LOUCKS

THE DAILY WHIG

"Opijer per Orbem Dicor. VERY HARD TO PLEASE. The Montreal Gazette is dissatisfied with Mr. Edgar's performance of the duties of speaker in the commons. His attitude on the sessional appointments suggests to it some unkind thoughts, and so it refers to Mr. Speaker as a machine politician, "whose recent elevation is only making his weakness more apparent. Quite in contrast with this unfair ronto World, (edited by W. McLean, M.P.), who says that "there is general commendation at the manly and straight forward manner in which Mr. Speaker Edgar explained to the house his action in regard to the dismissal of certain of the sessional clerks and messengers." Mark you some liberals thought that Mr. Edgar should have dismissed all the members of the staff appointed by the late government and he removed only five for partizan conduct during the elections. Mr. Foster held that when these men were away from duty they were free to act as they pleased but the clerk held that they were servants of the house, and as such should in no way become politically offensive. Five of them would not be guided by Dr. Bourinot's ad vice, and they lost their places in consequence. That the speaker is trying to do his duty is apparent from his declaration that he will keep the sessional staff out of mischief if he can, amd that he wil dismiss a liberal as fast as a conservative i he will not be obedient to the rules of the house, and especially the rule which says that he shall not act the partizan.

QUEBEC'S WASTEFULNESS. The conservatives of Quebec, under the guidance of Premier Flynn, have began their local election campaign. Mr. Flynt is the head centre of the agitators, and, in a speech at L'Islet he has laid down the provide for a conservative government's platform on which he and his party will do follies. their fighting for a return to power. Chief in that plank is a demand for a larger subsidy from the Ottawa government.

The state of things which existed at the time of confederation completely the enormous sacrifices made by the province of Quebec for the construction of railways and for the development of colonization and agricul ture, whilst increasing the wealth of the province have benefited the government of Canada and the federal treasury on a much larger scale than the province." But that is net all. "It must be borne in mind," he goes on, "that certain expenses connected with the provincial government must necessarily increase from year to year in proportion to the population, such as the cost of the administration of justice. We, therefore, propose to avail ourselves of the first opportunity to press for a solution of this important question in favor of the opinion on the sudsidy question-some men, with Mr. Flynn, holding that the subsidies should be reconsidered and readjusted, and some holding that they should remain as they are-but there can be no doubt that the preponderance of public opinion is in favor of letting the provinces that are wasteful make up their deficiencies other than by dipping into the federal treasury. It was not only intendied that the subsidies, once agreed upon should remain fixed, but that the extravagances of any province should be met by it in some way, and by direct taxation if that were necessary. "Hereafter," said Hon. George Brown, who had so much to do with the details of confederation, and who referred to the subsidy arrangement as a compromise, "they who pay will spend, and they who spend more than they ought will have to bear the brunt. Each province is to determine for itself its own wants, and to find the money to meet them

With such an understanding the province of Ontario has always proceeded, and while Quebec, under all its governments, has been unfortunately extravagant and has been running further and further behind. The cure for this is direct taxation which the people will see and feel as they do not indirect taxation, and perhaps, with their eyes opened wide, they will elect men to the legislature who will husband the provincial resources and guard against the degrading deficits of the past.

THE GUILLOTINE AT WORK. The decision of the government to cancel orders for military clothing, issued before the expiry of prevailing contracts, has given the conservatives another shock. For the moment they do not know with government, for its audacity, in involving present government, which, in the last week. E. Raymond, spending a few most business-like manner proceeds to air them in parliament. "The guillotine's at work again," shouts the alarmist at Ot- has been very sick, is recovering. The three year contract has been cancelled, but the department will continue taking the above goods from Messrs, Sanford & Co. for the balance of the year to July 1st, 1897. Mr. Sanford had another contract to commence July let, 1897, and it has also been cancelled. H. Shorey & Co., of Montgeal, had contract for great coats and trousers three years from July 1st, 1896. par with the many that have gone on record in recent years. If there was not an election advantage to the government in anticipating results, and in renewing contracts ahead of time, there was no of ect in acting as it did; and in any case the circumstances are to the utter discredit of the government that used to be.

EDITORIAL NOTES. The conservative members had another caucus in Ottawa to-day to plan how they might lengthen out the session and so cure the $1,000 indemnity each.

Mr. Craig's motion, prohibiting the sale of liquor in the commons in any form way, was carried last night by a large maority. Now let the senate wake up and do something, and there will be no more rgies in parliament.

Archbishop Langevin is back from Rome, and says that he is of the same mind still in regard to the remedial bill. But no one else is, save perhaps Mr. LaRiverie, M.P. Even Sir Charles Tupper has recanted himself or his heirs the storm had subsidwhat he said in its behalf.

