEOPLE WHO HAVE BEEN AWAY, SEEKING

health and recreation, the good that is in a change, have returned to the city with the declaration that there is no place like home, which is another way of saying that there is no place like Kingston.

IT IS INTIMATED THAT SIR CHARLES TUPPER

has only been elected leader of the federal opposition until the end of the session. Then he must go? Is that it? No wonder he is resigned in manner and doleful disposition. He's preparing for his farewell.

THE TORONTO TELEGRAM PROTESTS AGAINST

the translation of Dr. Landarkin from the commons to the senate, since such "would give the upper house an excuse for living upon the deliberate opinion of the country is that the senate should die with as little delay as possible."

SIR OLIVER MOWAT, IN HIS FIRST SPEECH

in the senate, intimated that if that chamber did not make its performance a little more up-to-date it would be subject to some reforming influence. And the venerables who have been accustomed to doze while on duty are wondering what Sir Oliver means.

THE OTTAWA JOURNAL HAS BEEN PLEASSED

with Mr. Laurier's replies to the hard questions the smart men on the opposition benches have been asking him. In this, our contemporary says, Mr. Laurier reminds it of Sir John Macdonald who had a keen faculty for turning the tables on his adversaries in parliamentary fencing.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

Citizen and Senator Remarks.

KINGSTON, Aug. 28.—(To the Editor): "Citizen" in last night's Whig asks us to give further evidence to substantiate our claim that the United States is ahead of the United Kingdom as regards the aggregate value of her manufactured products. We will do nothing of the kind. The Whig has the statement that the United Kingdom led the world in the matter of manufactures; we disputed the statement and alleged that the United States passed England in this respect some dozen years since. We are now both in the same terms in our statements, and the usual course will be followed. The onus probandi, the burden of proof, devolves upon the plaintiff. It is for the Whig to give further evidence to substantiate our allegation with statistical or other evidence, and we give due and timely notice that when this battle is entered upon that we are loaded for bear and are not in the habit of making any statements in the public prints, but on the contrary hold it to be the solemn duty of men who write for the press, to indite nothing for which they are not able and willing to offer reasonable defence and justification. England is ahead in commerce but not in manufactures.—SARTOR REBARSUT.

NOT SOMETIMES, BUT ALWAYS.

The great South American Remedy. Are you the sufferer from Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Headache, Stiffness of Joints, etc.?

—Mrs. J. Hallam of Berlin, Ont., Cured of Kidney Disease and Rheumatism by the Use of South American Remedy.

With the great South American Remedy as it is called, the occasional blighting of the nerves, these remedies are specific for indigestion and nervous prostration, kidney trouble and rheumatism, and taken by those suffering in this manner are sure to cure.

NEUROUS DEBILITY.—E. Merritt,

lumber merchant and mill owner of Merrickville, Ont., became completely prostrated by nervous debility. "I tried," said he, "several doctors, and everything in the shape of proprietary medicines, and got little if any relief from them. Having seen South American Remedy advertised I decided to give it a trial and I can truthfully say I had not taken a body who had looked for found beneficial effects. Before taking it I had not only to give up business but a pen or sign my own name, either with my own hand, or by means of a notary public. My nervous system was so badly out of order. To-day, I am a robust, healthy man, and I feel as if I were a new man."

KIDNEY DISEASE.—Few worse cases

of kidney disease are on record than that of Mrs. J. Hallam, who suffered from Rheumatism and Gout, and was unable to get on her feet. She had been suffering for many years, and was in a very bad way. She had tried everything, but nothing seemed to relieve her for any length of time. I saw South American Remedy advertised, and I decided to give it a trial. I can truthfully say I had not taken a body who had looked for found beneficial effects. Before taking it I had not only to give up business but a pen or sign my own name, either with my own hand, or by means of a notary public. My nervous system was so badly out of order. To-day, I am a robust, healthy man, and I feel as if I were a new man."

REUMATISM.—At 120 Church-st.,

Toronto, resides W. J. Tracie, who was a great sufferer from rheumatism for many years, and was entirely unable to get on his feet. He had tried everything, but nothing seemed to relieve him for any length of time. I saw South American Remedy advertised, and I decided to give it a trial. I can truthfully say I had not taken a body who had looked for found beneficial effects. Before taking it I had not only to give up business but a pen or sign my own name, either with my own hand, or by means of a notary public. My nervous system was so badly out of order. To-day, I am a robust, healthy man, and I feel as if I were a new man."

ATTENTION TO CONSTITUTIONAL

Mrs. John Nelson attempted to commit suicide at J. E. Bowditch's restaurant in the Paddock Arcade, Waterbury, N.Y., on Thursday last. She was a widow, and was 32 years of age. She was a native of New York, and had been married to Mr. Nelson for many years. She was a very kind and affectionate woman, and was much beloved by her friends. She had been suffering from a long illness, and was in a very weak state of health. She had been in the hospital for many weeks, and had not been able to get on her feet. She had tried everything, but nothing seemed to relieve her for any length of time. I saw South American Remedy advertised, and I decided to give it a trial. I can truthfully say I had not taken a body who had looked for found beneficial effects. Before taking it I had not only to give up business but a pen or sign my own name, either with my own hand, or by means of a notary public. My nervous system was so badly out of order. To-day, I am a robust, healthy man, and I feel as if I were a new man."

ATTENTION TO CONSTITUTIONAL

Mrs. John Nelson attempted to commit suicide at J. E. Bowditch's restaurant in the Paddock Arcade, Waterbury, N.Y., on Thursday last. She was a widow, and was 32 years of age. She was a native of New York, and had been married to Mr. Nelson for many years. She was a very kind and affectionate woman, and was much beloved by her friends. She had been suffering from a long illness, and was in a very weak state of health. She had been in the hospital for many weeks, and had not been able to get on her feet. She had tried everything, but nothing seemed to relieve her for any length of time. I saw South American Remedy advertised, and I decided to give it a trial. I can truthfully say I had not taken a body who had looked for found beneficial effects. Before taking it I had not only to give up business but a pen or sign my own name, either with my own hand, or by means of a notary public. My nervous system was so badly out of order. To-day, I am a robust, healthy man, and I feel as if I were a new man."

ATTENTION TO CONSTITUTIONAL

Mrs. John Nelson attempted to commit suicide at J. E. Bowditch's restaurant in the Paddock Arcade, Waterbury, N.Y., on Thursday last. She was a widow, and was 32 years of age. She was a native of New York, and had been married to Mr. Nelson for many years. She was a very kind and affectionate woman, and was much beloved by her friends. She had been suffering from a long illness, and was in a very weak state of health. She had been in the hospital for many weeks, and had not been able to get on her feet. She had tried everything, but nothing seemed to relieve her for any length of time. I saw South American Remedy advertised, and I decided to give it a trial. I can truthfully say I had not taken a body who had looked for found beneficial effects. Before taking it I had not only to give up business but a pen or sign my own name, either with my own hand, or by means of a notary public. My nervous system was so badly out of order. To-day, I am a robust, healthy man, and I feel as if I