So Mr. Foster is going "to carry the war into Africa," in his commons' speeches Sir Charles Tupper once said the same thing to Mr. Mackenzie, and that gentleman carried the war into his Africa in a manner he could never forget. The American papers that are discussing the annexation convention that is to held in Toronto and at which Mr. Laurier is to speak, must be short of news. The "big scrap," as the Toronto News would say, does not amount to much. The Mail announces that Mr. Fielding is filling up his supplementary estimates and that they may amount to a couple of millions. It's just possible that, as of

On his poronation, therefore, he instituted the yeomen of the guard, and in order, as Lord Verulam insinuates, "that it might be thought rather a matter of dignity than diffidence appropriate to his own case, he made it to be understood for an ordinance not temporary, but to hold in succession forever." It is said by some jealous of this establishment, and that the king was restrained, and only permitted to constitute this corps as a protection for increase to an army; that it should be a dignity and ornament to the crown, not a terror to the subject. Be this as it may, the original complement of the body was fifty archers under the command of a captain, and the following is the account given by Hall, the chronicler of the institution of this body: "Kyng Henry being made wyse and expert wyth Troubles and Myschiefes before passt, remembered yt was wis-dome to feare and provide for the crafty Wyles and lurking Trappes of his save-guarde and Preservation of his awne body, he constituted and ordeyned a cer tain Nombre as well of good Archers as of diverse other Persons, being hardy, stronge and of Agilitie, to geve dailye attendaunce on his Person, who he named Yeomen o

In the lastmentioned year the monarch, in fixing their uniform, issued an order that they were to be clad in red cloth embroidered with gold, and Sir Joseph Ayloffe, the celebrated antiquary, describing their cos tume in 1598, said: " Their habit is scarlet, guarded and laced on the skirts and sleeves with garter blue velvet, and on their breasts and backs is the union rose. ensigned with the crown royal embroidered in gold." Finally the red hose, with the ruff of Queen Elizabeth's era, were restored to them by George IV., the only other change being that of resettes of red, white. and blue ribbons instead of red leather ones, which last in 1785 superseded the old silver shoe buckles.

It is presumed that no mention of the reomen of the guard would be considered satisfactory without some reference to their more popular designation of "Beef eaters." That this word comes from the supposed to serve at the table or stand at the cupboard where the plate was displayed, must, it is feared, be discarded, like so many other fancies of our teaching of early days. Skeat, Pegge, and a host of others, who have given the subject consideration, all dissent from this derivation alleging, among a number of reasons too plentiful to reproduce here, that the yeamen had nothing to do with the care of the buffet, that duty devolving on officers of superior rank altogether, namely, the gentlemen ushers. The balance of authority is now in favor of the theory that their sobriquet arose from their well-fed appear-

In conclusion it is only right to say that during the whole of their history no body of men has by its behavior more justified its existence near and in attendance on the sovereign than the yeomen of the guard. RELIGION IN THE CITIES.

REV. DR. TALMAGE PREACHES UPON MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS. He Says the Castles of Sin Are All Going to be Captured by the Sun-Glass of the Gospel Focused Upon Wickedness-He Expects to Live to See It. WASHINGTON, Sept. 13 .- So much that is depressing is said about the wickedness what Dr. Talmage says in his sermon about their coming redemption. The text is Zechariah VIII., 5: "And the streets of the city shall be full of boys and girls playing in the streets thereof. Glimpses of our cities redeemed ! " Now, boys and girls who play in the streets run such risks that multitudes of them end in our cities will be so moral that lads and lasses shall be as safe in the public thoroughfares as in the nursery. He took a forward look to the time when our cities shall revolutionized by the gospel of the Son of God, and all the darkness of sin and trouble and crime and suffering shall be gone from

I think we ought-and I take it for work of evangelizing the cities and saving the world-we ought to toil with the sun light in our faces. We are not fighting in on our way to final victory. We are not following the rider on the black horse leading us down to death and darkness and doom, but the rider on the white horse, with the moon under his feet and the stars of heaven for his tiara. Hail, conqueror,

I know there are sorrows, and there are sins, and there are sufferings all around about us, but as in some bitter, cold winter day, when we are thrashing our arms around us to keep our thumbs from freezing, we think of the warm spring day that will after awhile come, or in dark winter night we look up and see the northern lights, the windows of heaven illuminated by some great victory just so we look up from the night of suffrog of the rails. One of the wheels | fering and sorrow and wretchedness in our passed lengthwise of his leg, severing the cities, and we see a light streaming flesh from the bone. cities, Christ's churches will be more numerous, and they will be larger, and they will be more devoted to the gospel of Jesus Christ, and they will accomplish greater influence for good. In that time also of which I speak all the haunts of iniquity and crime and squalor will be cleansed and will be illuminated. How is it to be done? You say perhaps by one influence. Perhaps I say by another I will tell you what is my idea, and I know I am right in it. The gospel of the Son of God is the only agency that will ever acsunglass of the gospel converging the rays

Will there be any kicking off from the marble steps of shivering mendicants ! Will there be any unwashed, unfed, un combed children? Will there be any blasphemies in the streets? Will there be any inebriates staggering past? No. No. wine stores. No lager beer saloons. No distilleries, where they make the three X's. No bloodshot eye. No bloated cheek No instruments of ruin and destruction. No fist pounded forehead. The grand children of that woman who goes down the street with a curse, stoned by the boys that follow her, will be the reformers and philanthropists and the ohristian men and he honest merchants of our cities.

But all wrongs will be righted. I ex pect to live to see the day. I think I cear in the distance the rumbling of the King's chariot. Not always in the minority is the church of God going to be or are good men going to be. The streets are going to be filled with regenerated populations. Poverty enriched. Hunger fed Crime banished. Ignorance enlightened. All the cities saved. Is not this a cause worth working in? Oh, you think sometimes it does not amount to much! You toil on in your different apheres, sometimes with great discouragement. People have no faith and say : "It does not amount to any thing. You might as well quit that." Why, when Moses stretched his hand over the Red sea it did not seem to mean anything especially. People came out, I sup-
